90% of all oil company product research in Canada is done by Imperial

At Sarnia, Ontario, and Calgary, Alberta, Imperial operates the largest petroleum research laboratories in Canada. At Sarnia, the company's scientists and technicians are working to improve present products and to develop new ones. Their research covers many fields, from gasolines to household detergents. At Calgary, Imperial research personnel are exploring means to find and produce more Canadian crude oil and natural gas. Imperial does more research than all other oil companies in Canada combined.

BIG GOOSE

Jim Meier shot an 11-pound goose on a hunting trip near Gull Lake last week, one of the biggest birds reported in the district this season. There appear to be lots of geese around the countryside so far, and a plentiful supply of ducks. Shooting of upland game birds reported in the district this season opened on October 1.

Lacombe 'Pert of Call'

A visit to the town of Lacombe was one of the highlights of a recent visit of Editors and Publishers to the country by a group of newspaper men from widely-scattered points.

George Meyer, consultant editor of The Canadian Countryman, who organized the "Editors' Safari" for newspapers on this tour, which was arranged by Canso Lubricating Company of the Alberta region, visited Lacombe on Monday, October 1st.

The party arrived in Red Deer the day before, on Sunday, September 30, and during the following week visited fifteen cities, towns and villages in the province's central part, at Sherwville, Drumheller and on Saturday, September 29, at Lacombe. Lacombe was the fifteenth stop on the tour, which also included Calgary, Banff, Fort Macleod, Pincher Creek, Fernie, Cranbrook, Creston, Taber, Vauxhall and Lethbridge.

Newsmen on the tour were the guests of Canso Lubricating Company, Wainwright, and Grand Falls (Eliot).

At Lacombe we were met by Norwood Swann, who conducted the tour of the town. The first stop was at the shop of a well-known manufacturer of fishing lures, Len Thompson. Any fisherman who happens to be holidaying in the Lacombe area will want to make a visit to Mr. Thompson's shop, and visitors are always welcome.

Besides his famous lures, Mr. Thompson produces custom boats for Edmund silent motors and at the same time manufactures a complete line of fishing tackle. Mr. Thompson sells his products throughout Canada and the United States and at the same time manufactures a complete line of fishing tackle. Mr. Thompson sells his products throughout Canada and the United States and at the same time manufactures a complete line of fishing tackle.

The making of the Len Thompson lures, however, highlighted our visit. Long pieces of brass, silver or copper are put through a large press which punches out the finned silent spoons and at the same time stamps it. About ninety per cent of the lures are made from brass. The machine is capable of producing up to 150 spoons per minute. Small wonder that about 250,000 lures are produced in a year.

After punching, the spoons are placed in drums about 4 feet in diameter by eighteen inches long, filled with small steel balls and water, where they are polished and the rough edges are removed as the drums rotate.

The next step is painting, and this is done with spray guns and stencils. Two women can paint 144 dozen spoons in one-and-a-half to two hours. Then the hooks and rings are attached and the lures are angled carefully to each, ready for the market which includes all of Canada. Mr. Thompson produces ten types of lures, and there are hundreds of each type.

Mr. Thompson started making lures in 1939 at his home in Edmonton, Saskatchewan, in 1945. Four years ago he moved to Lacombe. Asked why he chose Lacombe, Mr. Thompson replied that the town has a plentiful supply of pure soft water, an asset in polishing the spoons, and that was the deciding factor when he first made up his mind to relocate. "Besides," Mr. Thompson added, "we think Lacombe is a good town, situated in a choice part of the province."

I (previously) mentioned Sam Hodgson's jumper carvings in the Drumheller museum. In case your readers are interested in such carvings, but do not plan to go to Drumheller, complete sets can be had at Swain's Rest Service on No. 2 highway in Lacombe. These carvings were done by Mr. Swain, who learned the craft from Mr Hodgson a number of years ago. Some of these pieces represent seventy hours of work with jackknife and sandpaper.

For luncheon, our party enjoyed the hospitality of the Lacombe town council, following which we were taken on a bus tour of the Lacombe Nurseries, one of the largest such farms in Canada. the furniture factory at the Canadian Union College, and the Lacombe experimental station.

John McDonald, owner of the nurseries, told us that about 2,500 tourists drop in each summer to see his farm. Plants and shrubs are sent all over Western Canada, he said. A recent installation was a 50,000 irrigation system which is capable of sprinkling an inch of water in three hours.

At the Union College our party saw students making upholstered furniture on an assembly-line basis. Both boys and girls work in this factory, as well as in the ultra-modern printing plant and book bindery, and in this way earn their college tuition fees. To illustrate their rate of production, over a half million dollars worth of furniture was manufactured at the college last year. The college welcomes visitors, as does the Lacombe experimental station, which was our next stop.

Tourists from all over the world have called in at the experimental station, and the number of visitors in one year, according to J. Stothart, superintendent, varies from 2,000 to 10,000. It was at this farm that the now famous Lacombe boar was developed. Cross-breeding of hogs was started in 1946 and 1955 saw the promise of results. It was registered in 1957 and was made available across Canada for the first time the following year on a draw basis.

Curling Starts November 1

Official opening of the 1962-63 curling season will be staged at the Lacombe curling club on November 1, with an inaugural banquet for guest to troll on new curlers.

This was decided at a general meeting of the club on Wednesday of last week, with president Hans Baumgart in the chair.

Caretaker John Pikula attended an ice-making course in Edmonton last week, and he will be going to work on the six sheets of artificial ice at Lacombe in preparation for the November 1 opening.

A membership drive under the direction of treasurer Don McFadden will get underway this week, and all prospective curlers are urged to co-operate whether they register singly or by rinks.

The fees remain the same as last year, with twice-a-week curlers playing Tuesdays and Fridays, the once-a-weekers on Wednesdays, and mixed curling on Saturdays. Ladies' club members are also asked to participate with games on Mondays and Thursdays.

Ice conditions are being watched by the rink when took on a new look last year with an addition.

The improvement program includes removing the old mixed floor on part of the waiting room, and replacing it with a cement foundation on the same level as the new addition. This will reduce heating costs, and provide an attractive front for spectators and visitors.

Work bees are being organized on Saturday mornings and some evenings, and the assistance of interested members is solicited.

FALL FERTILIZE YOUR STUBBLE
Apply Elephant Brand High Nitrogen fertilizers in the Fall. Give your seed breaking and stubble the extra nitrogen it needs to promote the decay of plant residues and better plant food for early spring growth. Replace nitrogen taken off with your previous crop. With fall application of nitrogen fertilizer you increase the microbiological activity that results in higher yields on stubble and sod breaking. At the same time you increase your profits by reducing costly summerfallow (you still pay taxes on idle land and it costs money to cultivate).

Radioactive Fallout and Milk

The subject has been much in the news recently. Although the authorities have said "Alberta milk is safe" there must be a question mark in most people's minds as to just how safe it is.

The dairy industry has said milk is safe but some think the dairy industry would say that, even if there were some element of danger in what is the true situation?

An enquiry has recently been made into this by the scientific advisory committee of the Alberta branch of the Canadian campaign for nuclear disarmament.

Following is part of the scientific advisory committee's report.

"A great deal has yet to be done to assess the effect of consumption of milk and other foods contaminated, but certain facts are now well established and should be brought to the attention of the people.

Contamination of Feed and Milk

Radioactive materials are falling out of the upper atmosphere as a result of nuclear tests and then fallout will contaminate crops and herbage, vegetables and fruits. So far this is probably not serious in this area and such contamination can be minimized by washing vegetables and fruit before eating.

How then does milk become contaminated? The pasture grass on which the cow eats are contaminated, but the cow will absorb some of the strontium 90 in her system and only about one seventh of the strontium 90 in her feed will get through to the mammary gland.

Milking cows normally receive calcium supplements to make up for the large amount of calcium lost from the mineral in her milk. The cow's body will normally utilize calcium in preference to strontium (though it is chemically similar to calcium). Thus the quantity of strontium 90 in the cow's milk may be as little as one tenth or even less of that in her feed.

This means that milk and other dairy products are "less fallout foods." But the situation goes even further than that. One hundred calcium as preference to Strontium in the diet. If we take a diet rich in calcium such as milk, less strontium will be deposited in the bones.

How much fallout is allowed by MDH?

The actual dietary intake of strontium 90 has been calculated in relation to proportion of milk in the average U.S. diet. The limit — 200 strontium units, ¼ pint — 80 strontium units, 1 pint — 53 strontium units, 2 pints — 26 strontium units.

It may be wondered why, in spite of all this evidence, so much is heard about strontium 90 in milk. The reason is because milk is the most convenient standard food to sample universally.

Such figures as are reported are usually of fallout detected in water and milk, thus milk has become fixed in the public's mind as the food which is chiefly associated with fallout, in contrast with the conclusion drawn above that milk is preferable to many other foods from the fallout standpoint.

What is Needed

Canada's food guide recommends three meals a day and approximate amounts of fruits, vegetables, bread, cereal, meat and fish. On milk they recommend: children (6 11 yrs.) 3¼ cups, adolescents 4 cups, adults ¼ cups and expectant and nursing mothers 4 cups.

Alix Residents Erecting $12,000 Curling Rink

Alix Builds Curling Rink

Shown above is the new three-sheet curling rink now under construction at Alix. The picture was taken Sunday afternoon as more than 25 village and district men turned up to a volunteer work bee to help erect in the structure. Arch beams were installed last week and the shoring advanced speedily as the large crew worked steadily throughout the day. In the foreground are Alister McDonald, Leon Wendell and curling club president Dave Stone as they take a breather from the nail-pounding. Work was suspended shortly after this picture was taken as these ladies — Mrs. Creighton Smith, Mrs. Norman Russell and young Pamela Smith — arrived on the scene with pots of coffee and sandwiches to feed the workers. The Alix volunteers expect to have the building completed in time for the curling season to start early in November. — Staff photo

And as Alix and district there are a lot of real curlers. Last Sunday hammers pounded all day long as around 20 from the village and district turned out to erect the arch beams and roof which is rapidly taking shape on the north side of the highway in Alix.

Under the supervision of two carpenters — Leonard Lyle and Ray Cook — volunteer workmen fastened sheeting on the arched beams a time saver, contractor said.

The two three-sheet rink will open in the coming curling rink when it is completed in late fall.

In conversations with curling club president Dave Stone. The Globe learned that the club had $3,000 in assets to start the new curling rink.

Forty district residents each signed a bank note for $250 to help finance the building, an additional five businessmen, Mr. Stone states, so that the financing of the new building is on hand and available.

Club executive members tagged with the responsibility of the big new expansions are Mr. Stone, as president, vice-president Allyn Mann, Bill McDonald (secretary), directory Earl Christenson, John Hensell, John Ackworth, Brian Holsworth and Dick Waddy.

Building committee' members are Brian Holsworth Louis Waddy, Allyn Mann and Bill Morris

To Hold Bingo

In charge of the finance committee and at the present time arranging for a $1,200 cash play-at-home bingo are Oscar Subasch and Russell Hilland.

The bingo is scheduled to start November 1 in help provide further funds to meet rink construction costs.

Last year the active Alix curling club provided curling facilities for 60 members not including the members of the Bashaw curling club and the high school members.

Ladies Help Too

Men working at the numerous (and continuous) bees on construction of the new rink are receiving special attention from the ladies of the village. Hot coffee and sandwiches are being served to the crews at all-hour sessions.

Business Assessment Basis May Change

Town merchants may expect to see a different basis used for business assessment and tax purposes in the year 1963.

Provincial government assessors Norman Jensen and Doug McColl attended last week's regular meeting of town council to put forward a "strong pitch" to change the system of assessing the value of business places from a rental to a square-foot basis.

"Lacombe is the only town in the province we know of that uses rental values as a means to assess businesses on a complete industrial basis," said Mr. Jensen.

City of Red Deer has adopted the square foot area system and is more satisfactory because the floor space is equal.

On the other hand, the assessors suggested that it is sometimes difficult to give a fair rental values in a business block particularly when conditions vary from one town to another

Mr Jensen said that a thorough assessment survey of the commercial area would have to be done about every year in any case, and council gave the assessors the go-ahead to gather information on square-foot measurements at the same time.

Council will meet again with the assessors next spring comparative tax figures arrived at by the two methods, and decide if a change is warranted.

Good news: If the system is changed it [illegible] will be a great saving to personal taxes."

Town Council Studies Civil Defence Set-Up

Most communities in the area were represented at a special meeting of the local emergency measures organization at the county office earlier this month to form a new civil defence unit

Draft agreements for the pact passed unit are in the hands of the councils of the centres concerned — villages of Alix, Bentley, Blackfalds, Clive, Bckville and Milver town of Lacombe, and county of Lacombe

A tentative budget was drawn up for approval of the centre's participating municipalities, who will pay on a per capita basis 12½% of the costs. (Provincial government pays 12½%, the dominion government 75%).

Town council here screened the new draft agreement at its meeting last week, and decided to refer the contents to the solicitor

Clive Seeks Local Phone Tie-in

Clive extended area committee which incorporates the Clive municipal telephones and part of the village of Clive has not given up hope of connecting Clive with the Lacombe telephone exchange

The newly-formed committee with Guy Bauschefeld as chairman and Mrs Harold Buvelling as secretary met at the Joe Ackerman home at Clive last Thursday to discuss what steps should be taken to persuade the AGT to make the change.

At present, all Clive telephone users pay a minimum long distance toll of 10 cents per call to Lacombe. The committee feels this is a waste of time and money.

Rural phone subscribers at Clive have requested 100% that Clive be connected to the Lacombe exchange. Not every household in the village has been canvassed, but all who have are also 100% in favor of the change

Clive residents consider the town of Lacombe to be their main shopping centre, the committee points out

As a result, residents in and around Clive phone Lacombe merchants for spare farm machine parts during the rush season, phone local doctors for medical service, etc.

To be forced to use long distance when time is an important element in an emergency, members of the committee feel. There is also the unnecessary toll

Committee members at the meeting claimed that some 50,000 would be spent by mutual telephone systems in the area to fix lines and change over to dial phones. They feel more consideration should be given to an honest complaint, under the circumstances

Members studied a letter from AGT informing them in reply to earlier correspondence that regulations prohibit formation of extended areas beyond a limit of 8 miles. Clive is 13 miles from Lacombe, according to the Alberta government telephones

The committee is appealing the ruling on two grounds. Members are satisfied the actual distance between the telephone offices is the next general meeting.

closer to 12 than 13 air miles, and in any event believe that some consensus should be reached in view of the special circumstances

A letter of protest will also be sent to Hon. A R. Patrick local M.L.A

Attending the meeting on behalf of the Lacombe and district board of trade were president Al Leal and secretary Roy Sturgeon

They assured committee members that Lacombe's board of trade executive was in sympathy with the objective, and while it was thought likely the general membership would feel the same as the executive, it would have to await the next general meeting.

You need no ALL-OUT to get rid of dandruff with ALL-IN

These days most people wash their hair frequently, every time they bathe. But there seems to be only a limited number of people who remember to have a barber or beauty salon. Today's busy living, moreover, encourages many of these who still succeed having visits. Most believe it's not of serious concern. But dandruff is a serious matter. It's unsightly, embarrassing, and it's contagious. The cure is today's ALL-IN Shampoo. It's the only shampoo that has the exclusive ingredient Selsun. This ingredient has been proved to help control dandruff better. Ask for Dandruff Selsun Pills at any drug counter. 59

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of husband and father, Stanley Harvie Stevenson, who passed away October 20, 1956.
So many things have happened
Since he was called away;
So many things to share with him,
Had he been left to stay.
His thoughts were all as fond of us,
We never could forget;
And so we think that where he is,
He must be wanting yet.
Precious God, just let him know,
That we still love and miss him so.

Area vs. Rental Value

TOWN council is contemplating a change in assessing business values from the existing rental basis to a square-foot basis.

According to government assessors, Lacombe is one of the few towns in Alberta which still uses the old rental value system for assessing assessments, on which business taxes are based.

The assessors claim that the space used by a business concern is a fairer way to compute a business tax. This is open to question. Both methods have their weaknesses.

It is easier, however, to justify an assessment on a square-foot basis because the measurements are there. No merchant appealing his assessment can argue against arithmetic. He can, on occasions, put up a plausible case when a rental value basis is used because his opinion on fair rentals may be as reasonable as the assessor's.

Town council is reserving judgment on whether a change is desirable until the question can be compared with actual tax figures next spring.

Merchants need not be too concerned of the square-foot assessment basis is adopted. There would be minor revisions, and some larger business establishments would be required to pay more.

The town must raise a certain amount of money through taxes each year to meet budget expenses, and total business taxes will be the same regardless of the system used to collect them.

Any Word on Gull Lake ?

IF The Globe seems to be harping on the subject of the Gull Lake level, it's only because of the importance of this resort as a tourist mecca which affects the economy of the community.

The provincial government has on numerous occasions in the past stated that engineering surveys have and are being carried out to see if a diversion of waters to the lake is economically feasible.

The last public utterance we heard on this running commentary was last January. A delegation from chambers of commerce in central Alberta learned from government officials that a new project was in sight after completion of a new survey.

Has this government survey been made? Has the new project potential?

No one minimizes the difficulties and the scope of the project which would be required to raise a lake level, or to contain the seasonal recession. Of necessity, the undertaking involves careful research and investigation.

At the tail-end of another summer season, and after nine months of waiting, it would be in the interests of the Board of trade to press for a report on what progress the provincial government has made.

World Populations

POPULATION of the world has reached a staggering 3¼ billion, according to latest United Nations statistics. Since there is more water than land on the globe, the restricted land masses contain and support more people than ever before.

There is famine rather than feast on most parts of the earth. While experts worry about the shortage of food, mankind keeps multiplying to compound the worry. The baby boom swells the world at the rate of almost 5,000,000 monthly.

At the same time, statisians note that the death rate is lower in all but seven of the 90 countries covered in their study. At the present growth rate, the world will reach the four billion mark around 1975.

China's population is the largest on earth, 700 million people. This asset is also a liability, as the Red leaders struggle to harness this immense manpower to industrial production in the face of poverty and illiteracy.

Russia has the largest land mass of any country on earth, but her 218 million people inhabit only a part of it because of extreme cold temperatures.

The United States enjoys the highest living standard of any nation on earth, with a population of 186 millions as at last April.

Second largest populated country on earth is India, estimated at 440 million. The population is generally backward and illiterate as in China, leading to the conclusion that a surplus of people can hinder a nation as much as a shortage of people.

Canada is in the latter class. With one of the largest land areas, our population reached 18 million for the first time this year.

Life of a Prince

A LITTLE girl or boy from any average family loves to read fairy tales like Cinderella and the Prince, and their imaginations surely run off into the land of make-believe where they become the pretty Cinderella or the gallant Prince.

They don't hear about the real life of a Prince. Perhaps it's just as well, for they might not wish to exchange places.

Prince Charles is the target for blasts of criticism all around the British Isles, where he is revered by a public that is too intolerant.

The latest salvo has been fired by animal-lover Joseph Sharp of London who deplores the lack of the Royal Family in allowing the 13-year-old prince to shoot a stag on a hunting trip.

Mr. Sharp, who is secretary of the league - against - cruel-sports, exercises a sharp tongue in his own league - for - cruelty - against people.

He declares that "we all know the Duke of Edinburgh is trigger happy," but "it's wrong that his son should follow so closely in his footsteps."

We all know there are venomous tongues in the world. Mr. Sharp has been appropriately named.

It is unfortunate but true that all members of the Royal Family live in a veritable glass bowl, their every move open to sniping and ridicule from the common masses.

Queen Elizabeth and the Duke would like nothing better than to bring their children up in an atmosphere as nearly normal and natural as possible.

Prince Charles must sometimes wish he could reverse roles, and drop the title of "Prince" to become a boy down the street.

The Poor Superfluous Cow

It has not been long since dairy farms were mechanized and thousands of dairy workers lost their jobs to machines. We all shook our heads and muttered buttersweetly about progress, safe in the knowledge that the end-product remained somewhat the same.

But now, it seems, the poor cow may be the next to go—redundant or superfluous technologically unemployed, in need of retraining for some more modern job.

The big news versus cow comes from London where a team of experimenters hope soon to open a pilot plant in which milk will be made directly from weeds, pea pods and cabbage leaves. They claim the process is nearly perfected. Only a slight vegetable flavour (and why not convince yourself that that's simply puree of vegetables you taste) remains to be gotten rid of, then presumably, cows can be given their month's notice.

Before getting too concerned, however, admirers of the bovine milk can take solace in previous failures of technology down on the farm and even in this very modern day they still occur. There was a day, so we learn, when biologists were working on square eggs but the hens as of this morning were still laying rounded eggs of various shapes. Synthetic Jersey we firmly believe will never taste quite as rich as it does when a run through the cow.

LOG AT DRUM

Drumheller's population is now estimated by city manager Don Gadsbin to number at least 5,000. The 1961 dominion census for Drumheller has not been released to the city. It shows the population as of last year to amount to 3,261, only 61 short of the 3,500 mark. In 1956, the Dominion census for the Dinosaur Valley city stood at 2,622.

Local improvement District 42, which surrounds the city and takes in the valley, continues to meet with a drastic population drop. Latest figures show there are now only 1,270 persons in the district which is 1,133 less than the 1956 census which amounted to

Conservation Minded Farmers

The majority of farmers in the Lacombe county are becoming more and more conservation minded.

In the field of water conservation many of our farmers have constructed dams and dugouts to hold water which would normally run away. Considerable help in this field has been the extending of the "PFRA assistance which has been extended into this area. Many farmers have found out that this assistance often covers half the cost of the construction of dams and dugouts ("Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act)

Tree planting is becoming more prevalent as the years go by and this year five farmers qualified for the county grant for roadside tree planting. This grant amounts to $20.00 per mile of roadside tree planting for the first year, $20.00 the second year and $10.00 the third. The grant is payable providing the trees have been planted four to six rods from the property line and have been properly cared for during the summer

Although each year we see more native trees being cut down and the land broken up, at the same time many of our farmers are leaving strips of trees along their fence lines or between their

Farm-trees pounds of sugar were added to each 1 120 lbs of hay. This ration was produced in cube form and fed to one month before lambing at a rate which increased from 4 to 16 ozs per head Sugar was also given to the lambs in their creep feed "

All things considered I feel that our farmers are doing a pretty fair job of looking after their land and if they continue to make the same progress our future generations will still have land to farm.

Soil conservation has come in for its share of consideration as each year we notice fewer farmers are burning stubble and land that tends to blow or wash is getting seeded down to grass

Sugar for Sheep

A J Charnetski, livestock supervisor with the Alberta department of agriculture, recommends that sheepmen pay more attention to the importance of providing ewes with higher energy feed during the last six weeks to two months of pregnancy.

Shortages in the south of the province could look into the possibility of using sugar by-product suits to fulfill these requirements and those in the north could produce more grain feeding to assure stronger lambs at birth.

To illustrate his point, Mr. Charnetski quoted the following press release from the United Kingdom Information Service.

Lambing has made easier this year on the Cambridgeshire farm of Dr. I. A. W. Peck since result of feeding sugar to half-bred Suffolk ewes. The first lambs were born without difficulty and as lambing progressed the benefits of the sugar became more apparent. Not only did the lambs become stronger on their legs at an early age, but there was marked absence of undersized lambs even among triplets and quadruplets Losses were a go. low

Washing Synthetic Filled Pillows

With so many people using foam rubber and synthetic fibre pillows, the question of care is often asked.

To get maximum wear, do wash by hand rather than machine. Foam rubber removes the cotton cover and conserves the pillow's life. Lukewarm suds made with a mild soap or detergent. Squeeze several times to force the suds through the tiny air cells of the foam rubber. Rinse three separate times in lukewarm water then put the pillows between two large bath towels and roll them to remove excess moisture. Allow to dry at ordinary room temperature.

For terylene or dacron filled pillows, press warm suds through the pillow as if less flat as a bath. The ticking can be cleaned by scrubbing with a brush. Rinse well until no suds are formed. Do not wring, but lay the pillow flat for drawing. When it is partially dry, it should be hung up to finish drying.

Grid Rams Blast Red Deer, 48 - 18

The local squad hit the scoreboard in the first few minutes of play when quarterback Rod Smith slashed over on the keeper play, and then converted for a 6-0 lead.

Dan McFadden added another major score three minutes later when he dangled 51 yards on a reverse to hit pay dirt. Smith converted, and the scoreboard read Lacombe 14, Red Deer 0.

In the second quarter Rod Smith lofted a 44-yard single before the frustrated Raiders. Fullback with a Dolson-to-Wentz pass going for the major. The convert was missed.

Sylvia Gustafson Weds Bryan Corkery

Mr. and Mrs. BRYAN CORKERY — Photo By Advance Studios

St. Stephen's Catholic church at Lacombe was the scene of a recent September wedding when Rev. Father Rooney united in marriage Sylvia Ann, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Gustafson and James Bryan, son of Mr. Timothy Corkery of Drumheller and the late Mrs. Ella Corkery.

Mrs. Gordon Albers played the wedding music and also accompanied the soloist Miss Harriet Milsom who sang, "O Perfect Love" and "O Promise Me", during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length gown of Bruss embroidered lace fashioned with a closely fitted bodice, bell point sleeves and round neck line.

Her three tiered veil was held in place by a double crown head piece in matching lace and pearls. Her only jewelry was a pearl of mother of pearl earrings, gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli, centered with pink rosebuds.

The bridal attendants Miss Marguerite Pelletier of Edmonton and Mrs. Pat Wright of Lacombe were identically attired in street-length gowns of white organza with featured bouffant skirts and contrasting bodices. Their matching head garlands were fashioned of bronze and turquoise leaves and bouquets of turquoise carnations completed their ensembles.

The groomsmen were Don Gustafson, brother of the bride and Ray Corbery, brother of the groom. Ushers were Ken Gustafson, brother of the bride and Ron Hug, cousin of the bride.

The bride's mother, on red to her son by Ken Gustafson, was attired in a navy silk sheath with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Gordon Albers presided at the [illegible] and was assisted by Mrs. Ken Gustafson and Mrs. Ron Hug, cousins of the bride.

Highway Opening Nov. 21

Gordon E. Taylor, minister of highways, in a letter to The Globe this morning announced that the arterial highway west of Red Deer, Blackfalds and Lacombe would be officially opened on Wednesday, November 21, at 2:00 p.m.

The ribbon will be cut at the new bridge over the Blindman River and minutes afterwards the barricades will be removed at each end of the highway.

With reasonably good weather the stabilized gravel base course should be completed in time for the opening and the structures should be also ready. The asphaltic plant mix surface course will not be placed on the road this season. "We hope to get the asphaltic paving completed next season," stated Mr Taylor.

The road will be opened by the minister of highways and he will be assisted by the Hon. A. Russell Patrick local MLA, and William Ure Red Deer MLA.

It is understood the new superhighway will be open for public use shortly as the current phase of construction is now in the final stages.

LAWRENCE WILLIAMS

Returning officer Mrs. Florence McLeod was forced to cast the deciding ballot and break a two-way tie for hospital board member on last week's civic election at Clive.

Government Still Plans Lacombe Chronic Hospital

Provincial government still plans to construct a chronic hospital in Lacombe, according to a letter received from Hon. A. R. Patrick, local MLA, which was read at Monday night's meeting of town council.

Town of Lacombe has made available 3.47 acres of land south of the active hospital for this auxiliary unit, and previous correspondence had led local officials to believe that construction would be in 1963.

Mr. Patrick said in his letter that a recent daily newspaper report that omitted Lacombe in a list of proposed hospital construction sites for '63 referred only to centres where buildings had been started or designs completed.

The design for the auxiliary hospital at Lacombe has not been drawn up, said Mr. Patrick, but when it is he expects that a board will be formed to operate this hospital.

In the meantime, Mr. Patrick states that "I can assure you that there has been no change in the proposal for Lacombe."

Lions Hallowe'en Party to Follow "Trick or Treat"

Another fine Hallowe'en party program has been lined up for kiddies in the Lacombe memorial centre next Wednesday, October 31, courtesy of the Lions club.

The program starts at 7:30, and committee chairman Jack Sturges says he hopes "to wind it up at 9:00 so that the kids can get home earlier."

Assisting on the committee are Lew Tetreau and Alex Martin.

Lacombe hospital nurses will again judge the Hallowe'en costumes, and prizes will be awarded by age groups: 4-6 years, 6-8, 8-10, 10-12, and 13-14, for both girls and boys.

Everyone welcome, and treats for everyone will be distributed by five clowns.

Kinsmen Propose Wading Pool

Proposal made by the Kinsmen club of Lacombe to build a kiddies' wading pool for an estimated $4,000 was accepted by town council at its meeting Monday night.

Councillor Ivan Stonebrocker said he had been approached by Kinsmen members concerning the project, and the club was desirous of building the wading pool providing the town would be responsible for the supervision and operation.

Council felt the "gift" would be beneficial to the town, and some discussion centered around a location in the immediate area of the new swimming pool where the staff could serve a dual purpose and where toilet facilities [illegible].

It was finally decided to accept the Kinsmen proposal and appoint a committee to work with the service club on details.

Councillor Mike Kierluk was welcomed to his first meeting, after being elected to office in last week's vote, and it was a lengthy session. Deputy mayor Wes Jackson was in the chair, in the absence of mayor Ron Gordon.

"No Parking" Request

Committee president L. J. Anderson suggested that "such an area would provide easy and safe access to and from the hall for the many boys and girls who come there on bicycles, and would encourage the use of the road instead of the sidewalk for bike riding."

The question was referred to the by-laws committee.

Busy Ice Surface

Councillor Stonebrocker reported that the ice at Jubilee stadium was unable for the first time last [illegible].

Public skating at the rink on Sunday afternoon was curtailed to about half an hour due to the [illegible].

He said that a schedule of rink events has been drawn up to the satisfaction of interested groups on much the same basis as last year, including figure skating, minor hockey, public skating, broomball, Rockets hockey, etc.

The outdoor rink north of Jubilee stadium will be extended with the assistance of the minor hockey association.

The "split" of Rocket hockey gates will be the same: 30% to the town, and 70% to the hockey club.

Re-Plotting Subdivision

Red Deer district planning commissioner John Beevis attended the meeting to discuss various aspects in connection with the proposed sub-division of property south of the hospital owned by Mrs T. G. Golder, Elmer Golder, Hamish Wade, and Alex Ellis.

Mr Beevis confirmed that he would like to see engineer's reports before accepting the planned expansion of Arnold Bruns and Vic Popow properties in the northeast part of town.

A lengthy discussion ensued on the best way to install water and sewer services for new structures now being built and approved by the town on the Popow property.

✔ Councillor Lew Hittle reported that gravel has been removed and replaced by concrete in the central patio square at the Lacombe senior citizens' lodge.

✔ Councillor Hittle commented on the amount of high grass at the town dump ground that will catch drifting snow in winter and plug the road. He suggested the grass should be burned off as soon as possible.

✔ Councillor Wes Jackson attended the two-day provincial government seminar held in Edmonton on October 16-17, as a representative of the town.

✔ Henry Hansen requested permission to erect a No. 2 highway sign on town property north of the old ball park. The request was referred to committee.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Lloyd Ivey who was passed away October 28, 1961

He is gone but not forgotten
And an aching sadness lies
In my lonely hours of thinking.
Thoughts of him are with me
Days of sadness will come on me
Many times he seemed so lonely
But they little knew the sorrow
That lies in the heart concealed

— Ever remembered by his wife Doris and family 1-1-p

In loving memory of Lloyd Ivey who passed away one year ago, October 28, 1961

Those whom we love go out of sight
But never out of mind
Those whom we love are not dead
They are living in the hearts of those they leave behind
Loving and sadly missed by all his wife, daughter and son in all his days of pain and grief
He bore with heart and mind

— Lovingly remembered by mother, father and dear brothers, Roy, Roland and Gerald and sisters, Norma, Alice, Lillian, Goldie, Dorothy and Nancy 1-1-p

A Good Investment Canada Savings Bonds

One of the best and safest investments available to the Canadian public is the new issue of Canada Savings Bonds, says Fred Parmeter, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal

As little as $2.50 down buys a Canada Savings Bond at the Bank of Montreal Mr. Parmeter points out The down payment actually amounts to 5% $1.00 for a $50 bond, $5 for a $100 bond etc The balance of the bond can be paid for in easy instalments spread over a full year

The bonds this year will yield up to 3.11%, if held until maturity, Mr Parmeter stresses, and since they can be turned into cash for the full face value of the bond, plus interest to date, they form an important investment opportunity for all Canadians.

The bonds are available at the B of M on Lacombe right now Better drop in and see Mr Parmeter, and find out for yourself how easy it is to improve your savings by a bond purchase

Mr. Patrick's New Post

OUR local M.L.A. Hon. Russell Patrick is to be warmly congratulated on receiving a new appointment to the important ministry of mines and minerals.

The former Lacombe school principal was elected as Social Credit member for this constituency for the first time in 1952.

His capabilities became apparent in the ranks, and premier Manning picked him off the "back bench" in 1956 to head the old economic affairs department.

In 1959 he took over two portfolios as minister of industry and development and provincial secretary.

The latest cabinet changes announced by the premier last week have Mr Patrick continuing as minister of industry and development, relinquishing his post as provincial secretary, and accepting the new office of mines and minerals.

By far the most important of these changes is Mr. Patrick's appointment as minister of mines and minerals.

The department contributes about 100 million dollars annually in oil leases and royalties to the provincial coffers, around one-third of the government's income.

The premier has entrusted the position of mines and minerals minister to no one but himself, since the departure of Hon H E Tanner.

The new appointment is significant in another way, enhancing Mr Patrick's stature and position in the government perhaps second only to the premier.

We hope Mr Patrick doesn't find his new duties too onerous, and we wish him well in future deliberations.

ACT Should Serve The People

IT seems grossly unfair that telephone subscribers in Clive and district should be deprived of a local connection with the Lacombe telephone exchange.

An extended area committee has been set up at Clive to continue correspondence on the matter with the Alberta Government Telephones.

As the committee members point out, practically all telephone plants in the area consider the town of Lacombe their main trading centre. Because of the ever change of business back and forth, phone calls are numerous. Yet there is a minimum long distance toll charge of ten cents for each call.

In cases of emergency, such as the need for medical services, residents have a just cause for complaint in unnecessary delays through long distance. There is also the cost factor.

The ACTT's answer to previous requests for a connecting Clive-Lacombe local line was that regulations prohibit formation of extended areas beyond a limit of 13 miles. The distance between the two points is 13 miles, according to ACT

The mileage as the crow flies is open to argument, but in any event it is a mere technicality. Rules are set by government officials to serve the people and it is clear that the best interests of the people will not be served if the ACT sticks stubbornly to the application of the rule in this case.

It is to be hoped the ACT will give a fair hearing to Clive telephone subscribers who unanimously desire a change, and exempt them from a regulation that should be elastic.

Mighty Red Deer

CITY of Red Deer has a right to be proud of the growth and progress made since world war two, particularly in the last decade. In the process, it is and to its able, civic officials have tended to become vain and self-centered.

The chamber of commerce is the latest guilty organization.

Only Red Deer is on the way of central Alberta, so to speak. In a special business envelope which is being mailed as a promotion piece by member city firms. It is a colorful envelope, presumably going to all parts of Canada, but it does an injustice to its northern neighbors.

In a publicity map of this kind some tolerance must be given to the authors, allowing them to expand the dot that would locate the city of Red Deer into a rather huge blob. However, like fingers of ink spreading on a blotter, the site of Red Deer has run right over Blackfalds and Lacombe as though they don't exist.

No. 12 highway which passes through the heart of Lacombe and is in reality nearly 15 miles from Red Deer is depicted as traversing the northern outskirts of the city. This is carrying the licence of authorship a little far.

The bigger the boots a person wears, the farther the boots extend.

Red Deer's bulging middle is stretching the city boundaries by degrees, but the boots aren't following and the extremities have hardly reached Blackfalds and Lacombe.

We can understand Red Deer's eagerness to amalgamate the good healthy citizens of Blackfalds and Lacombe with their own.

The chamber of commerce claiming 3,000 are not ready to concede that they are automatically in Red Deer's fold, however, may or no map.

It might be hard for Red Deer to comprehend, but other communities have civic pride too.

Misfits in the Teaching Profession

All professions and occupations have their share of misfits who are incompetent or emotionally unsuited for their everyday tasks. It is not surprising then that the teaching profession has some maladjusted members. These are few, but at worst they build undisciplined islands of disorder and disinterest in their schools. They must be of extreme annoyance to the vast majority of their counterparts who are conscientious educators.

Looking back on one's school days, teachers remembered best are the dedicated few who inspired the pupils to seek out knowledge, and the one or two incompetents who made their subjects nightmares of confusion and frustration. The others are hazy because they doled out education in measured doses that were not inspiring but brought the pupils along a straight row of progress.

In those days, school boards could bring blessed relief by firing the misfits. How they have no such recourse because their hands have been tied by the powerful teachers' union, and it is virtually impossible to get rid of the dead heads unless they are shamed into going voluntarily.

About all school boards can do to protect the children is to be double sure that applications are carefully screened. Today this is the best single service a school board can render its community. Beautiful schools and the best equipment are wasted, if inadequate teachers are placed in the classrooms.

Most people have come to give the Alberta Teachers' Association admiration, in some quarters begrudgingly, for the good fight it has waged to raise teachers' salaries and to improve standards of the profession, but they do not like the way their schools can be saddled with misfits who are entitled to steady salary increases sooner or later, the A.T.A., the department of education and school boards must devise a system which will allow salaries to be based in part on merit. Such an agreement might contain a solution of the problem

Test Seed Grain Now

There have been reports that some out samples sent in for a germination test have come back showing less than 50% germination Although we realize that the percentage of germination will increase somewhat as oats age in the bin, however, it very rarely increases by more than ten percent

With these facts in mind we would strongly recommend that all seed supplies in the district be tested for germination early so that arrangements for seed supplies can be made well before spring.

Cattle Sheds and Corrals

At this time of year many farmers are fixing up their cattle sheds and corrals for winter Numerous inquiries have come to our office for plans of corrals and sheds and these are available However, every farmer has his own particular situation and plans must be adjusted accordingly.

A few general recommendations on corrals and sheds which might be useful are cents, height of fences, etc.

A good sturdy corral should be built with 10-ft. treated posts set eight feet apart, using three two by eight's as nailing strippers for full inch boards set four feet high.

According to research results a board fence with up to twenty percent spacing between boards gives better wind protection than a solid board fence.

A fence of this type will cost about like a running fence. Similarly a shed built into a corner of this type of fence, using treated poles and galvanized iron roofing, will run around $6.00 per running foot.

Every good corral set up needs a squeeze and a good head gate. Plans for these can be obtained at our office

Beef Prices — High or Low?

In case there may be a few people who read this column but do not produce beef I would like to take this opportunity to quote a release put out by the Council of Canadian beef producers.

"It a fact that the price of beef [illegible] with the cost of producing it, now with the general overbuilding, relatively high prices and the ever increasing [illegible] matter to consider when the cows [illegible] Those data: The cash at the command of Canadian beef producers based on figures provided by the farm economics branch of Alberta department of agriculture Figures can be confusing but that is the story they tell

Taking 1949 levels as a base equalling 100, the index of cattle prices at Jan. 1, 1962, stood at 116.7 At the same date the index of costs of the things farmers and ranchers must buy (equipment, [illegible] taxes, interest wages etc.) had climbed to 138.8 giving a cost-price disparity (ratio) of 83.3

This means that, compared with 1949, cattle dollars on January 1 were worth only 84% as much to the producer to buy the means of production In only two years (1960 and '61) were cattle dollars worth more than 100% comparatively and on one year (1957) they were worth 69.6% Average for the 13 years was 82.2%.

The majority of consumers are wage and salary earners On the same basis, the "industrial composite" of wages and salaries showed an index of 154.3 at Jan 1 With the general cost-of-living at 130.6 at that date, real wages index was 142.2 compared with the cattle producer's at 83. Today's cattle prices would give the producer a relative index of about [illegible] 83 below his position in 1949 and 45 points below the position of the wages and salary earner

What puts beef at present prices in another matter. The result is at only showing that if there is a "gravy train" the cattle producer is not on it.

Book Review

From the Shelves of The Lacombe Library

"MY LIFE IN COURT"

By Louis Nizer

A New York city lawyer takes time out from his busy duties to write an arresting story about his life in court.

The author uses a dramatic writing style and somehow manages to take the reader right into the courtroom with him to suffer his doubts and anxieties over the outcome of a case as the evidence is unfolded

One point that will impress itself upon the reader is the tremendous amount of research that goes into the preparation of a case—whether the lawyer represents the plaintiff or defendant.

Mr Nizer's law firm spent years amassing some of the factual material submitted in evidence Money spent and distance travelled was no object to gain testimony favorable to the clients.

Louis Nizer deals with five different types of court cases in his novel — each more than 100 pages in length to form a splendid 500-page-plus book.

The first pertains to a man's reputation, when Honest columnist Wantbreak Pegler sullies the character of our correspondent Quentin Reynolds Mr. Nizer is successful in winning damages for Mr. Reynolds

This story was reproduced in abbreviated form in the Reader's Digest last summer, and it may be familiar to a number of local book lovers.

There is no particular connection between the stories as presented by Louis Nizer The second concerns divorce, and this is the one I enjoyed the most probably because the author spent more time philosophizing and less reiterating actual court experiences.

He does refer to one, the contested divorce of Billy Rose and wife that was given the rather amusing title of "Battle of the Roses."

Mr Nizer is convinced that there is no hate quite so fierce as that between a man and a woman who once loved one another.

Another of his courtroom experiences concerns plagiarism and copyright statutes in relation to the second world war song, "Bless 'em All."

The author turns to courtroom transcripts rather heavily in this chapter, but because of the technical aspects it's perhaps the only way he can make the reader understand the significance of the testimony

Another case is that of a medical doctor, who is sued for negligence after a wife dies in childbirth. This type of charge, states Mr. Nizer, is the most difficult to prove because of the relative immunity enjoyed by the medical profession in the performance of their duties

How the author "breaks through" this forbidding barrier and proves medical negligence makes interesting reading, and makes one wonder how many other cases of a similar nature go undetected.

The fifth and last story, exposes the worst qualities of human emotions when "big business" is at stake. Two competing farces strive for control of the gigantic Loew's theatre chain, and a test of proxy votes determines the outcome of the annual meeting .

Eventually the case goes to court with another fascinating review for the reader.

Mr. Nizer embodies wisdom and an understanding of human nature in this excellent book. It's non-fiction but since the story is about human affairs there is more drama of the fiction type than any author could conjure and write about.

Hampers Packaging

Consumer's experts warn customers to be on the alert for deceptive packaging. Here are some of the devices used to deceive customers.

1. Reduction in quantity without reduction in price.
2. Reduction in quantity by marketing as a "sale" or "special".
3. Packaging for volume — container may only be partly filled — or enclosed in another container.
4. Manufacturing for bulk—eg. trapping air in a detergent, thus bulk is increased.
5. "Economy" sizes such as "Regular", "Giant", "King" Watch that the price per ounce is different for all sizes; the price per ounce on "King" size should be least.
6. Manipulation of ess ntial by shifting to new and different cans since a number of compenses have dropped quantity without lowering the price.
7. Mis-statement of quantity — an example — coils of clothesline short in length by several inches or feet.

Hon. A. R. Patrick Replies to Letter From Board of Trade

Gull Lake Waters Still Receding

"In spite of a year of very low evaporation and high precipitation in the area, Gull Lake has followed its usual form of receding to half feet across the spring elevation."

The information is contained in a letter dated September 28 from Hon. A. R Patrick, local MLA, to the Lacombe and District board of trade.

Board of trade secretary Roy Sturgeon and the Gull Lake level and the contents of the letter are on the agenda of the next business meeting of the board of trade, but in view of The Globe's recent editorial the letter is being made public now.

Mr Patrick said in his letter that he had looked carefully with the water resources branch of the department of agriculture and "the matter of water level in Gull Lake has been kept under consideration during the year

"Studies have been made with regard to the installation of the gauge on Lloyd Creek or Blindman River, and the possibilities of diverting water from these sources into Gull Lake

"Plans were undertaken to have some aerial photography of the area and topographic maps prepared in connection with this However, it was later decided to hold this in abeyance pending the outcome of drilling operations presently underway."

In early of the weather conditions during the past summer which should have kept the level of the lake reasonably constant, Mr Patrick said some research is now underway to determine if an underground channel exists somewhere that is allowing lake water to escape

One depressional area, he added "is located on the east side and being investigated to see if there could send into an old buried channel of the Red Deer River, and the other is located on the west side which leads into the Blindman River valley."

In addition, Mr Patrick stated that several drill holes around the north shorelines of the lake are being investigated to see if there is some way have caused a reduction of groundwater flow into the lake.

Gull Lake is not the only summer resort suffering from undesirable water recessions, Mr Patrick said in his letter that "Although the action of Gull Lake is contradictory to the weather conditions during the past summer, Pigeon Lake has noted in a similar fashion and as yet the engineers have been unable to arrive at an explanation for this."

Automobile Damaged In Fire in Garage

Three members of the Lacombe volunteer fire brigade spent to the call from the residence at 10 Barnett street on Monday afternoon to help extinguish a fire which started in a parked automobile.

Mr Burt told fire chief Colin Dalzell that his late model Oldsmobile caught fire when he went out to the garage to start it, with flames shooting clear up to the garage roof.

Faulty wiring in the car is believed to have started the fire, and the fire chief estimated that damage to the motor would exceed $100.

Elmer Lemke and Jack Rimpson were other firemen called to the scene. The fire siren was not sounded throughout town.

Bus Patrol Talk At Home-School

Those attending last week's a small attendance at the meeting of the home and school association gained a clearer insight into the responsibilities of bus drivers and school street patrols, at an interesting panel discussion which highlighted the evening's program

President Lawrence Anderson was moderator of the seven-man panel consisting of

Norman Gannon, representing the bus drivers; Kelvin Klaus and Bob Calkins, interested parents; Dennis Keppie and Laurie Truchsel, bus patrols, Grant Schaar, Lacombe police force, and Dick Biaymaker, AMA, Red Deer.

Mr Gannon outlined the qualifications and duties of a bus driver,who must possess a grade 'A' licence He has full charge of the bus and final discretion discipline is expected.

A street patrol is in charge of students crossing intersections. Patrol members can't stop traffic but they can stop students.

Bus patrol members serve as auxiliaries to drivers, assisting in discipline, and helping young kiddies on and off the bus.

Police chief Elcor commended the work of the patrols, and pointed out some of the faults of motorists such as not paying enough heed to children at intersections.

Members and Friends of First Baptist Church, Lacombe will leave the church at 7.30 p.m. to join in the missionary service held in the First Baptist Church of Red Deer. The public is cordially invited to join in — there will be room in the cars for all.

Dr R. Ben Gullison comes from a Maritime Baptist family but was born of Missionary parents who served the Canadian Baptist Foreign Mission Board in India before him His principal work in India has been with the Angami-nas (Divine Gift of Healing) hospital in Sompeta. The building up of this hospital into a fully modern, concrete building (or series of buildings) served with a good water supply and electricity has been the work of many patient years on the part of Dr Gullison and his helpers The Small hospital found that in one year it has served 2,400 in-patients and 11,000 out-patients. Though treating all kinds of illness, the hospital's specialty is the treating of diseases of the eye, because of the special gifts of Dr. John Coupallis (now Superintendent of the Hospital) in 1930 he was selected by the All-India Ophthalmological Society as one of the Indian delegates to the International Ophthalmic Congress in Brussels; while there he visited many eye clinics all across Europe Sompeta was selected as one of three hospitals in India to receive a gift from the Rambo Committee of Philadelphia U.S.A., to restore sight to destitute blind — some blind people talk walked for two months to the hospital) to receive their sight.

Local Welfare Centre Doing Worthwhile Work

Lacombe health and welfare ladies of the Seventh Day Adventist church were honored to have his worship the Mayor visit their welfare centre in downtown Lacombe on Tuesday of last week.

Mayor Ben Gordon commended them for the work they are doing in the community putting Christianity into practice, serving all who need help, regardless of race and creed. Those ladies enjoy their work because of the admonitions from their Master, "to love and serve mankind."

During the first nine months of this year, the group has spent 2,050 hours sewing, cleaning, repairing and packing clothing items for sale to the needy calls, and some more stockpiled for civil defence use.

One thousand eight hundred eighty two articles of clothing have been given away, 162 food hampers were distributed to needy families. A quantity of bedding has also been given out All told 410 persons have been helped thus far through the efforts of those ladies.

Should you know of any in need, do not hesitate to contact the welfare centre at phone 2-3620

ENJOY OUR CAR SERVICE
. . . OUR COFFEE
. . . OUR FOOD
There is a little coffee shop
Along the north high-way
A station where a car can stop
For gas . . . and petrol
There is a small museum there
With things from days gone by;
Jumper carvings everywhere
From roots and wood that's dry
A lovely garden out in front
Has things for children's play;
And if the coffee cups be burnt
They'll see some fish that day.
For hidden in unusual rock
There is a garden pool
Surrounded by a log walk
With water clear and cool.
The pretty flowers planted 'round
Give color to the scene;
And picnic tables on the ground
A burger on the green.
So come on in and stop awhile
To give yourself a rest
Then travel on your way in style
We serve the very best.

Re-Numbering Our Streets

ABOUT seven or eight years ago, the Kinsmen club of Lacombe conducted a worthwhile public service when it undertook the numbering of streets and avenues in town.

At the same time, citizens were contacted in a saturation canvass and sold house numbers as required. The numbers were installed alongside the entrance door by club members at the time of the sale.

The result was a great saving in time and confusion for visitors, who were able to find houses by numbers instead of relying on directions like "fourth house from the corner three blocks up" or "two doors down from Jones's."

Like all good things that depreciate this one needs reviving.

Most numbers on streets and avenues are weather-worn and barely discernible by passing motorists. A few are not readable at all.

It was good to see town council dealing with this subject favorably following a recent letter from the board of trade. Council promised to lay money aside in next spring's budget to re-number every street still in town, with proper standards or signposts on each corner.

Householders could help complete the program by making sure that their dwellings are numbered. Many new houses have been constructed in recent years, since the Kinsmen first called and some of them never have been numbered.

No Sales Tax, Please

IN bringing up the subject of a sales tax for Alberta once again, provincial treasurer E. W. Hinman is trying to re-check the temperament of the people. He will find public feeling cold and unfavorable.

Mr Hinman did his best to make the sales tax suggestion sound as palatable as possible.

A three percent sales tax in Alberta could cut property taxes in half, he said. By this token, a six percent sales tax would eliminate property taxes altogether.

Obviously tax money is required to operate all levels of government no matter how it is collected. It is questionable whether a sales tax is a fairer form of taxation than a property tax. What is more probable is that people would be forced to bear the burden of both in increased amounts.

Property tax might dip slightly on introduction of a sales tax, but it would likely return to former levels if the history of taxation is any indication.

In the meantime, the public would be saddled with an iniquitous sales tax, and experience shows that here too the trend is always upward. After three percent comes four, then five, ad infinitum.

It is an annoyance for people to carry around a pocketful of pennies to pay for sales tax charges on petty purchases. It is a handicap for those least able to pay that a sales tax is added on large expenditures like household furniture.

It is an imposition on every business merchant who must become a tax collector for the government. His records are open to inspection to ensure that he isn't cheating the government. New hands of costly civil servants must be hired to stick their noses into private business.

A sales tax, Mr. Hinman? No Dank you.

U.S. Ultimatum

THE world moved close to nuclear war last week when president Kennedy announced that the United States intended to place an arms embargo on Cuba.

The old Monroe doctrine stating in effect that the U.S. would not tolerate foreign interference from any country in this hemisphere apparently still applies in this day and age. As far as the Americans are concerned, the Soviet Union has "moved in" on Cuba by establishing offensive missile bases on the island headed by Communist Fidel Castro.

Whether the United States is justified in interrogating and searching sovereign ships from other nations on the high seas is a matter of conjecture. Some countries might take a dim view of Kennedy's decision, as we are likely to hear in the United Nations general assembly.

However, the U.S. considers the establishment of offensive nuclear war sites on Cuba to be of sufficient threat to warrant its security to warrant urgent and immediate unilateral action. There is no doubt the U.S. has enough naval strength to make the blockade fairly effective.

In the performance of this task, any number of unexpected and difficult situations might arise.

Let us hope the risks do not outweigh the benefits involved, and at this stage they do not with premier Khrushchev apparently willing to dismantle Soviet missile sites in Cuba under UN supervision.

When Little Means Much

DOMINION government's austerity program shows what can be done with the scissors rather than the meat cleaver.

No major project has been chopped from the budget to provide a single large saving. Instead, a mighty number of small economies have been skinned off expenditures. The result is equally impressive. Revised estimates tabled in the house of commons last week forecast cutbacks of $38 million dollars in the 1962-63 spending program.

The government hasn't been too proud to trim even a few dollars off an item, in the belief that enough drops of water soon fill a glass.

Of equal importance is the change in thinking among government officials that has gone along with the economy drive.

It is human nature for those on government salary to look upon their employer as a "rich uncle" with unlimited resources. This concept of a prosperous benefactor is undergoing change. From the top down, Santa is turning into a Scrooge.

It might be surprising what further savings are effected in the months to come. Even one less requisition for a box of paper clips can amount to a lot of money, repeated often enough.

Reflections of the Times

The Old Pocket Pen-Knife

It is unfortunate and true that the pocket knife in the past 30 years has lost popularity to almost the vanishing point.

Twenty years ago any male over six years of age would consider himself badly equipped without a pocket knife on his person, and today less than three in ten carry even the smallest knife, according to a survey made recently.

A pocket knife is a most useful tool. Many of them are constructed to pull corks and lever tops off bottles while a few years ago the super pocket knife carried enough gadgets and extras to enable a small man to build a large house or take a rock out of the hoof of his favorite horse.

In the hey day of the pocket knife most colorful characters in any community built themselves fabulous reputations whittling a multitude of objects.

A decade ago the objective of every young boy was to own a scout knife to wear from his belt and give him the appearance of an explorer or trapper

The invention of pencil sharpeners and then the discovery of the ball point pen eliminated much of the use of a pocket knife in recent years, but the men that still carry the handy little tool vouch for their efficiency and use them wholeheartedly.

OLDS, INNIS BOARDS

The running feud between the Olds Elks and Drumheller Miners of the central Alberta hockey league, appears to be continuing off the ice. Both clubs are after big 6 foot, 210 pound Norm Ryder who is rated as a very good defenceman and one who could prove to be one of the highest scoring rearguards in the league

Two weeks ago, the Miners announced they had come to an agreement with Ryder Monday, the Olds Elks announced Ryder had signed with them. Ryder's playing rights, were reportedly held by a club in the eastern United States amateur league.

Therefore, he had verbally agreed to sail with Drumheller. With the announcements Monday in Olds, interest and rivalry again gets a shot in the arm.

Feeders' Day and Tour

A cattle feeders' day and tour is coming up in the Red Deer district on November 8 and 10 Hereford [illegible] a tour of feedlots in the Red Deer district while Saturday, November 10 will feature the feeders day.

The two day event is being sponsored by the western stock growers association in co-operation with the Red Deer district agriculturist, Bob Prior.

For further information we would suggest that cattle feeders in the area listen to their radio and T-V as it will be advertised extensively through the media

Grain Quality Down

Indications from some of the grain samples sent in for feed analysis, are that the feeding quality of our grain is down somewhat lower than last year. In view of this we strongly recommend that feed samples be analyzed and protein supplements be fed if proven necessary.

Sample containers and instructions for sending in samples to the university and feed supplementing laboratory are available at our office

Y&D and Low Covering Fruit Bundles

As an additional feature of the department's tree planting program for 1963 it is intended to distribute a low and tall growing fruit bundle. There will be 400 of the low growing and 800 of the tall available for distribution in [illegible]

Oct 25.1962 Lacombe Globe

We appreciate the interest of the people of Lacombe in the Clive area's bid for Extended Area Service to Lacombe and would like to thank you for your news report on the recent meeting of the committee.

There is a small part of the report that I would like to call attention, it reads "committee members at the meeting claimed that some $8,000.00 would be saved by the Mutual Telephone system in the area to fix lines and change over to dial phones."

The person who used this figure was very likely speaking of his local mutual and not of the whole exchange. Although, I do not know the complete cost to all the mutuals, I do know that one of the five company's was planning on spending $8,000, others are borrowing as high as $20,000.00 each for line work. The phones alone will cost in the neighborhood of $6,000.00. The total cost to the mutuals could easily reach $60,-000.00.

I hope this will clear up any misunderstanding on the point.

Thanks again for your interest.

Yours Sincerely,
Mrs. Jean Bredling,
Secretary Clive Extended Area Service Committee.

Book Review . . . .

From the shelves of the Lacombe Public Library

"WHY ROCK THE BOAT"

By Weintraub

I borrowed this book from the Lacombe public library with a good deal of anticipation, knowing it was a satire of the Montreal newspaper world.

The first part of the novel is not a disappointment. It is filled with humorous situations as a young cub reporter tries to make good in the hard-hitten newspapers of the big city paper

Some of the characters the author paints with words are straight out of nowhere, but they resemble old-time zany paper editors just enough to be believable and very funny

The military editor on Mr Weintraub's imaginative Montreal paper, for example, has a pot of uniforms for every service. He comes to work one day as a naval officer, the next day as a soldier, then as an airman.

The story is told through the eyes and misadventures of the [illegible]-year-old cub.

There is one chapter that is absolutely priceless, when the young reporter is sent out to "cover" the hypothetical meeting of a service club called the Bell-Ringers.

In fact, wherever the author sticks to newspaper doings satirizing interviews, "names are important," etc., the book is funny.

Unfortunately Mr Weintraub mistakenly felt this wasn't enough and he allows a love interest to creep into the story.

It doesn't spoil the overall humor of the book but it's out of keeping with the theme.

Dieppe Hero Renews Friendship

Bob Armstrong, well-known local Dieppe veteran, received some interesting colored pictures this week from a family in France who befriended him when he was taken prisoner in 1942.

Mr Armstrong, who with Bob Reid and their respective wives took part in the "return-to-Dieppe" celebrations last month, spent two days with the Paul Dupuis family in Severmeux, France.

Here is Bob's own story of the family:

"We had been taken prisoner and were being marched back to [illegible]

Ski Meeting Is Scheduled For Next Friday Evening

There isn't any snow on the ground, but skiers from the Bentley and Lacombe areas as well as Ponoka are asked to take note of an important ski meeting to be held below the town office in Lacombe on Friday night, Nov 2, at 8:00 p.m.

This is the annual meeting, and there will be an election of officers. Fred Kells of Ponoka was president for 1961-62.

All skiers in the area are urged to attend.

School Paper, Mercury Combines Wit, Wisdom

A seven-page edition of the new monthly school paper called the Mercury came "off the press" at the Lacombe school last Friday, and it's a credit to the editorial staff and all [illegible]

Butch (Allan) Treleaven, editor, Elaine Colquhoun, assistant editor; Terry Sunst, sports; Don Lowry, social; Janis Heath and Jean Hall, reporters; Carolen Martin, art; Linda Hudd, typist; and Mrs. Jim Lewers, advisor.

An editorial dealing with the subject "school spirit" ends with the hope that student participation in the paper "will serve to further school spirit."

A message from school principal H.G. Ferguson expresses the thought that "Considerable work to publish a school paper is a commendable one and can serve a very useful purpose in the school." He extends best wishes for success to the staff of The Mercury.

Good Humor

There is an amusing love-lorn column under the heading of "Grim Readers." Excerpts:

YOU HAVE A HAND IN THINGS CANADIAN

when you own Life Insurance

Surprising? Yes—but true. Like most people, you have probably thought of your life insurance—as protection for your family—as a good way to save money regularly—as a valuable collateral if you need a loan for an emergency—as a retirement plan for you later on.

Actually, your life insurance dollars are more than an investment in your personal security and your family's. These dollars are also an investment in Canada. They stimulate growth and progress and help make this country a better place in which to live and work.

At the moment, 9 BILLION DOLLARS of life insurance savings are invested in important Canadian enterprises—through the purchase of bonds and stocks and through mortgages.

These hard-working dollars are helping to finance great projects all over the country such as pipelines, shopping centres, bridges and highways, homes, apartment and office buildings, schools, factories, industrial plants and power developments. These investments create employment opportunities, too.

[illegible] this growth by reducing the cost of life insurance to you and the 9 million other Canadian policyowners.

Blindman River Bridge Construction Near End

BLINDMAN — The bridge over the Blindman river about eight miles west of Blackfalds is nearing completion. The forms are down and the safe railings have been installed.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sluit and family have moved to their new home, formerly the Otto Straub farm, and Mr. and Mrs Burt Byers are now living on the John Sluit farm.

A number of ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. Jack Vanderstoel on Thursday afternoon to shower the baby with gifts. Mrs. Art Wigmore had some contests for the ladies and then presented Mrs Vondertoek with the baby gifts.

Mrs. Martin Hedemark and Mrs Howard Long drove Mrs Hedemark's mother, Mrs. Bethor, to Wetaskiwin last week end and spent a few days. Mrs. Edwin Seiber returned with them to visit her mother, Mrs S Farewell

Don't forget the bingo in the Aspelund hall on Friday, November 2, sponsored by the Blindman Helping Hand. Everyone turn out and help the ladies make this event a big success

Wash-and-Wear Proposition

Canadian mills will soon be able to evaluate a new process claimed to give even complete wash-and-wear properties. The announcement came from the Western Regional Laboratory, Canada Department of Agriculture, Vancouver, B.C.

Dr. McPhee noted that wash-and-wear woven garments are already on sale in Australia. "We have received enquiries from Canadian producers, and they will shortly commence evaluating the process. If accepted, garments made from wash-and-wear cloth could be on sale in Canadian stores by the beginning of next year," he added.

Dr. McPhee, a senior research officer with the commonwealth scientific and industrial research organization, said that prior to development of this new process wash-and-wear qualities were only available in wool fabrics blended with various man made fibres.

"Now 100% wool garments, such as children's school wear, men's slacks and shirts, and ladies' shirts — can be thrown into a washing machine to emerge completely wrinkle-free, and will need no ironing," said Dr McPhee.

He said the new process involves a shrink proofing process, by treatment of the fabric with potassium permanganate, in saturated common salt solutions. Following the fabric is put through a setting operation which prevents wrinkling during handling.

Rockets Play at Home For 16 Saturday Night Games

Lacombe Rockets will play 16 of their season's 18 home games on Saturday nights, club president Percy Thompson reported to the Globe last week following a league meeting held at Red Deer on Thursday

"On the initial draft of the season's schedule, we (the Rockets) had only three Saturday night games. The team representatives sat down at the meeting to thrash out proposed changes in the schedule, and all of us gave-and-took a little.

We have ended up with 16 Saturday night games, which is most satisfactory to us," he told The Globe.

First game of the season at Lacombe will be played on Saturday, November 10, starting at 9:00 p.m.

The Rockets will play their first game on the road when they travel to Calgary this coming Saturday to take on the league newcomers — the Calgary Buffaloes

Hank Ries Tombstone

Jack Ferris, well known Red Deer resident, formerly of Lacombe, was elected governor of the league, succeeding Stan Sparling of Drumheller who has spent three years as league governor. Secretary-manager is Fred Rowett of Red Deer.

Elmer Fraser Elected

Play-offs will include two semi-final series between the top four teams. Three out games counts in the league. A vote to make the playoffs a six-team affair was voted down 6 to 1.

Rockets Look Good

Coach Art Park is particularly happy with the form shown by club members in the early-season practices. "We're going to have a strong club — probably strong-er than last year," he says with a grin, "and we were good enough to win the provincial title, if you remember, at that time."

Season tickets are on sale at Puffer Agencies in Lacombe, and hockey fans are urged to pick up their tickets now, which will be honored at all 18 home games.

"The tickets also provide the holders with seat options for the playoffs," president Thompson mentioned.

Ladies Ask For New Curlers

A meeting of all ladies interested in afternoon curling this winter will be held at the Lacombe curling rink on Monday, November 5, beginning at 1:30 p.m. Beginners are especially invited to attend this meeting so that numbers of ladies who plan to curl can be ascertained.

The afternoon curling (from 1:30 to 4:00) for ladies will be held on Mondays and Thursdays of each week, with those curling having the opportunity to curl on either one of these days or on both, if they choose. Anyone interested in afternoon curling who is unable to attend the meeting, is asked to phone Mrs. Jim Shaw at 2-3053 of Mrs. Mel Ross at 2-3000.

'Teen Town Putting Slaves on Market

Town merchants!

Do your store windows need cleaning? Have you odd jobs around that you'd like to have done?

Lacombe Teen-Canadians will be willing to oblige and their "slaves" will be put up for sale Sunday at an auction Saturday morning on 50 cents, between Broad's Photocraft and the Royal Bank.

The "slave trade" will start sharp at 10:30 a.m. and merchants are invited to bid on a "master for whomever they think the job is worth. Those "sold" on auction will be willing to work from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. the same day.

Town mayor president Murray Gudmundsen states that at least 20 boys and girls will form the slave market, and the money they make at work on Saturday, November 10, will go into the club treasury.

How . . . what am I bid?

Lacombe Backs Clive Move

Unanimous support was promised to the Clive extended service committee by the Lacombe and district board of trade at a meeting last Friday night to obtain extended area telephone service between Clive and Lacombe.

The Clive organization has tried unsuccessfully thus far to have the Alberta Government Telephones set up a connecting Clive-Lacombe local line in order to have long distance phone charges abolished.

There is too much trade between the two centres, it is felt, for telephone subscribers to be burdened with the constant delays and cost of long-distance.

The Clive extended service committee which represents mutual telephone companies in the area have a well-organized plan of what districts should be amalgamated with Lacombe, board of trade secretary Roy Sturgeon said.

Board of trade members authorized Mr Sturgeon to write direct "to the top" Hon Raymond Rierson, minister of telephones. Ken Wright, with public relations, telephones, and Hon. A. R. Patrick, local MLA. It is hoped to arrange an early meeting between these three men, and representatives from the Clive committee and Lacombe board of trade.

50th Doll

Bennie Kloss, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs Henry Kloss of Lacombe, was the 50th youngster to win a doll in the current Globe subscription offer, and she is shown above receiving her prize from proprietor Henry Balcerzak of Beaver Hardware. All a boy or girl has to do to win a doll is sell nine yearly subscriptions (one of them new). Other winners during the week include Lindsay Bennett, 8, of Lacombe; Shaun Berko, 10, of Lacombe; Sherry Jessen, 9, of Lacombe; Leslie Bryan, 10, of Lacombe; Lenore Moseley, 8, of Lacombe; Pearl Smithed of Lacombe; Daisy McCullough of Lacombe; Sharon Bast, 10 of Blackfalds; Jeanne Bookery of Clive.

No Holiday Next Monday in Lieu Nov. 11

• Next Monday, November 12, has not been proclaimed a statutory holiday by the federal or provincial governments since November 11 falls on a Sunday this year.

The schools and chartered banks will be open as usual on Monday. The post office in Lacombe will give full wicket service to 12:00 noon. Doors will be open for the convenience of businesses as in others.

Remembrance day services are being held on Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Lacombe and district board of trade at a meeting last Friday night to obtain extended area telephone service between Clive and Lacombe.

IT HAPPENED IN CLIVE

Pig on Prowl

(From our own correspondent)

CLIVE — A large pig evidently from a near-by farm strayed into Clive early Monday morning. She was still walking around town at 9.30 a.m.

The unusual was apparently managed and rounded up by the owner during the morning sometime.

Farmers Guests Of Lions Club

Well over 100 were in attendance at the regular Lions club meeting Monday evening at the L.M.C. as the annual "farmers guest night" was observed.

Lions and their guests enjoyed a brief program which included a short Dutch auction, with Alf Lawson acting as auctioneer. A few solos by David Hepburn who accompanied himself on the guitar and community singing led by Gordon Sweet and accompanied by Mrs Dorothy Flewelling at the piano.

Guest speaker for the evening was Earl Bowser, senior pathologist for the federal department of agriculture at the university of Alberta.

Mr. Bowser, who has worked for some time with United Nations agencies in Pakistan, Egypt Uruguay and the Argentine, gave an interesting outline of farming methods in these respective countries.

Mr. Bowser was introduced by Ken Richardson.

A brief business report was heard from Dean English to the effect that the Lions had collected and forwarded to the CNIB the sum of $883.85, as a result of the canvass this fall.

John Parsons of the Spruceville district, on behalf of the guests present, thanked the Lions club for the dinner and entertainment.

Local Firm Wins Contract Bank Addition

Alex Ellis Construction of Lacombe has awarded the contract for the addition and renovations to the Royal Bank of Canada building here when both were opened during the past week Contract price was $79,700

The 20-ft. by 68-ft. addition will fill in the vacant property between the rear of the present bank building and Sweet's Pharmacy. Included in the plans are complete renovations inside the existing bank building, as well as heating, new plumbing, air conditioning and lighting.

Heating and plumbing work will be done by Allanson's Plumbing and Heating of Lacombe, electrical work by Lepine Electric of Lacombe, air conditioning by Lynn-Lee of Penhold and Lacombe, painting by T Vander Wees of Lacombe.

Work is expected to start at the beginning of next week.

Noisy Trains Causing Loss of Business

A letter of protest regarding the high speed of approaching trains and the tie-up of traffic at the main railroad crossing is being drafted by the Lacombe and district board of trade to the Canadian Pacific Railways.

Board of trade members at a meeting last Friday heard complaints that travellers are refusing to stay at nearby hotels and motels because of the narrow noise and whistles of speeding trains passing through Lacombe in the middle of the night.

Secretary Roy Sturgeon was also instructed to bring to the attention of CPR officials the tie-up of motor traffic which sometimes results along No. 12 highway because of the shunting of rail cars back and forth at the main crossing.

It was suggested that the make-up of trains be done where possible on rails at the south end of town, to ease congestion at a busy crossing.

The Weather

Temperatures remain 15 to 20 degrees above normal for this time of year. A high of 50 was registered last Friday.

Lacombe experimental farm returns the following official temperatures for the week:

Oct. 31	.01	in. rain	55	35
Nov. 1	.01	in. rain	56	35
" 2			60	34
" 3	.01	in. rain	44	30

At the Lacombe and District Board of Trade

Gate Sign Project Considered

A new gate-sign project for all farms in the area is being contemplated by the Lacombe and district board of trade.

At a poorly-attended general meeting in the Lacombe Hotel last Friday night, an eight-man group representing the agriculture committee and the special committee was appointed to investigate costs and other details.

Fred Bray, Jack Buchner, Harold Bruder, John Klien, Walter McNary, John Parsons, Al Churchill and Tom Ford.

The sign-post project was a popular innovation about 10 years ago, but since then many signs rotted and became illegible with moves and changes.

Wes Jackson, who was one of the chairman, reported that about 200 name plates had been put up at the time at a cost of around 25 cents a name for a total cost of nearly $300 (Lumber and paint was donated)

There was a good attendance of farmers at the meeting, and all of them had a good word for the sign project, recommending that it be repeated.

Insurance Report

Mrs Pete Donner was present to give a comprehensive report on the board of trade medical insurance scheme, now ten years in operation.

There were 168 members as at the end of June, 1962. A sum of $21,623 was paid to Great West insurance, which in turn paid both $14,304 in claims

6-H Questionnaire

Results of the recent questionnaire on the 6-H project were summarized by W. L. McNary:

"Do you consider this a worthwhile board of trade project"— 17 yes, 0 no.

"Will you sponsor them 6-H clubs next year?" — 17 yes, 0 no.

"If so, would you like to sponsor the main members for one more year?" — 5 yes, 0 no. 0 no opinion.

In view of the answers to the questionnaire, and the unqualified success of the scheme which drew 6-H work and the board of trade closer together, it was decided that the project be adopted for 1963-63.

Ski Land Tales

Board of trade has made inquiries to see if the government's proposed land titles office "somewhere in central Alberta" could be based at Lacombe.

However, secretary Roy Sturgeon said it was found that the province insists that a land titles office be located in a centre where there is a sort of justice. There is no district court in Lacombe.

Christmas Lighting

Board of trade will ask the town of Lacombe to take over Christmas street lighting, as it is difficult to obtain volunteer assistance from merchants during a busy season.

Christmas Store Hours

The meeting moved that stores in Lacombe may open every night in December up to Christmas until 9:00 o'clock, with the exception of Wednesday and December 24 (Christmas eve).

Flying Club Report

President Alan Gray of the Lacombe flying club reported that the club is still in the process of having titles changed on property used as an airfield just north of town.

He said there was a good crop of grass on the landing strip, and that "live or die" students are learning to fly.

It is hoped to move in a building as an office for the time being, in order to keep the flying club in operation all winter (The building was moved in Monday).

TRUCK FLIPS

Damage to the extent of $1,000 was caused Monday to a cement truck operated by Lacombe Pre-mocrete when it overturned on a rural road two miles north of Sylvanwood school. Don Lunn, driver of the truck, was not injured.

Building Permits Near Three-Quarter Million

Building permit totals for the first ten months have climbed to $664,455, and if the pace continues current construction will exceed the record figure of $717,600 set in 1959.

Permits for nine new residences have been issued from the town office in the last six weeks, and the accounts for the bulk of the $182,230 since mid-September.

Civil Defence Course Starting November 19

Lacombe civil defence will be conducting courses in the town of Lacombe as well as the villages in the county, starting in November if sufficient applications are forthcoming.

Local co-ordinator M. O Mathieson hopes to begin classes on Monday, November 19.

In the past, several courses have been held in the town and in some areas in the county. The courses will follow a slightly different pattern this fall. It is felt that in order to develop an efficient civil defence organization it is necessary to follow a well formulated plan.

The unit usually needs training of volunteers through a number of unit classes or stages of training, from basic training to specialized training for the particular facility for which the volunteer is most suited. This will follow a standard plan for the training of civil defence volunteers in the province of Alberta.

The first stage called "Initial Civil Defence Training" is the initial training phase which is one of individual training common to all volunteers. The service for which candidates are most suited will become apparent during this stage.

Part two — fundamentals of first aid. An examination leading to a "First aid" certificate is held under the auspices of St. John Ambulance [illegible]. Volunteers already qualified in first aid within the previous five years should not take this course.

It should be noted that it is now necessary to take Part one before Part two Outline of Part one is below:

New Deduction Explains Gull Lake Recession

Editor,

Re Gull Lake Water Receding:

The apparent reason for water receding in Gull Lake may be this: we are sinking. This has been going on for the last decades. At first it was very insignificant, but increased with each new year.

The subsidence of the ground now is about a foot a year. The rate is much faster or less plastic.

This change is not over the surface, but somewhere below the 60-ft. level.

Our area is not the only one affected. They have their troubles in Ottawa, in Saint John, N. B. and in Mexico City. The Long Beach, California, has been drilling for several decades. To arrest this problem they are now pumping water into the earth.

It seems that removal of fluid [illegible] water and oil from beneath the earth's surface is the cause of receding.

This may consummate in fulfillment of prophecies that "earth shall rock old like a garment shall be consumed and burn up."

With kindness P.J.C.

P.S. Should editors want to have read them in detail. Isaiah 24:5, where these prophecies are found Jeremiah 4:27 and 2 Peter 3:10.

Telephone Clinic Here Next Tuesday

A feature of the telephone clinic to be held at the LMC on the night of November 13 at 7:30 will be a demonstration and answer as a dial train.

The unit is a working manners dial exchange and allows viewers to see a telephone call actually being handled by the machinery.

Built at a cost in excess of $3,000, this piece of equipment simplifies the working of an automatic exchange to a degree that all can understand how it works.

Housed in clear plastic, the switches where are the heart of an automatic system can be seen as they process each dialed number.

Bob Kitchener, AGT official, will be the commentator on display at the clinic.

Bill Demeter will be master of ceremonies, and will introduce a half-hour film to be shown, "Manner of Speaking" at 8:00 p.m.

The clinic promises to be most successful, and a large crowd is expected.

There is no admission charge.

FALL OR SPRING?

E. H. Tudor of Morningside picked some lettuce, and bread buns on Monday, Nov 5. He reckoned some greens as an encouragement for a salad train.

Alix Hallowe'eners Collect For UNICEF

ALIX A number of attractively costumed Hallowe'en ghosts, skeletons, animals and story book characters paraded the streets on Oct. 31, collecting UNICEF tin cans which had previously been sold by junior high school club to do the usual trunk.

Following the collection rounds all assembled in the hall where costumes were judged and all Hallowe'eners were given a treat. Junior high school students in charge of the party were Wayne Ward for junior girls and Ken Rice for junior boys. A committee of parents, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Ken Tessler, were in charge of the party.

Among those who motored to Calgary on Sunday Nov. 4 to attend the reception at the Crown from England were R. Purdy, T. Woodward, Mr and Mrs P. Maxwell and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Creighton Smith.

Here's Answer

Mrs. Ken Tessler was in charge of the ladies' apron contest, and the game apron that first basket Mr and Mrs. D. Rae have moved into their recently acquired home formerly the home of the J. Lewis family, the Lewis family are in the Art Skaggs house. Mr. and Mrs. A. Shade and family have moved into their recently completed new home. Mr and Mrs. Ken Tessler are now living in the Machyr house and a family from Red Deer, the Schneidings, have moved into the Thorp house.

Diamond Bell

From Nanoy, B.C., comes the story of a fishing trip made by C. Thorp and Roy Anglum to the banks of the Fraser River Mr Thorp was accurately trying his luck when up jumped a good-sized cohoe which landed on the bank about a foot distance from the surprised Mr. Thorp. The fish wriggled back of the water, but was hurriedly kicked farther up the bank, then grabbed

A fellow fisherman, sighting the large cohoe (it weighed better than five lbs) rushed to discover what Mr Thorp was using for bait. "My foot", replied the proud gentleman, as he held up his prize The same note contained an account of mums, roses and grapes being plentiful at Nanoy at this season. Sounds good, eh?

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs Lloyd Hansen (nee Margaret Mc-Donald) on the birth of a daughter, Cassandra Marie, in a Calgary hospital.

How remembered and sadly missed by her daughter — Alice and her
Boys and Girls Doris and Ruth.

Our district was shocked to learn that Jack Rust died suddenly on Monday afternoon. A kind neighbor and good friend to all he greatly missed.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Duffy have moved to Penola.

Halloween passed pretty lightly in the district. However, what constitution has caused deliberate things to different people. Maybe it was fun in the preachers to carry the blackboard and heavy typewriter from the hall to the road, but not much fun to lug them back again.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Hancock and children spent Sunday in Vegreville with Mrs. Hancock's parents.

Mrs. Leslie Bailey, Gerry and Vera have taken up residence in Blackfalds. We shall miss them greatly.

Sunday school will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ainsworth on Sunday at 11:00 a.m.

Mrs Fred Simons and her three girls visited Mrs. W A Cardon and boys on Sunday

The FUA membership drive is in full swing in our district. We hope every farm family will join us. with cause a strong, united Doug Hazel is the new president for the men's section, and Mrs. H Penner the new president for the women's section for the coming year.

A directors' meeting of the telephone company was held at J W Ainsworth's home on Monday night.

Minor Pranks at Clive on Hallowe'en

CLIVE — Hallowe'en is over for another year. No serious damage was evident, except the small "out house" of the Anglican church was deposited on the main street, and at the sports grounds the bench used by visitor sellers was turned over. Some windows were well soaped and some store signs mattered around.

The youngsters were all the street by 8:30 p.m. and the young teenagers had all was about 9:30 p.m. After that time, it was quiet in town, due no doubt to the R.C.M.P. putting in an appearance. According to those who kept track of the members of callers, about 120 youngsters called for "treats".

Some children collected for UNICEF instead of treats, and the report was that the response was generous.

On good thing, Hallowe'en was worn and dry, to add to the pleasures of the youngsters. Thursday evening a drizzling rain fell for a few hours.

Buy A Poppy

THEY used to wear the khaki of the army, the black and white of the navy, or the blue of the air force. Now they wear the uniform of "civvy street" and their days in the forces grow dimmer with the passing years.

They are the lucky ones who came back.

They hold dear in memory the old friends who an fallen comrades will not return.

These ex-servicemen will pay tribute to the dead of two world wars at Remembrance Day services next Sunday afternoon. They will be joined by bereaved parents and bereaved families.

Some of us will be unable to attend the Armistice services. We can honour the war dead just the same by buying a poppy, and by appreciating its significance no we wear it.

One-Third Under 15 Years

According to the dominion census of 1961, only seven and one-half percent of the population is composed of persons 65 years of age and over

The remaining 92½ percent consists of people under 65, and the working age group of 15 to 64 years makes up 59½ percent of this total. Those under 15 years form 34 percent of the country's population.

The census bureau points out that there is a four percent increase in the number of children compared with the 1951 census. This is the jump in the 10 to 14 years age group reflected in the high post war birth rate

Conversely there is a three per cent drop in the working class, where the low birth rate in the depression years of the 1930's shows up in the 30-39 age group.

The persons responsible for the productivity of the nation make up a smaller segment of the total population than they did ten years ago.

Since economists link the prosperity of the country with the national product, it follows that there will be plainer days ahead for Canada when the relatively large 10-14 age group grows up and joins the working force.

On the other hand, this gives rise to the question of unemployment and where the jobs are going to come from when the mass of new workers hits the labor market.

The economy is full of tags and pulls, and there are always competing forces at work.

What We See In Babies

THERE are all sorts of silly cartoons depicting the new father visiting the hospital and getting proudly through the glass for the first time at a "bundle of joy."

He is shown wigging his ears, rolling his eyes, or contorting his face, to catch the attention or to win a smile from the newborn.

The baby in the nursery is a withered-up, beet-red, famished little being incapable of seeing objects or recognising father and indeed capable only of crying, eating and sleeping to satisfy his natural instincts.

But we have yet to see the cartoonist who has successfully illustrated the thoughts that go through the mind of the father.

As he looks through the nursery window at his son or daughter a few hours old, what does he recognise in that wizened baby face?

Maybe he sees an image of a grown man or woman not unlike a Winston Churchill or a Florence Nightingale

Maybe he is looking at a world statesman, or a famous scientist, or a renowned inventor. Who knows?

Dreaming is half the fun of living. In the case of father, the cartoonist misses the best part.

Eliminate Fire Hazards

EACH year, more than 63,000 Canadian homes are damaged by fire — an average of 170 fires every day. Property loss is estimated at $28,000,000 according to the All Canada Insurance Federation.

Of the 400 Canadians who will die in residential fires each year, about half are children. Home fires can be prevented and the federation offers these precautions, especially applicable at this time of year

1. Remove matches and other inflammables from the pockets of garments before storing.

2. Clean out attics, basements, sheds, garages and other areas where rubbish may have accumulated.

3. Use non-inflammable fluids for cleaning floors and clothing. do not use gasoline or similar volatile fluids

4. Oily rags, or rags soaked in turpentine or other fluids should be destroyed or kept in sealed metal containers.

5. Chimneys and furnaces should be cleaned thoroughly.

The Human Animal

The human animal is a bundle of contradictions. The ants and the bees are in some ways far more intelligent and ingenious. they manage their government with far less quarrelling and wastefulness. The lion is more beautiful and more dignified. The [illegible] is swifter and more graceful. The gorilla is kinder to his children and more faithful to his wife. The horse and the ox are more industrious and more [illegible] than [illegible] don't matter.

As a piece of mechanism, man is about the worst of all. Authorities say he has the worst kidneys known to comparative zoology, and the worst lungs and the worst heart. He keeps a whole army of doctors and health clinics on the run to keep him in trim. Alone of all animals he is unfit by nature to go abroad in the world he inhabits. He must clothe himself, protect himself, armor himself. He is eternally in the condition of the turtle born without a shell.

Of all the animals he is least capable of arriving at accurate judgment in the matters that most desperately affect his welfare Other animals have intuition and they make use of their natural ingenuity, but man uses his ingenuity to construct murderous weapons like the H bomb

But on the other hand man has something that other animals do not possess, that is an imagination and a soul. These possessions have given him the first lift above his fellows. His imagination enabled him to visualize a condition of existence better than that he was experiencing and bit by bit he was able to give that picture a certain [illegible] reality. Today he keeps on going in the same manner. He thinks of something he would like to get, then mostly by the laborious method of trial and error, he gradually moves towards it. He mashes his thumb, he skins his shin, he stumbles and falls, but bit by bit he moves on.

Besides his imagination, he has a possession of unquestionable superiority. He has a soul. This is what sets him apart from all other animals and makes him their master.

Lloyd Montgomery, employed at the Lacombe Creamery for the last year and a half, enlists in the Royal Canadian Air Force and leaves in October to commence training at Edmonton.

LOSS NEAR VULCAN

The first reported case of livestock loss at the hand of either cattle rustlers or hunters has occurred in the Herronton district.

Norman Merkel, who farms north and east of the Carter River, lost an eight-month-old calf sometime late Monday afternoon, and the perpetrator is assumed to be either cattle rustlers out to take advantage of the heavy run of hunters on the road that day, or to "trigger-happy" hunters. There is some evidence to support both theories.

The calf had been killed and gutted on the spot and all but the entrails had been dragged 150 feet across the field, through a fence and onto a vehicle.

NEW HIGHWAY SET

Another winter works project that is good for all.

"EVIL GENIUS"

By George Bagby

This is a crime club selection, which boasts that it is always on target with the best in mystery fiction

I think the mood of a reader has a lot to do with his acceptance of a story, and I don't think I was in the right frame of mind for this one At any rate, to me it fell a little flat

The book opens fast with a murder an accomplished fact, and a teen-age girl lying her way out of a difficult situation. The events are unfolded through the eyes of a police assistant

The hero of the story is the improbable genius, and the evil nature of his life is gradually exposed as the police seek evidence which gives the book its title

I must confess the story is gripping enough to rivet the reader's attention. It's not a book you can throw aside in the middle and forget about, so from that standpoint it's compelling enough to be [illegible]

There is also a mildly surprising ending when the pieces fall into place and the "whodunit" is finally revealed

"Evil Genius" is a fairly short novel of under 200 pages. Most mystery fans will enjoy it

It's not on the "must read" list

PROJECTED GROWTH 5,000

A four per cent population increase per year is envisaged for Brooks, according to figures projected independently by the town's consulting engineers and Ray W Brinton, official of Southern Rural Planning Commission.

This would give the town a population of "around 6,000" in another 20 years, depending on normal influences

Hints for a Pleasant Decorating Release on choosing Floors.

Countertoppings, Walls, Ceilings

Floors, walls and ceilings are basic background elements in a decorating scheme They should provide a foundation for home furnishings They must subtly enhance these furnishings, but never seriously compete with them They may provide interest in color pattern and texture, but more primarily unite the furniture, draperies and accessories

Too many people do choose floor, counter and wall materials without any thought of what they hope to include in the way of upholstered furniture, drapes suite or draperies The importance of an overall plan cannot be overemphasized

When choosing a countertopping, consider how well it will match the floor finish, the finish of a new or existing tabletop and chair upholstery - consider how well it will enhance the material or painted cupboards you hope to include and above all consider whether it will blend well with the colors you hope to use throughout your home Decisions re kitchen materials must often be made early in the project and must be carefully considered The choice of red pearl topping can permanently spoil a scheme based on beige brown and pink orange or yellow

When choosing a countertopping for the living or dining area, question whether you will wish to repaint the same wood in [illegible] time and [illegible] cupboards is at both occasions by and aesthetically wise to use the same wood throughout a home the same countertopping in lieu for any type of scheme Don't choose a color or material because your neighbor has; nor to Decide whether it belongs with your home your family and your furnishings In other words, be an individual in your selection even if it requires more time spent on the overall planning

BEVERLY THIRSK

Kelsey, Alberta

A muffled cry for help interrupted the quiet of the hot summer's day. Six-year-old Beverly had been playing with her dolls. She had not seen her two-year-old brother for a few minutes.

Now, the cry for help sent her rushing in the direction of the pumphouse. When she went in the door she saw her little brother lying unconscious on a mat beside the pump.

With great presence of mind, Beverly ran to the motor . . . turned off the switch and ran into the house for help.

Later, after the doctor had arrived the story was pieced together. When the little boy had gone into the pumphouse for a drink of water, he had climbed up to turn the motor on. He slipped and fell — touched the motor and received an electrical shock due to faulty wiring.

The little boy has fully recovered and all was well. But Mr. and Mrs. James Thirsk are truly thankful for their small daughter's quick action.

Canadian Industry More Diversified

In considering the patterns of upward change and climate Canada's future trade, it is suggested that we overlook the welcome growth in Canadian industry of recent years, according to the Bank of Montreal's Business Review for October, just issued.

Thus, any traditional view that Canada's economy depends largely on the production of primary products and on the export of food and industrial materials in a relatively unprocessed form is no longer accurate, the bank says.

Certainly, "Canada's natural resources remain, and will continue to be, the foundations of our wealth," the review continues.

"However, the possibilities for promoting healthy and sustained economic growth, and for adapting commercial policy to the new international environment, have been enormously enhanced by substantial growth and diversification of the industrial base."

Up 70 Per Cent

Measured by the industrial production index—which records changes in volume—which covers Canada's total industrial output showed an overall increase of about 73 per cent between 1946 and 1961, the bank says, although annual rates have varied widely from year to year.

Dear Editor . . . "I Would Like To Win a Bell"

A small boy, reminiscent Hagger- way who shall remain nameless for obvious reasons writes to The Globe as follows:

"I would like to [illegible] a subscription book to win a [illegible] little stoner for her Christmas present.

"I got a wagon the first year and a teddy bear last year. I would like to sell some more. Please send it to

Here's another youngster who knows how easy it is to win a beautiful 23-inch walking doll from Beyer Hardware.

All a boy or girl has to do is sell nine yearly subscriptions.

Lest We Forget: Over 700 at Service

Remembrance day, 1962, brought out the largest crowd ever to attend the annual Canadian Legion-sponsored service to pay tribute to the dead of two wars.

A crowd of more than 700 took part in the special services inside the memorial centre and witnessed the placing of wreaths on the cenotaph in the Lest-We-Forget Park.

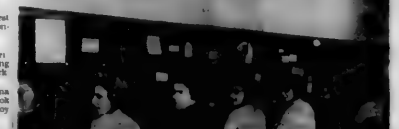
In a Remembrance day message, Rev. H. Bajema stressed that "on this day we look back, but we also look up . . . to thank God for the freedoms which we still enjoy today."

He also invited his audience to look ahead to the grim threats of an atomic wasteland. He stressed the need for [illegible] and redoubled efforts and pressed on the world reign of John the Baptist to maintain our hope with faith in God.

Others taking part in the service were Rev. K. M. Collison, Rev. F. Stryker, Rev. A. G. B. Liddell. Music for the hymns was played by the Lacombe high school band and the bugle calls by Lloyd Fisher.

Canadian Legion members attended the service in a body, parading from the Legion hall to the memorial centre. Other groups marching with the veterans were members of the Legion ladies' auxiliary, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Brownies, Cubs, Lacombe cadets and the reserve army unit.

Following the memorial centre service, wreaths were laid on the cenotaph by the town of Lacombe, and local service clubs and organizations.



Goodbye to Hello Girls

At The Town Council Meeting

To Gravel Streets Before Freeze-Up

A lot of gravel needs to be hauled in and placed on town streets before the snow flies, stressed councillor Pete Miller at the town council meeting Monday night.

The few public works committee chairmen gave a run-down on a number of thoroughfares he considers in need of gravel: 50 street between Twelve gravel at Wainwright on Wednesday, Oct. 31, 1962.

Deceased was born in Markdale Ont. on Nov. 4, 1886, and moved west in 1916 to Wainwright where he married Doug Eamer. Larson, later moving to Mirror and Alta where he farmed for 13 years.

He returned to Wainwright to work in the army camp.

He leaves to mourn his wife Daisy, one daughter, Sylvia; five grandchildren, and three brothers, Cecil, Ramee and Fred.

The last-mentioned thoroughfare is located in a new housing development south of the hospital and he named the opinion of council when it would be necessary to remove the clay and black dirt before covering the road with gravel.

"Most definitely yes," affirmed councillor Wes Jackson, who is also chairman of the public works committee.

Councillor Art Keeton of Alix said the result is a "big improvement" in reducing a school bus hazard.

He thought that snow would remove the dust threat soon anyway but suggested that the committee consider the matter and the problem in lots of time for next year.

Proposed Sub-Divisions

Council approved three different proposed plans for sub-divisions.

The first proposed subdivision is located on the north side of 48 street between 50 and 51 streets. It was approved subject to the usual conditions of water and sewer being supplied by the developer, to a surrender of some land for park reserve, and to proper grade levels being established.

Councillor Mike Evelish submitted a plan for sewer line recommended by the engineers on the Pagan property running south [illegible] 48 street.

Library Changes

Councillor Ivan Bonenberger reported that the [illegible] have been held recently over the [illegible] division of the Lacombe library when the new school opens, probably next January.

He said that reference books and other suitable student material would be moved to the new school library, leaving the public library in the LMC with a smaller stock.

Suggested hours of opening for the public library are Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, both afternoon and evening, he added.

Police Report

Police report for the month of October noted a decrease in the number of juvenile drinking cases. Complaints received and investigated, approximately 90, total fines due to the town for the month, $1,265 total fines due for the 10 months, $6,000.

Miscellaneous

● Board of trade letter requesting the town to take over erection of downtown street Christmas lighting was referred to committee.

● Lease with the CPR of property used for parking purposes was renewed for 2000 for the coming year.

● Councillor Len Hattle suggested that land south of the hospital which has been purchased by the town for the proposed chronic hospital be seeded down to grass as it doesn't become a "weed patch".

● Councillor Saunders kept quiet on what is in direct dealing it was be necessary to "seal off" the playing at junior stadium from the public to prevent unauthorized persons from [illegible] the [illegible]

Fire Outbreak on Flewelling Farm Proves Costly

About 600 bales of straw were [illegible] destroyed on a trailer being pulled behind a tractor, when a flat tire rubbing against the side of a wagon started a fire.

The driver attempted to bend the [illegible] the safety of a nearby [illegible] but on the way the flaming bales upset between fence rail panels.

Lacombe fire department was called. A couple of grass fires were [illegible] but the contents of oats and barley were undamaged.

Pool Trouble Solved . . . Yes or No?

Level of the pool has sunk another "three or four inches" since Ivan Frewer, swimming instructor, and other Ivan Bonenberger who was reporting to town council at the meeting Monday night.

He intends to notify the contractor to have the trouble cleared up.

Last of the problems connected with the "swimming" of the new Lacombe and district swimming pool, were ironed out last week when the cause of escaping water was discovered.

The [illegible] concern since the official closing of the pool in September because the water was [illegible] apparent reason and this isn't Gul! Lake !

Swimming pool contractor Ken Nyhus of Camrose made a special trip to Lacombe last week and discovered the trouble with town fathers on Orville Saunders' rock lodged in a [illegible] held valve was allowing water to escape.

Rail Crossing Improved Near Satinwood School

County road machinery was used to remove high banks and improve visibility on either side of a CNR crossing used by school buses east of Satinwood school, chairman Bill Lee reported at a county meeting last Monday.

County authorities were in touch with rail officials, following complaints about the dangerous crossing from a delegation of mothers at the October meeting of the county school committee.

Because of the urgency in completing the job before freeze-up, CNR officials gave approval to the county to proceed with grading week immediately.

IT HAPPENED IN LACOMBE

Struck by Car

● Mrs. E. L. Seeger suffered a broken wrist, according to Lacombe police, after being struck by a car while walking across 50 street last Thursday.

There was a dust storm blowing at the time, and due to the poor visibility Mrs. Seeger started to cross the road without noticing the approaching vehicle.

The driver is reported to have stopped to see if Mrs. Seeger was all right after the scene after being assured she was okay.

Expect December Opening For New Bowling Alley

New six-lane bowling alley on 50 street in Lacombe will be "open for business" in early December, according to word from Wally Bowe of Calgary, who will be moving here as local manager.

Mr Bowe informed The Globe that only a two-week waiting period is required from the time the cement floor was poured (last week) until installation of the alleys can proceed if the [illegible] Pedersen block premises.

He explained that the alleys will arrive from the city pre-built, and that they can be installed with other equipment including automatic pin-setting machinery within two more weeks.

Mr Bowe will be taking up residence in Lacombe with his wife and family after December 1.

The Weather

Winter will be over in about four months, according to the calendar.

The outlook is for colder weather, but in the meantime local residents have enjoyed three above-average temperatures during the week as supplied by the unprofessional farm weather bureau:

Bandplayers from Lacombe, Rimbey, Erlville, Condor, Benalto and surrounding districts practice at the Bentley school gym each Thursday evening, and visitors are welcome to join them at any time. Players are from grade nine up, and include several grandparents.

The annual meeting was held after practice week. Officers elected for the coming year are President Garnett Gardiner, Condor, vice-president Wally Neuphill secretary Annette McKinnon, treasurer Mrs. Bill Wilton, librarian Sam Wetzel, and publicity Mrs. Louis Cabelka all of Bentley.

The treasurer's report showed a good balance on hand, earned during the summer when the group played at many fairs, parades and rodeos. As a result, the monthly fee will be discontinued.

The band is now working on a concert to be held at a later date

Garden Club Meets

A successful evening was reviewed at the annual meeting of the Lacombe district garden club held at the Lacombe memorial centre last Thursday evening.

Financial statement was presented by Mrs. H Duncan, and showed a small surplus on the year's operations. Total receipts for the year were $416 15 total expenses, $412 72

Mrs Duncan pointed out that for the first time, the club gave cash prizes at the annual flower show, and in spite of this, a profit of $1.32 was realized on the item.

Don Dew, club president, reported on the club's activities during the year, approximately 60 lots of garden seed were distributed for children's garden competitions, under the chairmanship of C. S. Young. 100 spruce seedlings were distributed to grade three students at the Lacombe and Elizabeth schools to promote interest among children in the planting of trees

"It is hoped to continue this program in future years," he added

Mr. Dew also pointed out that most of the children's gardens entered for competitions reached the judging stage, an achievement for which he congratulated Mr Young and his committee

The "Prairie Garden" an annual published in Winnipeg, was sold at cost to members. He referred to the useful information which appears in this publication, written as it is by prairie writers for prairie conditions

The flower show, Mr Dew concluded, "was the highlight of the year, and was most successful in all respects." He reported that there were over 600 entries by 85 exhibitors, which provided colorful systematic display viewed by a large crowd

Executive members for the coming year were elected as follows president Don Dew, vice president Jim Asher secretary Mrs Frank Aspinall, treasurer Mrs H Duncan, director Mrs Jack Martin, Lloyd Stewart, G Wynn and Mrs A Kreid

The evening was closed with an enjoyable series of slides and commentary by Mr and Mrs Don Eli Berube, following which coffee was served.

Lincoln Sports Club Sponsors 'Teen Hop' Next Friday Night

(Reporter, Hazel Street)

Halloween has come and gone for another year, and the party held in the Lincoln hall by the sports club was a success. Many little ones from all surrounding districts came dressed in their costumes.

Prizes were given which was a hard job for the judges, as they all looked like winners. After there were many games and treats handed out to young and old. From there, a few went out "trick or treating"

This Friday, Nov. 16, is the big night for all 'teen-agers. They are having the "'teen hop" dance sponsored by the Lincoln sports club with the Tornadoes from Red Deer supplying the music. Of course, this doesn't restrict any of you older ones from trying to twist with them. So, come, one and all!

Election Oddities

PECULIAR circumstances some times arise out of a vote of the people, and the autumn civic elections in Alberta were no exception.

At Clive, for example, two candidates contesting a single hospital board seat received the same number of votes. It was therefore up to the returning officer to cast the deciding ballot in order to break the tie — and we imagine no returning officer in any election likes to be put in this awkward position. This is one time when there is no such thing as a "secret ballot".

There we notice there has been an illegality declared in the election at Innisfail, and another election called for December 12.

The returning officer there apparently made the mistake of ordering the printing of only 600 ballots, despite the fact over 1,000 were eligible to vote.

He based his calculations quite reasonably on past performances, but he didn't reckon with a large number of candidates for mayor and council and the consequent greater interest of the electors.

The outcome was that all 600 ballots were marked, and while voters still poured in, the polls were closed for 15 minutes to prepare 100 more hand-written ballots.

The whole affair was unfortunate but it shows some of the oddities that do crop up at election time. Of course the most unpredictable thing of all is the result of the vote itself.

Long Week Ends

A BENTLEYISM in the house of commons is not considered a mealtime snack by members themselves, but it is perplexing to the public.

An arbitrary count of MP's made from the press gallery in parliament one day last week showed 113 vacant seats out of the 265.

A few members were absent because they were serving on parliamentary committees or attending parliamentary meetings elsewhere. The only other legitimate excuse for non-appearance is sickness, and it is hard to imagine such a plague of illness sweeping parliament hill all at the same time.

People of Canada have been hoping for better things this session, when with a minority government clinging to power and so many critical issues facing a divided house. One would think all political parties would have the maximum number of supporters present at all times, but apparently dull house debates don't inspire attendance. It is only for important house votes that the party whips go to work.

Parliamentary observers have a name for perennial absentees, most of whom live conveniently close to Ottawa to take long week ends at home. They are members of the so-called T-to-T club, attending parliament from Tuesday to Thursday — then spending the week end at home.

Most Canadians with an eye to the country's well-being would prefer it if these distinguished gentlemen would change the name of their club to M-to-S. Monday to Saturday is a normal work week for most of us.

It shouldn't be asking too much of all our elected representatives to spend the same amount of time on the important job of running the affairs of the country.

Banff, The Beautiful

CANADA's 17 national parks were more popular than ever this year, according to registration figures released by the department of northern affairs.

Banff again topped the list, and for the first time in a decade season surpassed the million-mark in visitors.

Influence of the opening of the new Bagot's Pass highway is again evident in attendance figures. Number of tourists at Revelstoke increased six times, from 52,000 last year to 336,000 this season. Glacier's attendance of over 350,000 was higher than the combined attendance of the last fifty years.

The importance of the new highway completing the Trans-Canada route will be more pronounced next year, since the road was not open to traffic until well on in the summer of 1962.

It is significant that Banff still attracts more tourists than any other national park, despite the fact the greatest centres of population are in Ontario and Quebec. It proves that Alberta's scenery is second to none across our wide dominion.

Moral Victory

FAITH in the moral attitude of the American people was confirmed in last week's U.S. election, because of the return to office of governor Robert Smylie in Idaho.

His opponent was democrat Vernon Smith. Personalities, however, have nothing to do with the case. It was what each stood for that made the election important.

Mr. Smith built his platform on wholesale legalized gambling in the state.

He said his plan would bring more tourists to Idaho and result in expansion of resort areas. He constantly pointed in his campaign to neighboring Nevada and the growth and outward prosperity of casino centres like Las Vegas.

Mr. Smylie said that "gambling breeds crime," and pointed out that Idaho had the lowest crime rate of 11 western states, and Nevada the highest — nearly three times as great.

Mr. Smylie promised sound and sensible government to meet the challenges ahead.

It is easy to yield to our baser incitations, and most of us have gambling instincts. Governments collect good revenue from legalized gambling houses that helps to lower taxes. However, a gradual decay of moral and economic values also sets in.

Idaho voters can be proud that they elected the candidate who championed the right program for the good of the people.

Sylvan Lake is Growing

Building permits issued to date this year total $672,800, the greatest total value of new construction for any one year in the history of Sylvan Lake. Of this amount $236,500 is accounted for by 24 new dwellings.

The biggest single project is the new school valued at $346,000. This amount will not appear on the town assessment roll as school buildings are not taxable. Also exempt will be the new Presbyterian church hall issued at $51,000. The new telephone building valued at $14,000 will be taxable.

There will be a substantial gain in tax revenues to the town in 1963 from the $395,800 in dwellings and other construction. This new construction is healthy growth for the town because it does not add substantially to the cost of services provided by the town. This fact was borne out recently by the gas rate reduction granted the town by Northwestern Utilities Limited.

Another indication of the growth of the town's population is the fact that rental accommodation is very scarce. Houses and suites are in good demand and house trailers are very popular and numerous in town.

In the spring of this year a population count showed that 1,486 people were living here. It would not be an exaggeration to place the town's population now at over 1,600.

NEW CITY HALL

Another major step was taken by city council Monday evening for the construction of a new city hall here, with council unanimously agreeing to award a building contract providing the total overall cost can be kept under $861,000 and providing suitable arrangements can be made with the contractors.

Council fixed that amount as the limit for the final overall cost after having informed that more than $200,000 could be slashed from the lowest construction tender received on October 17 for the project.

"LIMS AS WE SO"

Gracie Fields Autobiography

The English girl with the beautiful singing voice brought up wound the mill factories in Lancashire tells her life story.

The book is full of good humor, reflecting the character of the author.

She describes the happy family life in Lancashire when she was growing up and uses typical Lancashire language to do it. Such as: "Ah'll bet thee said Dad, ah've got bigger pens than that."

And again: "When I was seven Dad got a rise, one-and-a-tanner . . . this was the first stage of Mother's 'going out', we had three rooms instead of two."

It was her mother's ambition to make Grace a singing idol that moved her up the success ladder fast — perhaps too fast in Grace's mind.

"I had never been educated to meet the situation they call fame, either at school, or by life, and it got me in a right proper muddle for a bit."

Grace's mother was born into the mid-class and married a mill operative but her daughter's career as a singing singing career She appeared before packed houses and before royalty with equal poise Some of her most memorable moments were spent at impromptu sing-songs among troops in the second world war.

She made many times household favorites like "Wish Me Luck," "Sally", and "There'll Always Be an England."

She did not enjoy the same success in her private life, but is now living happily in retirement with her third husband in Capri, an island just off the coast of Italy

Old English Paper Printed For 262 Years

First published in 1690 as the Worcester Postman, printed successively from 1709, Berrow's Worcester Journal has appeared during the reigns of thirteen British sovereigns and today is held to be the oldest weekly newspaper in the world.

Like many a contemporary this venerable weekly misses out in items in readers with news of another day selected items on files. Unlike most of them it can go on for both history on four hundred years.

Yesterday morning Joseph Walby for robbing Monsieur de Beaun and Baptiste William Dupuy for robbing R. Dobbinson, esq., on the highway, John Brett for forgery, and Charles Spruce for robbing his master, were executed at Tyburn. All behaved with great decency.

David Morgan, who was convicted with Dupuy of the aforesaid robbery, received a reprieve under the gallows, just as the executioner was going to fix the halter about his neck, and was carried away in a coach to Newgate; he fainted away through the surprise at first receiving the joyful news.

The rising of the water in the Worcester canal, preponderated in the upper level, and we learn, that the chain of the conductor belonging to the lifting machine (erected on the canal at Tardebigg) was thrown from the wheels, and the conductor was, in consequence, broke through the middle, but we are happy to hear that the estimated damage is not more than 50 pounds.

The whole British cavalry are to wear a new kind of helmet for the protection of the head, and to be commanded on stables so invented as to render it responsible for the back of the horse to be galled by them.

Yesterday arrived German papers to the 19th, and French to the 23rd. The former contain little of importance. It is expected at Milan, while the latter announce his departure from Paris to visit Cherbourg, and other places on the coast.

The motor-car of the Countess of Dudley became jammed to-day between two tramcars There was a bump, people jumped, the dimster, and her ladyship was both shaken and bruised as a result of the accident.

Clive Correspondent Approves Lacombe Protest to C.P.R.

CLIVE — It is gratifying to read that Lacombe plans on trying to eliminate some of the inconveniences of the CPR. The long, long trains at the main crossing cause unnecessary delay and at times could be serious especially to anyone being rushed to hospital or doctor.

Then again, a train is always at the crossing in the evening about 6:45 Anyone coming from east of Lacombe to visit sick relatives and friends in Lacombe hospital lose many precious minutes of visiting time by having to wait for a train to get underway again

Phone Support, Too

Another encouraging factor is the backing of Lacombe of the extended phone service between Clive and Lacombe, to do away with cost and delay of long distance calls Clive has to call on Lacombe doctors lawyers repairmen, hospital, druggists, for all the services which Clive cannot supply

Added to these are dentists, optometrists, appliance stores and furniture store, and it would be interesting to learn just how many times the phone rings for Lacombe services during one day

With the first signs of winter weather many mothers will, good intentions make room in their budgets for vitamin supplements. Have you family really need these food preparations?

Any diet which is selected on the basis of Canada's food guide will provide a substantial amount of the necessary vitamins. Vitamin pills and other forms of concentration are not necessary in the diets of healthy persons.

The consumer's association of Canada looking into this problem, found that one hundred nutritionist was most vehement in his denunciation of the taking of any vitamin preparations unless prescribed by a doctor in his opinion [illegible] were the most dangerous. [illegible] preparations were only exacts the manufacturer or enrich the owners and the salesman, too.

Don't forget [illegible] of the sales pitch of many vitamin salesmen may affect you psychologically if this talk makes you feel you need something to give you more pep, telephone your doctor and tell him how you feel. Don't buy any preparation without his advice.

These preparations may contain certain vitamins and materials which can mask the symptoms of diseases which require diagnosis and treatment. In other words, by taking these preparations you may make the way [illegible] for your doctor and delay [illegible] treatment you may need.

Shotgun Vitamin Formulas usually expensive and including numerous ingredients.

Loaded Formulas — high-potency preparations. When taken without specific medical prescription, they are a waste of money and may be toxic.

Natural or organic foods — are those produced without the aid of chemical fertilizers, pesticides, etc. The foods are usually wholesome, although it may sometimes be doubted that they have been grown under the conditions claimed for them. They are expensive sources of nutrients readily available from any good diet.

Miracle foods — certain supplements or foods represented as cures.

Reducing products — drugs and food supplements. Drugs for reducing the appetite should be used only under a doctor's guidance. Food supplements are of no value in weight loss or in curbing the appetite.

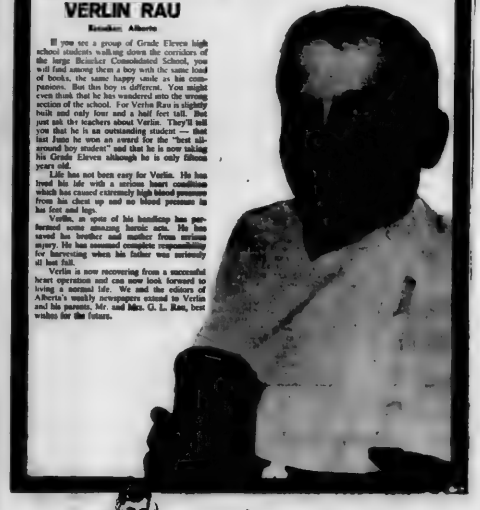
Junior Citizen Award Winner
VERLIN RAU
Ponoka, Alberta

If you see a group of Grade Eleven high school students walking down the corridors of the large Ponoka Consolidated School, you will find among them a boy with the same load of books, the same happy smile as his companions. But this boy is different. You might even think that he has wandered into the wrong section of the school. For Verlin Rau is slightly built and only four and a half feet tall. But just ask the teachers about Verlin. They'll tell you that he is an outstanding student — that last June he received the award for "all-around boy student" and that he is now taking his Grade Eleven although he is only fifteen years old.

Life has not been easy for Verlin. He has lived his life with a serious heart condition which has caused extremely high blood pressure from his chest up and no blood pressure in his feet and legs.

Verlin, in spite of his handicap has performed many amazing feats. He has saved his brother and mother from serious injury. He has assumed complete responsibility for harvesting when his father was seriously ill last fall.

Verlin is now recovering from a successful heart operation and can now look forward to living a normal life. We and the editors of Alberta's weekly newspapers extend to Verlin and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Rau, best wishes for the future.



The 1961-1962 Junior Citizen Award winners, Calgary Power Ltd. gratefully acknowledge the active participation of Alberta's weekly newspaper editors, whose enthusiasm has done so much to make the Alberta Junior Citizen program possible. For this winner our sponsor thanks go to Mr. and Mrs. G. Rauhouse who nominated Verlin for the award.

Baby Bonus Can Help to Buy College Education

Most parents are only too well aware that it takes a good deal more than brains for a boy or girl to go to college. That's why far-sighted mothers and fathers who want to give their children the best possible in life plan far in advance for the rising costs of higher education.

For many Canadian parents, the monthly family allowance cheque provides an opportunity to lay the groundwork of a savings program designed to cover the costs of higher education for their children.

Family allowance cheques for one child, if deposited in a B of M savings account until the age of 18, will total more than $1,080, including interest the bank pays. It's a tidy sum toward a college career

If you're in doubt as to what it might cost in the long run to send your boy or girl to college, why not drop in at the Lacombe branch of the Bank of Montreal. Fred Pannister, the manager will be glad to discuss a typical education savings program with you, and adapt it to the special requirements of your youngster

SportsTalk . . . From here and there

It is good to see Lacombe high school graduates faring well in more sophisticated company. Word reached us Jon Lovsen is dad Blue Bombers starry wilted senior last year, has managed to carve a niche for himself on the University of Alberta Golden Bears basketball team. It isn't too often that a varsity freshman can make the jump into such lead company. Then there's Don Cruikshank, who has made the University frosh squad.

Across our desk has passed a note that a basketball exercise and players alone will be held at Red Deer on Saturday December 1 starting at noon on the morning Who's the star performer at this clinic? None other than Pete Bamford, two-time holdover with the University of Alberta Golden Bears, president of the U of A physical education society, and a graduate of the Lacombe high school. Also on hand will be Vhet Chur Drake et al from the university provided to perform such upon Lacombe with paternal care.

Don't be surprised if the Lacombe Rockets declare themselves on Allen Cup contenders before the end of the current hockey season. The Rockets have been squandered verbally by some Alberta and four hockey executives officials to have a go at senior "A" competition during the playoffs. Last term from the league to try the jump was the Red Deer Rebels squad. The Rebs bowed out in the first round of memory serves right. the Red Deer squad was side-lined, but not disgraced, by Winnipeg Maroons.

The fact that the Olds Elks knocked off the Olympic-bound Trail Smokies would indicate that the CAHL plays a calibre of hockey worth in far above the normal intermediate "A" league. It will be interesting to see whether it's good enough for senior "A" competition played here on 1962. Definite decision on the matter is expected soon, but odds are heavily in favor of the Rockets going Allen Cup-wise as into senior Calgary Addresses-Hustlers of Calgary are also expected to contact Dominion for the same purpose, which certainly won't keep coach Art Park awake with extra concern

Still with the Rockets . . . Rich Stanley, who has joined the lucrative brigade, was a standout with the Sedbury Wolves of the OHA last year. He scored 179 points, is 26 years old, married, has two children, and is looking forward to bringing the Rockets to another title this year. This dope comes from Rocket publicity chairman Alex Mackenzie.

Another Rocket note: Seems that George Townsend, ex-Penoka Bantam star and utility man with the Rockets last year, might have Lacombe shortly George, working in Edmonton, wants more ice time than he gets as utility man, and might just wind up playing with one of the commercial teams in the city There's the hard feelings just desire to do more than he's called upon here.

Rockets Lose 3-2 to Olds

Lacombe Rockets failed to snatch a third period reunion to Rock Crawford of Olds and suffer their first defeat of the season [illegible] stadium here Saturday night. The scoreboard read Olds 3 Lacombe 2

Close to 800 fans were on hand to see the two teams swap single-loss goals in each of the first and second periods Norwood put the Elks ahead at the 2:05 mark of the first period only to have Ed Remus tie it up at 13:16 of the same period. Olds had to be stopped a goalie from the point

McAvoy scored a pass from former Rocket Murray Dan in the second stanza to put the Elks ahead 2 [illegible] got back a nine seconds [illegible] clapped [illegible] Bobby Cox at [illegible]

Lacombe Mountie Finds Life Endangered By Vancouver Gang

Special to The Globe from Emma Holt, Vancouver Bun

Ed. Note: Jack MacDonald, a Lacombe high school graduate turned Mountie, has become quite a hero on the west coast. He was commended by Mr. Justice Harold Mollmer, at the end of the trial for being most courageous and competent in gathering evidence.

Cpl. JACK MacDONALD

Lincoln Sports Club Sponsors Enjoyable 'Teen-Age Hop

(Reporter, Hazel Street)

The 'teen hop in Lancoln last Friday was a success and "'teen agers" from all over reported a good time.

Those on the lunch committee are: Lawrence Deal, Richard Street and Claud Unwin for sandwiches; Ronnie Spink, Nancy Kinley, cake, Bert Saunders, cream.

VANCOUVER The Mounted Policemen son of Lacombe resident Morrison MacDonald became the centre of a bizarre underworld plot, more like a scene from "The Untouchables", than a Canadian police investigation.

Police were tipped there was a contract to murder 23-year-old Cpl. Jack MacDonald before he could give evidence against the alleged "Mr Big" in Canada's (gin) drug racket.

The plot to kill MacDonald the witness in the now famous west coast Wigwam Inn-heiress case came three days after he completed from an [illegible] world tour of [illegible] into the normal position of good member of the RCMP.

The man believed to have been involved in the drug traffic at the court for 10 years Bill Fat-Robertson, and a Vancouver law ver were arrested July 20 and charged with bribery of a peace officer [illegible]

Evidence in the Wigwam trial case they gave MacDonald a $1,000 plus a "hammer" unloadable [illegible] guns, the receivers of which were ground to make it impossible to trace.

From the first day he was approached, on May 22, to turn "crooked cop" he notified senior officers from then on. Teams of police followed him everywhere, both to guard him and to obtain corroborative evidence.

Then at 12:05 a.m. July 29 MacDonald was second man in Wigwam Inn in the huge raid from the sea on the casino-boating establishment.

Within three days after Robertson and Myers realized MacDonald never went along with the scheme, an undeviated meeting was held. Four attended in raiding two men well known to Vancouver as hired gunmen.

But as the preliminary trial date neared and MacDonald was still alive to testify that he received the bribes, two new "guns" appeared from eastern Canada Police and underworld whispered about them as "The Frenchmen"

Here the whole story can be told as the final chapter of the Wigwam Inn bribery case closed Wednesday, Myers and Robertson, sent [illegible] to penitentiary for [illegible] years, [illegible] Vancouver lawyer was [illegible] right to appeal.

Advancement in Field of Varnishes

Polyurethene and Epoxy varnishes are an advancement in the field of painting. They come in colors, as a clear (gloss, semi-gloss or matt) finish.

Epoxies are much more difficult to apply than polyurethenes as they have a very limited pot life. Pot life means they have to be used immediately after they are mixed and opened. They cannot be saved and used again.

Epoxies are used in areas where strong chemicals, acids, etc., affect the surface. They are about twice as expensive as a polyurethene, therefore, for household use it is usually wisest to use polyurethene.

Polyurethene is more expensive than the best spar varnish too. However, in application two coats of varnish equal about one coat of polyurethene and so they are about equal in cost when you consider the labor as well.

READ THE LABEL ... this is the most important part of the application. In the label ... points, one can tell not only how to build as well as it about one quarter as well. Do ... the ... the surface is very important in polyurethenes

Always apply the required number of coats consecutively not 6 months apart

CAUTION Polyurethene contains cyanide. therefore it should be kept out of reach

Manufacturers ... polyurethene for exterior use they should last about twice as long as spar varnish, if directions are properly followed.

The south and eastern exposure always show more paint troubles than do the west and north sides Alberta is one ... the worst areas in north ... for clear exterior finishes ... our atmosphere ...

Interior Use

A further ... is the ... of the pigmented polyurethene and epoxy paint stand up very well also For exterior use it is the pigment in paint which keeps the sun from deteriorating the surface as quickly

YOU HAVE A HAND IN THINGS CANADIAN when you own Life Insurance

Surprising? Yes—but true. Like most people, you have probably thought of your life insurance—as protection for your family—as a good way to save money regularly—as a valuable collateral if you need a loan for an emergency—as a retirement plan for you later on.

Actually, your life insurance dollars are more than an investment in your personal security and your family's. These dollars are also an investment in Canada. They stimulate growth and progress and help make this country a better place in which to live and work.

At this moment, 9 BILLION DOLLARS of life insurance savings are invested in important Canadian enterprises—through the purchase of bonds and stocks and through mortgages.

These hard-working dollars are helping to finance great projects all over this country such as pipelines, shopping centres, bridges and highways, homes, apartment and office buildings, schools, factories, industrial plants and power developments. These investments create employment opportunities, too.

The income from these investments benefits you directly by reducing the cost of life insurance to you and the 9 million other Canadian policyowners.

Alberta Junior Citizen Award Winner

JACK PLECKAITIS
9840 162nd St. Jasper Place, Alberta

Brown ... warm summer days ... Jack ... year-old Jack Pleckaitis and some friends were having a day's outing at Lake ... Resort on Cooking Lake, east of Edmonton.

The boys were having a wonderful time. The game of baseball had been fast and furious. They decided to cool off and go wading in the lake.

The lake was very shallow and the cool water made the children about waist deep. One of the children, Margaret Barron, started screaming, but the cries were mistaken for the normal noise of just having fun.

Margaret had fallen into a hole which had been trenched out for boats to come into dock. The warning signs had been blown down by a high wind.

Our alert young Jack suddenly realized Margaret's predicament and dove into the water to rescue her. His quick action was worthy of special notice because Jack had just learned to swim himself a few months before and was anything but sure of himself in the ...

The editors of Alberta's weekly newspapers join with us in congratulating Jack and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Pleckaitis, and extend best wishes to them.

This is one of six announcements about the 1962-1963 Junior Citizen Award winners. Calgary Power Ltd. gratefully acknowledge the active participation of Alberta's weekly newspaper editors whose enthusiasm has done so much to make the Alberta Junior Citizen program possible. For this winner our special thanks go to Mr D H McLeod Publisher of the Jasper Place Suburban Times and to Mr H E Shacker Principal of the Britannia Junior High School in Jasper Place who nominated Jack for the award.

Council Lays Down Tentative Borrowing Needs for 1963

Council gave some tentative approval to proposed projects the town might embark on in 1963 when it gave tentative final a sum of up to $46,000 might be borrowed from the Alberta municipal finance corporation.

Municipal buildings to workshop, $18,000 hard-surfacing streets, $20,000, road machinery $8,000

Many Reports

This and other business was conducted by town council in session Monday night with all members present except councillor Wes Jackson.

Councilor Wilf Hunt stated his committee had met with Arnold Bruns and Vic Popow to clarify the town planning commission's recommendation that the land they propose to subdivide be surveyed and engineered by levelling.

The town is going ahead with the layout of the streets on the understanding that the streets are being provided.

Councilor Hunt also reported that final disposition of land south of the hospital is being held up since he has learned that "some farm" is trying to buy a block of land "for a housing development I believe."

Gravel Problem

Do you gravel streets gradually as a winter project, and keep extra crews employed without lay-offs?

Or do you hire other laborers and outside trucks to haul gravel quickly and put the streets in good shape before winter snows?

That is the question facing councillor Nels Miller and his public works department, and the answers are left squarely in their lap keeping in mind the possibility of receiving federal government assistance under "winter works."

Councillor Miller acknowledged that there was "a lot of gravel to haul and a lot of work to do."

He also commented on the removal of black dirt from 46 avenue as the new housing area south of town, where digging is deep to get below the 14-inch frost level. "It's deeper than we expected to go," said councillor Miller.

"It's not too deep because we need a good gravel job there," stated councillor Leo Hertz.

To Divide Library

Councillor Ivan Stonebrocker reported that some school books and reference books will be moved from library quarters in the LMC when the new building opens. It was decided to get estimates on dividing wall at the library.

The south part, about 35 feet would continue as a library unless librarians on the office would be necessary and new quarters for two are at hand.

A committee from council had met with Lacombe garden club officials in regard to a tree planting program on town boulevards in 1963. A representative from the parks department in Edmonton will be invited to a meeting next January to give advice and information.

"What boulevards?" councillor Hunt wanted to know, referring to the removal of boulevards in the street-widening program on 50 avenue

Councillor Ivan Stonebrocker said there are a number of boulevards still in town, one of the widest being on 49 avenue west of the C & E trail

One Delegation

George Nesa of Red Deer, formerly of Lacombe, attended the meeting along with Andy and Ralph Brunsons to get the reaction of council to the sale of some commercial property east of the tracks.

The Brunsons brothers said they intended to operate a wholesale and retail business from two lots, building six underground gas storage tanks.

To Widen Highway

Secretary Fran Lacey reported that councillor Wes Jackson estimated the cost at $500 to purchase 16 feet strips of land from property owners on the south side of No. 12 highway, as the west town limits, to widen the road.

He thought this expenditure would include the survey and registration of land title.

Lacombe and district residents are proud of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kamps and family and plan to honor the master farm winners at a special banquet Friday night at 7:00 under the auspices of the Spring Creek FUA and the Lacombe board of trade.

The banquet and program of events will look after all the arrangements with the [illegible] of agriculture, Hon Dave Strom as guest speaker.

Albert Kamps came to Canada 7 years ago from Holland, and has built up a wonderful dairy farm with the helping hand of his family.

They have a family of six, two daughters Mae and Grace, and four sons Henry Bill, Edward and Donald.

All are interested in agriculture and the family is richly deserving of the "master farm" award announced by the provincial government last month.

Tickets for the banquet event are available from members of the Spruceville FUA or board of trade. Plan to attend

Lacombe Fire Brigade Seeks More Volunteers

Lacombe fire department is in need of volunteers

Fire chief Colin Dalzell advises that the strength of the fire volunteer brigade has sunk to 14 members, with the resignation of Marv Leiske and Art Park due to pressure of business. "Shorty" Todd who has moved to Wetaskiwin and Frank Charlton whose business out of town prevents his attendance

For the first time in many years, there is no waiting list of persons wanting to join the fire unit. Personal contact has failed to uncover any volunteers

Chief Dalzell says the situation is serious because a brigade under the minimum strength of 18 members provides inadequate protection in the event of a large fire

Winter Best Time to Make Indoor Improvements

You can save yourself much time and trouble," says Fred Plamondon manager of the Lacombe branch of the Bank of Montreal "by having your indoor improvements done in the winter when building tradesmen are not tied up on outdoor construction.

And it's often more economical, too," continues Mr. Pamenter "to have all those repairs and improvements done at once.

Of course, there's always the chance that you haven't the ready cash to make those repairs and improvements now. If that's your problem, drop in at the B of M and have a chat with Mr. Pamenter about a Home Improvement Loan. H.I.Ls are available for all kinds of worthwhile purposes — from insulating the attic to wiring the basement playroom.

B of M Home Improvement Loans are inexpensive — as per cent interest per annum — and they're repayable in easy monthly instalments. Why not drop in at the B of M tomorrow. Mr. Pamenter will be glad to give you full details about a B of M Home Improvement Loan.

Another big event in the district was held at the Aughland hall on Friday evening when approximately 100 friends and relatives gathered to wish Mrs. Ruth Schmidt farewell and extend the best of luck, health and happiness in their new home in Red Deer.

We didn't say goodbye to them because we hope to see them from time to time again but we will miss them as the district as was shown by the large number on Friday evening. A short program was held with songs and recitations. Mrs. Lenore Pickering sang her version to Ruth and got a round of Red River Valley replacing "Red River" by Hometown River" and other changes to fit the occasion. Mrs. Flora Baker played the piano for community singing.

Following the program, R. Charlton on behalf of the community presented Ruth with a money tree and the best wishes of the community. Mrs. Schmidt expressed her thanks and hoped everyone would call on them in their new home at 4311 - 56 street, Red Deer.

Rockets Host Red Deer Rustlers Saturday, 9

• Lacombe hockey fans got their first look at the 1962-63 Red Deer Rustlers on the jubilee stadium here Saturday night. Game time was 9:00 p.m.

The traditional rivalry between Lacombe and Red Deer has been all on Lacombe's face during the past three or four years — but Red Deer coach Bill McCulley swears that this time round it's going to be different. Meanwhile on the Rocket camp, coach Art Park is serene in the confidence of being able to slap down the Rustlers on this first outing of the teams this year.

Rocket publicity chairman Alex Morton goes even further than that. "We'll take Red Deer by nine goals," he told The Globe. "Three beers are up for the one and when they're up Red Deer can't lift all.

Should be a good game.

BILL MABBON

Starts left winger for the Lacombe Rockets at all Monday for Hometown hockey action he was transferred by his oil company to Lacombe, coming often of a new gas point. Bill was born in Edmonton 23 years ago and he'll be "home" to see a game in the Rockets.

JUVENILES LOSE

Lacombe juvenile team dropped a 5-0 decision to the Jasper Diamond on a recent road trip. The game gathered considerable interest from the

The local squad took to the ice for the first time this season and had control of the play for the most part but failed to find the range in the first period.

Toward Greater Safety

OFFICIAL opening last week of 24 miles of divided highway running west of Lacombe marks a progressive step forward in the eventual completion of a limited access road that will link Calgary and Edmonton.

The next step will be the building of the super highway from just north of Lacombe to Ledue, a distance of 50 miles. Work has already started on this section. This road will complete a four-lane ribbon of pavement between Alberta's two major cities.

The program is costly. Highways minister Gordon Taylor estimates a total expenditure of 15 million dollars when the seal coat is applied next year to the 24 - mile stretch of new highway in this locality.

The growth of Alberta and the volume of traffic demands the best main highway construction possible. As Mr Taylor stated at the ribbon-cutting ceremony the new highway is a monument to modern engineering skill. He hopes it will be a "happy and safe highway". The safety features embodied in the design will go a long way to reduce the frightful accident toll. There have been a dozen deaths on the old No 2 highway in the Ponoka-Lacombe-Red Deer locality during the past year.

Mr Taylor also hopes that the new highway will attract more tourists and create a "more buoyant economy".

Bikes Are A Hazard

WITH the long days of winter at hand, the dangerous practice of young bicyclists riding the streets after dark without lights should cease.

The time of day when dusk falls is now approaching the normal: after 4 00 p m at school hour, and with the dearth of the snow on the ground a good many girls and boys are still using their bikes. This is the time when the two-wheelers are properly equipped with front light and red reflector at the back.

Too many children, however, are bicycling on the roads with no lights whatsoever. This is grossly unfair to motorists, no matter how careful they may be.

Parents should see that bicycles without lights are put away in winter hibernation for the safety of their children. Failing that, police should confiscate bicycles found ill-equipped.

Such action will be doing the kids a favor. It is preferable to an accident and possible injury.

On Buying Sweaters

With the coming winter, sweaters become an important part of today wardrobe. Here are a few pointers you will want to keep in mind when shopping for a sweater.

Wool sweaters may be labeling "virgin" or "pure" wool. Yarns are tightly twisted and give a smooth finish. Sweaters of worsted yarns are firm, strong and resistant to pilling. Pilling is the formation of tiny balls on the surface. Worsted are a good buy for those work sweaters or children's sweaters.

A "cashlon" yarn is a type of worsted yarn. It is spun from very fine wool and gives a soft, fine knit sweater. Woolen yarns are made from short fibers and are not tightly twisted. They make a sweater soft and lightweight. However they tend to pull and they are not as durable as worsted yarn.

Cashmere is a very soft, silky yarn made from the fleece of cashmere goats. This has to be imported and the supply is limited. A pure cashmere sweater is usually in the $30.00 to $40.00 price range. Cashmere is often blended with other fibers to give more durability and a lower cost.

Angora rabbit hair is used in sweaters often as a blend with wool or synthetic fibers. Angora badly it should be worn with skirts of matching colors, or with tweeds.

Bainbug Tyrors and Helanca are all trade names for processes used in making synthetic yarns. These processes fluff or bulk the yarn to give it a softer feel.

A full fashioned sweater is one that is knit in shape, rather than being cut to shape. This leaves seams along the armhole seam where stitches have been decreased. The more expensive sweaters are full fashioned. Often stitches are put in along the arm seam to imitate a full-fashioned sweater.

Sweaters that have been cut rather than shaped should have seams that are serged, stitched and the edge covered with stitches to keep from ravelling. It takes a good fit to avoid unsightly neck and shoulders. It should fit as used on others to give.

Neckline may be finished either with a ribbon or a knitted band which should be softer than the buttonholes on the do not sag. On the buttonholes the stitches should be close together and deep enough so they do not pull out. Buttons and buttonholes should be evenly spaced on the sweater so they do not gap or pull.

Book Week is Theme at Blackfalds Meeting

BLACKFALDS — Young Canada Book Week was the theme of the Blackfalds home and school association meeting of the local school last week.

Each room had a display of books and posters and report of Education Mrs. Bob Copland also had on display the book reviews outstanding books. Mrs. Olive Freeman read an essay entitled the "Value of Book" written by grade nine student Casey Marti.

Pre-school Mrs. William Thorne presented the association a proposal a book by the top grade nine students Kathy James, and Don Lowery of 1961-62.

The meeting also decided the Christmas festivities would be only for actual school students. Each teacher would be responsible for their respective students parties and in this way the selection for Christmas parties will be discontinued.

The meeting also called a meeting of the association to meet with the representatives on Nov. 28 in the school to discuss their plan for skating rink activities.

Lunch was served by the mothers of the grade three room and the grade one room was the parent assist. Morris Barnes showed two films from the tuberculosis association.

The December meeting will be Dec. 12 and it's hoped that the Lacombe Carollers will be present.

He recalled that he had come to Canada by himself in 1929 with little money, a language difficulty to overcome, and within a short time after arrival, a depression and economic problem facing him.

"You ask what does it mean to be a Canadian?" He used the words "homely" and "peaceful" in answering, and emphatically declared that Canada is a country full and of opportunity for those who will work."

Mr Kamps then referred to the Central Alberta district and stated that to his opinion, "there is no finer land and no finer opportunities anywhere in Canada. I am very thankful."

Hon H Strom in making the official presentation of the master farm family plaque to Mr Kamps, remarked that the award was [illegible] well deserved.

He also presented Mr. Kamps with a cheque for $1,000, and laughingly added her by saying "I am sorry, but Mr. Kamps is going to have to sign it." The farm gate sign was presented to Bill Kamps, their son.

All members of the family were present four sons, two daughters, a son-in-law and daughter-in-law. All were praised by Mr Kamps for their assistance during the years.

District agriculturists at Lacombe "assisted me technically in many ways," he declared and the representative farm had received valuable advice.

Hon H Strom paid tribute to the Kamps family "for keeping abreast of the times", and making the best use of the soil and stock on the handsome farmstead west of Lacombe.

Walter McNary, district agriculturist congratulated the members of the family on the honour and pointed out the big credit that is made by the Kamps in the 4-H club activities in this area. Harry Peel, that Mr. Kamps had served as leader of the 4-H [illegible] for 16 years, and that to [illegible] leader he also lauded the younger family members for their successful [illegible] visitors in 4-H club work and their constant search for improvement.

R M Putnam, provincial deputy minister of agriculture in his brief remarks, stated that 38 master farm families had been honored since the inception of the award in 1949. He stressed that the award was given not only in good farmers but also only to good citizens.

Others who took part in bringing greetings from the municipal and provincal governments were [illegible] tended were

The policy of the AGT is to insist such new exchanges to a maximum of 12 miles [illegible] and [illegible] according to measurements and following the construction of the land, a 13 mile [illegible]

He pointed out that the objective of the AGT "is to provide the best service possible at a reasonable price, and still provide the service which the people of Alberta want."

Sports Talk . . .

From here and there

All hockey fans throughout central Alberta will be the losers by Ponoka Stampeders' decision to drop out of the central Alberta hockey league. The Stamps have been a good hockey team for many years than most can remember . . . and the senior love decision to call it quits is just another indication of the trying times which hockey is going through these days. Money — often referred to as the root of all evils — is behind the decision for the fold-up. The Stampeder club is solvent at the present time . . . but fear of another multi-thousand deficit if the Stamps continue playing was the motivating reason behind the decision.

That of course poses the general question, how long can these smaller centres continue to produce hockey of its present high calibre in these days of ragwell spiraling costs it takes a lot of money to operate a club (by top of costs of operation, the added high expenses of travelling for the players . . . particularly players on the Lacombe Buckets). The local club has a good team and before the end of the season might even have a great team. But every player has to travel anywhere from 25 miles to 250 miles to each game — and that refers only to home games. Add to that the cost of travelling to points like Calgary, Drumheller and Olds, and it can be seen that gasoline, oil and operational upkeep is a big factor in hockey club costs.

Don't be surprised if Ben Tenbey and Bob Cowan show up in Sanibel unless by the next game, sweeping league changes are in the free agents of the Stampeder players. Coach Art Park is not saying much, but both former Stamps attended a practice of the Rockets here Tuesday evening . . . both looked solid and considerable strength to the Lacombe club both at the blue-line and up front.

Ski club officials are getting ready for another active season with one eye on the limited snowfall and a prayer in their hearts for much more. Lacombe Bentley Ponoka ski club has had troubles the past two years Each year a poor-snow winter and then back financially, and they feel that this year they must make some effort to reverse the issue . . . not only to keep the bank happy but to allow them to sleep easier at night!

Executive member Josh Morrison pointed out to The Globe Tuesday that a new idea has been worked out for memberships this year. "We haven't changed our rates in any extent," he stated, "but this year the executive has decided to set a deadline of January 15 for membership tickets."

Dealing with club problems, Morrison points out that all skiers should realize that whether it snows or not, "we have many fixed expenses, taxes, bank interest and principal payments." In an effort to help meet these expenses, the club sells all skiers to pick up their annual tickets early "Occasionally," one told The Globe, "we have experienced almost snow-less winters or none at all, which the owners have come very late. We were actually fortunate to survive as a club after some of these years, and if we get another one this year, the executive will be placed in a most embarrassing position." In other words, skiers you want to keep skiing west of Bentley, take out your membership now. (Membership dues appear elsewhere on this page).

WHO'S WHERE NOTE: Vern Miller, Lacombe high school grad, has "secured" basic commissioned officer's rank in the army. He is taking the recession-in-service program sponsored by the provincial government for further training in this field.

Ponoka Stampeders Drop Out of CAHL

Lacombe Buckets is ahead in the league standings over the week end . . . and not because they lost any games on the ice.

Ponoka Stampeders' one of the original clubs in the CAHL and former members Lacombe Intermediate A champions decided at an early Sunday morning hour to pack it up for the season.

League governor Jack Ferrier of Red Deer announced the withdrawal that all points obtained by the club, both in the league standings and inter-club scoring would be wiped out. The result was that the Rockets with two victories over the Stamps, topped four points in the league standings.

Decision Made

The Stampeder club which reported to have lost $6,000 in operating last year managed to raise enough cash to pay off the Medicine Hat game with a loan which was won one outing in nine starts executive members were gloomy about the possibility of making the playoffs this year. Without playoff gains, we heard one executive member local the club

With this thought in mind the Stamps decided to fold up while they were still even in the bank department rather than to take the risk of again hitting the financial skids.

Bob Retains Interest

The news that was well-received whole new hockey picture. Manager Fred Bowser groaned like a stuffed shirt's at whom time planned the six-team loop will be considered and schedule plans for the balance of the season.

To Join Intermediate B

At the meeting held by the Ponoka club officials and executives were discussed, confirmed, long-time plans for players, supplies, equipment, and players whose transfer to the Intermediate B league. It appears that the remaining members of both Ponoka and Lacombe will be transferred to the Intermediate B league.

Ponoka juveniles will play the same strong game which took them to a provincial title last year snowed the Lacombe juveniles under a 12-1 score at the jubilee stadium rink Thursday evening

The game was actually much closer than the score would indicate as the locals had numerous chances for counters from close in, but just couldn't find the range. Reeve Stoadnoff potted the lone Lacombe counter.

Jasper Place Wins

Player Re Distribution

Although league governor Jack Ferrier has ruled all Stampeder players available for the time-being many of the players are already seeking new quarters in the CAHL.

Wayne Gee, Bob Cowan and Ben Tenbey have been mentioned as additions to the Lacombe Buckets view . . . although any definite addition to the Buckets will be held up pending a clear "go ahead" sign from the league executive.

Juveniles Seek First Win Thursday Night

● Lacombe juveniles — looking for their first win after loss out — hike up the Wetaskiwin juveniles in a game at the jubilee stadium here on Thursday Game time is 7:00 p.m. Fans are urged to come out and give the boys some fan support.

Rustlers Hang On to Beat Rockets 6-5 at Saturday Hockey Game

Lacombe Rockets were edged 6-5 by the Red Deer Rustlers in a real crowd-pleaser at the jubilee stadium here Saturday night.

The game proved two things conclusively: the Rustlers have plenty of hockey team; Lacombe fans don't like Red Deer playing coach Bill McCulley any better this year than they did last year . . . and last year it was certainly no love-affair

The Rustlers moved into a 3-2 lead in the initial period, held on to it in a 5-4 lead at the end of the second stanza, and still clung to the one goal edge as the final bell s est.

The last minute and half kept the crowd on its feet. Down 6-4, coach Art Park replaced goalie Ross Gilbert in favor of another attacker. The move paid off with one goal, and with the count standing 6-5, the Rockets did everything but plant the rubber on the Rustler goal line.

Tempers began to fray toward the end, and Guy Menage and Jack Davidson were each locked with a five-minute penalty for fighting.

Ben Turple, Mosler and Monk Burton countered for the visitors on the first 12 minutes of play. with Dach Dunnigan getting one back for the Rockets and Bobby Cox following with Lacombe's second tally

Edmonton Oil Kings Here To Meet Rockets Saturday

● Edmonton Oil Kings meet the Rockets at the stadium here Saturday evening in what promises to be a better than average hockey game. This is the final league meeting of the two outfits this year . . . although the locals bang a 3-1 defeat on the Kings as an exhibition game played here before the season opened.

Since then, the Kings have lost but one game . . . and are sliding atop the CAHL standings. Coach Art Park thinks the elevated standing is too high, and will be out to lead his Rockets up the rungs toward the bonzier air of the league.

Game time is 8 p.m.

Thumb-Nail Sketch LHS Hoop Roster

(By Terry Trelawen)

The basketball season is fast approaching and the local high school teams are busy preparing for an active season, which will see them playing all ten other teams in the central Alberta league plus playoffs (they hope!)

The boys' team, the Eagles, have lost four players from last year's squad which made it to the provincial "B" playoffs.

Despite this loss the coach W Badger hopes that the returning players will be able to pick up the slack and duplicate last year's achievements. Although no definite team has been picked the following five have been turning out regularly.

Brian Johnson (centre) — second year man, grade 11 stepping into Mike's big shoes and should be able to fill it well.

Rodney Martens (centre) first year man, grade 12, has lots of height and should be able to hold his own.

Earle Harris (forward last guard) — third year man, grade 12, strong rebounder deadly jump shot

Rod Smith (guard) — second year grade 11, strong shooter, compensates for lack of size with hustle

Raymond Martens (forward and guard) — first year man, grade 10 has all the necessary physical qualities to be a good one

David Tousley (forward and guard) — second year man, grade 11, shows good versatility and should rate it has point this year.

Jeff Gower (centre) — first year man, grade 12, has the necessary height to be a good centre

Dwayne Calvert (guard and forward) — first year man, another boy who makes up for a lack of size with aggressiveness

Ted Will (forward) — first year man, grade 10 making it work and hustle

Team manager: Terry Scott

The Eagles first game is Friday December 7, against the traditional rivals from Penhold. The boys game will be preceded by a contest between the girls' teams from the respective schools.

91-Year-Old Clive Resident "On Feet" After Operation

CLIVE — W. Hill returned home after being a patient at the University hospital at Edmonton for several weeks. Mr. Hill, who is 91 years of age, underwent several operations but was able to walk down town in Clive last Monday. Boris the reporter did not have the pleasure from the hospital until after the Clive news had gone to the mail.

Hall Board Elections

President, Bruce Somerville; vice president, Albert Wagner; secretary-treasurer, Lorne Joslin; and directors, L. O. Berke, S. L. Reid, D. Grant and Mrs. Elizabeth Somerville.

Glenn A. Cote mother of J. Cole was a Clive visitor this week. He lives at Coronation.

Soft showing. The name of the lady visiting Mrs. E. Gschwandtner was a Mrs. Smith and not Mrs. Smith as appeared in Clive news column.

Date to remember: Friday, Dec. 14 when the United church ladies choir will give their annual Christmas service.

Shower Host Saturday

A shower will be held in the Lacombe hall on December 8 for Miss Pauline Taylor, bride-to-be of Harold Melvin Fuller. The shower will be a miscellaneous one.

The Baptist women's day of prayer is to be held on Friday, December 7, at the Ponoka Baptist church. All is back with it and please meet at Clive Baptist church at 2:00 p.m.

Ladies On Time Wanted

The Sargent ladies group appreciate those who donated new and used materials, clothing as well as quilt pieces, to be made up into quilts for the needy. This busy group, although small in number, have accomplished so much. Seven large boxes of articles were sent out, containing five quilts and 16 bed quilts. During the three busy months they were no meeting of the work done by the ladies is exceptional. Anyone wishing to help others in any way are invited to join this work. This group would appreciate extra workers at their group.

A Christmas party will be held at the Legion hall at 7:30 p.m. on December 15 for Clive Mens Club and ladies are to bring lunch.

Barn Dance Good Grass

Some burning of long dry grass was done by the town on that week, with the fire-fighting equipment on hand in case it got out of control. Great around the town of Clive and fire hall and land adjacent to it was carried out. Some tall grass did not burn, but with the snow of Friday, fire danger from it is now reduced. Also the snow settled the dust which has been bad.

The snow came as a surprise as no forecast had mention any change in the weather pattern, but this district came off fairly well considering Red Deer had 8½ inches, and Stettler nearly a foot.

The Sargent ladies wish to announce that their bingo evening which was to have been held December 4 will be held on Dec. 7. Several people who would like to attend could not attend on a Saturday. Please note the change in date to December 7.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Reynolds spent the best part of the week at Banff, where both took advantage of the hot pools.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Vandermeulen of Edmonton (nee Gail Reynolds) were recent visitors at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Reynolds.

A WCTU Christmas party will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Zelenak on December 11 at 2:30 p.m. All ladies are invited to attend.

Grey Cup Too Late

The inclement weather in eastern Canada for the playing of the Grey Cup game a trial for players, coaches and spectators. As Canada has such uncertain weather around this time of the year, it makes one wonder why the games are not played earlier. The Fall Meet games are played after lots of snow, both east and west, and this year it was fog.

Australia does not have any major baseball leagues to play off. It would be easier on players and spectators if the weather was never in Canada, one can expect any kind of weather once November starts.

Bill Heald of Winnipeg was a visitor to Hardisty on Sunday, guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Barnett.

Fire Brigade Needs Volunteers

TOWN of Lacombe has always taken pride in its fine volunteer fire department, and news that the brigade is short four members should bring prompt response from citizens. The only danger is that a "let George do it" attitude might inadvertently result in no volunteers at all.

This must not happen. Lacombe's fire brigade has built an excellent reputation based on years of satisfactory service and its performance mustn't be jeopardized by lack of trained personnel.

The fire-fighting force is currently made up of 16 volunteers. To be at full strength 18 men are required.

Since the resignation of four firemen for personal reasons, the remaining members have made a number of individual contacts. It is disturbing to learn from fire chief Colin Dalziel that several men solicited have been willing to join but are unable to get permission from their employers.

Granted it may take fire-fighters away from their jobs at awkward times occasionally, but it doesn't happen often. Employers should consider the good of the community and take the chairman's view.

Wes Reaney Takes Bride In Lacombe

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on November 10 at 4 p.m. in the Hillcrest Baptist Church, Edmonton when Lorraine Grover, daughter of Kenneth Grover, became the bride of William Wesley Reaney of Lacombe.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev K. Howe.

For her wedding the bride chose a winter white tooth dress accented with turquoise hat and purse. Her only ornament was a cultured pearl necklace and earrings, gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Reaney, mother of the groom, wore a green tweed suit with a corsage of red roses.

The reception was held at the Lacombe Hotel banquet room. The three-tiered wedding cake, baked by Mrs. Helen Pierson and decorated by Mrs. Lennard Hamblin centered the head table.

Mr. Ross Grover acted as master of ceremonies. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev K. Howe to which the groom responded.

A congratulatory telegram was received from the bride's brother Stanley Grover of Ottawa. Following the reception, open house was held at the home of Elmer Grover, brother of the bride, after which there was a dinner at Spruceville hall.

Out of town guests were from Stony Plain, Bel Valley, Edmonton, Calgary, Red Deer and Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs Reaney now reside in Lacombe

School Building Plans Approved

A 1962 school construction program in the county of Lacombe at Bentley, Alix and Blackfalds has been approved by the provincial government's school buildings board.

The program is more modest than that originally concerned by the local school committee, as the authorities in Edmonton refused to recognize the need for two elementary school classrooms at Bentley, or for an addition at Bantinwood.

Approved were:

Bentley — Two classrooms in the high school, at an estimated cost of $18,750. (Also turned down as part of this original plan were shower and locker rooms adjacent to the gym, and an audio-visual aids room in the base ment)

Alix — school addition to provide two extra classrooms and a lavatory, at an estimated cost of $50 425

Blackfalds — A science room, library, staff room, and furnace and storage area, at an estimated cost of $58,200

There will be other costs to consider like architect's fees, etc., which the school committee which met on Tuesday of this week must include in the preparation of a debenture by-law for presentation to the county council

Lots Of Christmas Gifts Here

LOCAL merchants say that shopping didn't swing into high gear until early last week. This is later than usual probably because the weather was so nice all through November. Consumers rarely get down to Christmas buying until there's snow on the ground or until the date of the calendar forces them into it.

This means that shopping for a good many persons will be crammed into the last hectic ten days. It behooves them to conserve their precious time and to shop where the quality of merchandise is consistent with low prices.

Customers will find that Lacombe stores offer a good selection of Christmas gift items. And there are several "bonus" features that go along with values in a small town. Things like:

Personal service with storekeepers and clerks you know, not from disinterested city employees who are more concerned with getting off their aching feet, a choice of goods that you can see and feel and return if not satisfactory without the inconvenience of mailing the refundable item or making a special trip to the city, and the opportunity to look over store stocks in a relaxed atmosphere, without being harassed by jostling city crowds.

Chest X-ray Important

CHEST X-ray clinics are currently being conducted at points in this district, and all persons are urged to attend. The service is free, the X-ray is painless, and the results play an important part in the early discovery and diagnosis of cases of tuberculosis.

At one time T-B was a dread disease and one of mankind's worst killers. Thanks to medical advances and the early treatment that can now be given, the disease has been kept at a low level of incidence. To eradicate it altogether requires the co-operation of the public in having frequent checks.

Such an opportunity is now at hand. The X-ray unit has visited Bentley and Lacombe. It is at Alix and Mirror and Clive this week, and Bashaw and Blackfalds will be next on the list.

This service is provided jointly by the provincial department of health and the Alberta tuberculosis association. The co-operation of willing community workers and sponsoring local organizations should also be acknowledged. They do a great deal of advance work in obtaining pre-registrations, mailing appointment cards, etc.

The town of Lacombe received special permission while publicity when the two - millionth person was X-rayed at the clinic here last week. By coincidence, the one-millionth person also passed through the clinic at Lacombe back in 1954.

Make Way For Women

EMANCIPATION of women has not led far beyond the original concept of the right to vote. Today there are "career" women rubbing shoulders with men in the business world, and married women who have left babies and young children in nurseries or in the care of sitters while they go off to work daily to supplement the family income.

So far males have adopted the attitude that since women have joined men in commercial life on an equal status they should be treated as equals.

The age of gallantry has given way to the age of camaraderie. Men no longer bother to remove their hats in elevators in the presence of women.

They keep their seats in crowded trams while many of the fairer sex remain standing. Men have even been known to jostle through doorways first, instead of standing aside holding the door open for (a polite femme (alias fellow worker).

And what is the female reaction? It was nicely summed up by a women's placement offer with the national employment service at Nanaimo, B.C., who said that the modern business woman must "look like a girl, think like a man, act like a lady, and work like a ...."

She might have added and collect wages like a bread-winner.

Mr. Fulton Quits Ottawa

DAVIE Fulton has decided to step out of the national political field into his own home province of B.C. where he is seeking leadership of the Progressive Conservative party. His reasons for doing so are perplexing.

He declares publicly that it is time British Columbia got rid of premier Bennett and his Social Credit government in favor of a Conservative administration.

But privately he must confess to himself that the chances of doing this B.C. has voted Social Credit in the last two elections, and it was CCF before that. The "old line" parties have had a rough time provincially in British Columbia, as in all western provinces barring Manitoba.

Observers at Ottawa say that Mr Fulton has had a "falling out" with Mr Diefenbaker. He was at one time considered the No 2 man in the national Conservative hierarchy behind Mr Diefenbaker himself, but Mr Nowlan appears to have taken over in this role. In fact, Mr Fulton has slipped several notches as his public works portfolio would reflect.

So it could be that Davie has decided he would sooner be a big wheel in one province than a spoke in the national scheme of things.

He knows all about the Columbia River power development, and many of his opinions are contrary to premier Bennett's. These opposite viewpoints were often quarrelsome as he tried to minimize the strained relations of the two governments, but it would make a mighty election issue in B.C. in which Mr Fulton could conceivably win a number of seats.

In any event, his entry into provincial politics is British Columbia's gain.

Reflections of the Times

"Season of the Hundred Days"

With the winter making its bow in the south Peace, "the season of the hundred days" approaches.

Over the years, the winter logging season in the north has averaged one hundred days.

This year, one of the biggest forces of men ever to invade the spruce and pine forests, clinging to the district's southern rim, will take a near-record harvest from the woods.

Because logging is a winter operation in this area, unemployment usually takes up the slack for hundreds of men who farm or work in the construction trades during the summer.

It is unlikely that lumbering's importance to this district's economy will soon diminish.

The Grande Prairie-based plywood plant, in particular, has been expanding steadily and shows evidence of continued growth. One need not look beyond the fact that the plant represents the city's largest year-round payroll, to recognize the importance of the forest industry to Grande Prairie.

Additionally, the large planer mills here make a substantial contribution to the city's economy.

The present and future significance of our forests is worth pausing to mind, as "the season of the hundred days" nears.

Cattle Critters Ice Feedlots

The following [illegible] from the Lethbridge research station weekly letter and is written by R. H. Painter entomologist at that station. It does not mean a thing is quite prominent in this area I feel that it should be of interest.

There are many types of "bush critters" in western Canadian feedlots. This type of equipment is for controlling lice on cattle. Critters are of rather doubtful value as a [illegible] control although they may assist in reducing louse populations.

The presence of lice on an animal causes considerable discomfort, and sickness. To relieve the discomfort the cattle use the rubbers quite frequently. It is often said by the owner of an expensive oiler. "I know it works, my cattle use it all the time". If this is the case, the animals must still be sick and the relief obtained by they might never have been lousy and are only due to some other condition.

The danger in using oilers arises from improper use and from failure of stockmen to read and follow the directions on the label. Be sure you read the label.

In many cases the oilers remain in the feedlot up to the time the animals are sold for slaughter. They should be removed for the full 'wait period' before the animals are slaughtered. Failure to observe this 'wait period' could have far reaching effects on the cattle business.

With two exceptions, chemicals used in oilers have definite [illegible] wait periods. These exceptions have been established by the food and drug administration to protect the consumer. If directions on the label are not followed residues of the chemicals may occur in the meat or organs of the laborator limits, which are also established by the food and drug administration.

Such residues could result in removal of the chemical from the market for use on livestock and condemnation of the meats containing such residues. It could also have a disastrous effect on our export trade. The same thing that happened to the cranberry industry could happen to the beef industry. Moral — Be careful.

POOL FOR STETTLER?

E H Weeres past president of Stettler Kinsmen club told Stettler Rotary club Monday that his club is attempting to interest other service clubs and the town in financing a $130,000 closed in swimming pool to be located on the school grounds.

The Kinsmen club believes that the pool should be about 35 feet by 75 feet and that it should be located on the school grounds to fit into the school's educational program. It would be a closed-in pool for year around use and would cost about $130,000. It would be financed partly by service clubs and partly by town debenture.

"THE MOONBEAMS"

By R. Vernon Beste

I suppose it must be that I'm a sucker for a spy-type thriller, but this moving novel of secret service in world war two had me engrossed all the way. I couldn't leave the blinking book alone until the last page was finished. After that, I was wishing there was more.

The setting is in France during the German occupation. Six people are thrown together to form an English resistance group — five men and one woman. When the leader (the hero of the story) is forced to return home due to illness, he learns that one of the six is a traitor who is relaying spy secrets to the Nazis.

He is flown back to France in the dead of night. His mission is to seek out the identity of the guilty party.

This is the plot, but the "who does it" mystery isn't the motive that drives the reader on.

The story is a good one because it gives with some authenticity details of secret service training. It takes the reader on some breathtaking "jobs" undertaken by the British agents under cover of darkness — fifth column activities like blowing bridges and communications lines. The book ends with the small group attempting to set [illegible] and explosives that will destroy a factory.

The climax is spoiled slightly by the unnecessary appearance of an assistant from England, after the hero is nearly overcome by overwhelming odds. But it is a minor fault and doesn't detract from the overall brilliance of a well-conceived novel.

History of Grain Published in Book

"Tales in the West" is the name of a new book which should be of interest to every Alberta grain producer and to all others who are even remotely interested in the development of the west and the marketing of prairie grain.

It is primarily a book dealing with the background, development and achievements of the Alberta Wheat Pool, but it is also a story of the entire Wheat Pool movement which back in the early days was the largest business concern in Canada.

The author Leonard D Nesbitt for many years publicity superintendent for the Alberta Wheat Pool, a publisher of country weeklies before that a reporter on several daily newspapers, has done an exceptionally fine job of recording the early events leading up to the formation of the Wheat Pool.

He reviews the dissatisfaction of early farmers with the apparently exploitive system of marketing and the monopolistic position gained by the railways and the private grain trade. He recounts in a vivid manner the stirring days in the summer of 1923 when farmers across the length and breadth of Alberta with only limited funds and little business experience decide to set up their own marketing system.

The collapse in markets took place in 1929 followed by the depression years of the thirties with the resulting hardships to prairie farmers and the near collapse of the Wheat Pools, and then the amazing recovery of the Pools are told in a fascinating manner.

Mr Nesbitt has continued on to write the book "Tales in the West" by the Board of Directors of the Alberta Wheat Pool so that the early history of this farmer organization would be recorded before much of it was lost through the passing of the original members and their memories.

This is a book of which many people will no doubt be anxious to secure copies. Accordingly, plans have been underway to give it wide-spread distribution. Orders may be placed through any bookstore or through any Alberta Wheat Pool elevator agent.

Congratulations were received from all points of the globe by the UN chief, U Thant, on his appointment as secretary-general of the United Nations. LHS Mercury is Credit to High School Student Staff

To Adopt Foster Child

There are reports on the weekly meetings of the student's union, on Nov. 13-20-27. The students have definately decided to adopt a foster child with the funds collected at the Christmas drive which last year went to the "Save the Children's Fund

It was pointed out that "one year's support of a child costs $182, so it is up to each and every one in the school to do his part to put this campaign 'over the top. The student's council will later make a separate donation to the "Save the Children's Fund."

Experiences of Shirley Elsbeth

Experiences of Shirley Elsbeth are recounted on her trip to Lethbridge, as an outstanding Rhone Caffinon. Shirley was a guest of the Rotary club at a "whoop-up" rally.

School sports and social highlights are reported in detail by Terry Buzut and Don Lowry respectively

Special Features

There is a good "meet the teachers" corner, featuring Henri G Fergues and Peter Connelian in the current issue

Career Corner

Career Corner" gives a few hints on how to enjoy retirement by Ralph Hoover, who has retired after teaching school for 35 years 10 of them in Lacombe

Dear Advice

A "Gran Blandrs" column brings these sage notes of advice

Dear Gran: I go around with a whole gang of boys but they don't seem to think of me as a girl. I wear blue jeans, a black leather jacket and I wear my hair in a duck tail. I also wear cowboy boots.

"Is there anything you would suggest to make me look a little more like a girl. — Naomi

"Dear Naomi: Have you ever considered using "hypnotique" perfume"

And another imaginative letter from Oswald

"Dear Gran I'm wildly in love with this marvelous girl. Unfortunately she has two faults she wears a platinum streak in her raven black hair and she uses a perfume which I can't stand. How can I tell her this Dear Oswald. Are you in love with a girl or a skunk?"

An Ad That Sells

An advertisement from "Alldog-last funeral parlours:

"Make your final resting place an all-long-last coffin. All units are new — no body has used them before. Our products are sanitized for your protection. Phone G'Boil 777-7711

A television review on "Bonanza" according to the Mercury.

"Stars Joseph Kennedy, Jack Kennedy, Bobby Kennedy, and Teddy Kennedy on a New Frontier story. The Kennedys govern an extensive ranch known as the United States of America. The theme of the story is that the family that plants together, sticks together."

Reaction to Subjects

A few English a few students thoughts on school courses:

"Ah the teacher's wrath
It was nature I done me math

"Of all the knowledge and mystries
The most bewildering is Physics."

"I don't
In fact I can't
Use contractions
Cause subtractions
Will be ready."

Types of Ham

Shopping for ham may seem confusing to a person. There is such a number of cuts of ham available as well as several styles of each kind. If you are in doubt about which ham to select, let this guide help you.

Kinds Available

Cook before eating: Some are ready to eat hams which have been processed to the internal temperature of 148 to 160 degrees F. but are not smoked. Cook these hams to the internal temperature of 170 degrees F.

Ready-to-eat hams: Most hams have been heated to the smokehouse to an internal temperature of 137 or 138 degrees F and then further processed to make them palatable to eat. This processing makes them ready to eat, but the texture and flavour are improved by further cooking. These hams require slightly less cooking, some 20 minutes per pound, than uncooked hams, usually 16-18 minutes per pound for a whole ham. 10 to 12 minutes per pound for half ham. Ready-to-eat hams should be heated to an internal temperature of 130 to 160 degrees F. Because they are already cooked, they have been processed to a high temperature of 148 to 160 degrees F and may be served without further cooking. If the texture of the ham is preferred, it may be heated to an internal temperature of 125 to 130 degrees F.

Canned hams: are examples of cooked ham purchased. They may be re-heated by removing from the can and oven-baking to an internal temperature of 125 to 130 degrees F.

Country style hams: are interviously cured and require soaking and par-boiling. After this initial cooking, the hams may be glazed and baked until brown.

Bone-in hams — weigh from 10 to 24 pounds, and are available as semi-shelves-eating, ready-to-eat, fully cooked or cooked. Bone-in hams may be purchased whole, cut in half or butt or shank ends, or as ham slices cut from the center.

[illegible] have had the bony stems removed and are skinned and trimmed of excess fat. These are available as cook-before-eating, ready-to-eat, and fully cooked. They may be purchased whole half or as ham slices.

Boneless [illegible] have been boned and shaped into rolls

Undermining Local Authority

FATE of the original school construction program envisaged for 1963 in the county of Lacombe is another example of the creeping control being assumed by the provincial government over municipal affairs with the consequent loss of local autonomy.

A school building board that sits in Edmonton must approve all planned school construction in this province. Why? Because this board is responsible to the provincial government which hosts a good proportion of local school construction costs by way of grants.

Sometimes the provincial body does not see eye to eye with local authorities on the amount of school building required in a certain area.

In the county of Lacombe, for example, local school committee members felt there was need for four additional classrooms at Bentley. They based their plans on this assumption but they were rudely awakened when the Edmonton board decided there was need for only two more rooms.

Local members thought more room was required at Eastwood school, and made plans for an addition to be built in 1963. The Edmonton board disagreed with the august body has a standard for-

It's Been A Mess . . .

TOWN of Lacombe streets have resembled volcanic eruptions for the past couple of months.

Everywhere, it seems the stalwarts native of diggers has been heard wrecking paved roads and leaving deep trenches that pedestrians and business must negotiate.

To add to the apparent turmoil and confusion is the construction work on the Royal Bank addition

The Fight Against Rats

ALBERTA is reported to be the only rat-free province in Canada and the only such area of its size in north America.

To most persons the rat is abhorrent, but outside of being repelled by thoughts of the rodent they have little appreciation of what it means to live in a "rat free" territory.

The name rat is synonymous with dirt. This rodent is considered to be one of the lowest forms of animal life. The rat is also one of the costliest companions in the midst of human beings. Damage caused by rats in heavily-infested areas is estimated in the millions of dollars yearly, aside from the aspects of health.

It is to combat this menace that the provincial government has been willing to spend half a million dollars since 1950.

The invasion of rats penetrated as far as 75 miles across the Saskatchewan border at one time. Now the "rat frontiers" have been pushed back again, and the battle has become concentrated right in the enemy's camp.

Agriculture officials state that six rat colonies have been reported living in the dump at Lloydminster, and the government has supplied free poison for rat control there as well as in other isolated sections along the border.

The program of rat extermination has fortunately met with great success. The Saskatchewan government is co-operating with Alberta to try to eradicate the unwelcome rodent in that province, too. This will make Alberta's job easier.

On "Going Steady"

(By Susan Jackson, age 17, in Lacombe High School Mercury)

I have an opinion to pass along expressing how I feel about "teenagers going steady. Many people blandly condemn going steady because they say "Steadies" do too much necking and petting.

I personally feel that if teenagers cannot restrain themselves from such things as an excess of necking and petting then they are not old enough to be even dating.

Going steady is supposedly the first step in the direction of a possible future engagement. If teenagers are adult enough for this first step then they should be mature enough to "go steady". "Too often the meaning of "going steady" is abused but in speaking of the true term of "going steady" — two people should have enough true respect for each others feelings.

Many parents say "Play the field" — "go out with the gang until you are older." Well, maybe this is where the trouble lies — but who are the non-steadies to go around with while the greater majority of their contemporaries are going steady? Where are you to turn in a situation such as exists today?

Speaking from a girls' point of view—If a girl turns to the younger set who do not believe in going steady either, then she is immature, if she turns to older boys — four to five years age difference — then she is treading on thin ice.

For in that situation even after occasional dating (after a long friendship) there is a greater chance of the two getting married There is a greater danger of marriage for her than in "teenage steadies.

I personally feel that going steady with teenagers of your own age group is a good way to learn responsibilities you have to others in life (The best thing about going steady is that you can break up the relationship at any time you feel it necessary, not like marriage)

You have a responsibility in keeping the trust you have in yourself, the trust your steady has in you, and most important, the trust your parents have in you.

If you can be trustworthy "Steadies" then, you will have a far better chance to be trustworthy citizens.

Afters of the county of Red Deer, which comes into existence at the beginning of next month, will be governed by a seven-man council including six farmers now serving as councillors of the municipal district of Red Deer who sought election to the county council Saturday.

The only severance to the governing body will be Roy C. Shreve of the industrial district.

The new county will replace the Red Deer school division, which was formed at the beginning of 1938 and the municipal district of Red Deer, formed in 1944.

Councillor Low made reference to the desirability of keeping sidewalks clear of snow, especially where they were heavily used by school children on their way to school. He said that if this were not done, the children would have a tendency to walk in the street.

The matter received sympathetic consideration by council, but it was felt that nothing could be done by the town in the matter of snow removal from sidewalks in commercial areas.

This was due to the high cost of such a program and to the fact that the town does not possess satisfactory equipment for this work.

Merry Christmas!

May I take the opportunity to wish all the readers of this column a very merry Christmas.

1962 has been a very productive year as far as agriculture is concerned in the county of Lacombe and our Christmas this year should be a good one.

However let us remember that all our blessings are not made by man alone.

Use Your Alberta Farm Guide

Since the first publication of the Alberta Farm Guide in 1950 many copies have gone out to farmers in this district. This publication is not something to be read after then put away and forgotten. It is a hand reference for many of the day to day farming problems

High River, Dec. 12, 1962

Mr. Editor, Lacombe Globe,

Dear Sir:

Have been thinking over Mr. Fischer's letter How my heart bleeds for him, and now I know why the gov't should take over the Power Company.

I suppose Mr Bacher just happened to forget or overlook the fact that his company has the power to his farm at a lower tax deductible. Also his entire power bill is chargeable to farm operation costs.

He just happens to forget a number of things.

I expect he hopes to get his Power free and charge it up to the Town or City users.

Poor soul, can he not see what happens when the Gov't has a monopoly" Just see what the gov't does about the liquor sales.

Let him check on the charges and profits.

Does he not remember what happened when the Gov't undertook to build phone lines to all the farmers? Millions lost on that deal, and what have you got now.

How much does the poor White Hat pay for gas? Or for the use of deductibles? Can he charge up repairs to power and depreciation on his equipment? No he has to deduct for the charges on assets and he earns and receives no benefit for improvements.

Has he Mr. Bacher should grow up or else go to Russia where the Gov't owns and operates everything.

Would he like numerous more inspectors and more red tape to contend with Well Mr Bacher you may have these questions before you.

"THE ROAD PAST MANDALAY"

By John Masters

I am no particular lover of war stories, but this one giving a factual account on the Burmese front against Japan is an exception

The story is from one man's viewpoint only, but since John Masters rose to the rank of Brigadier in charge of an army specially trained for jungle warfare the vantage point is quite lofty and the reader is informed of allied strategy behind the various battles

John Masters now makes his home in the state of New York and he makes his living by writing This is the first book of his that I have had the pleasure of reading, and the quality is such that I'm going after others

He has the gift of writing an autobiography from a position of high command without sounding arrogant!

It is hard for a writer to play down his own role when he is writing about his own personal experiences

This Mr Masters accomplishes by giving vivid descriptions about warfare against the Japs under the worst possible conditions As a commander, he obviously had deep feelings and the allowed respect for his fighting men, and he can't avoid revealing his compassionate nature as he re-lives the events His own superb role is automatically toned down

Mr Masters is an intelligent gentleman who doesn't hesitate to give his impressions of generals on that front like Wingate and Stilwell

At the same time, since he was born in India and received much of his education and army training there, he has a deep insight into the country and the people that is to the reader's gain.

Rockets Upset Kings 7-2; Wallop Calgary Buffaloes 10-0

Lacombe Rockets notched their second and third straight wins over the week end. They defeated the always-dangerous Edmonton Oil Kings last Saturday with a convincing 7-2 win. Less than 16 hours later in Calgary, they posted the hapless Buffaloes under a 10-0 barrage of goals.

The final-shaking Oil Kings fooled the Rockets defence, backed up by Ross Gillow, too tough a nut to crack at the jubilee stadium here Saturday night. Over a span of old and rehashed hockey fans left the rink happy as Lacombe led 6-0 at the end of the first period and 6-2 before the second breather.

Third Shut Out

RUSS GILLOW

Close Contest

It was a close contest for the first period as the Rockets and Kings battled to a standstill on the scoreboard. Bill Gilles under a 10-goal scoring spree. The young Calgary lad was held scoreless by Rockets' goalie Russ Gillow.

Drumheller Miners, leading all Central Alberta Hockey League clubs by a comfortable margin, invade the Lacombe Rockets' home ice surface Thursday night to engage the Rockets in an exhibition game at the Lacombe stadium on Thursday night. Game time is 9:00.

The Rockets, who blanked the Miners 5-0 in front of a rousing effort by goalie Russ Gillow last time they played out, will be gunning for their fourth straight win. Ron Tookie, Bob Cowan and Wayne Lee from the non-defunct Ponoka Stampeders will probably see service on Rocket defence for the game.

Turkey Talk

At the time of the year information on the preparation and the cooking of turkey is very much in demand.

Following are some of the questions answered

Q. Should frozen turkeys be thawed before cooking? A. Yes.

I. It is easier to rinse the body cavity and make sure it is free from any bits of lung, windpipe etc.

2. It is difficult to stuff a frozen bird.

3. If a cooking is to be used as for fried poultry it will not object to frozen meat.

4. A frozen bird takes longer to cook.

Note.

Thawing does not apply to ready-for-the-oven frozen stuffed turkeys. They should be placed unthawed in the oven as directed on the frozen wrappers

Q. How should frozen poultry be thawed? A. The safest place for these items most is in the refrigerator. Although the tables longer than when left at room temperature or placed in unopened frozen bag in cold running water Allow approximately 5 hours per pound when thawing turkey in the refrigerator or approximately 1 hour per pound or less if placed under cold running water

Q. How long can a defrosted turkey be left before cooking? A. Cook within 24 hours once bird is thawed.

Q. If stuffed poultry be stuffed the day before it is to be roasted? A. No, this is not recommended. It takes too long to heat the centre of the chilled dressing at 165 degrees F to ensure any food spoilage organisms are destroyed) and may result in over cooking of the meat.

Q. Can a large turkey be partly cooked one day and the roasting continue the next? A No Chances of food spoilage taking place and the development of off-flavours is possible Besides the surface of the bird has a tendency to dry out before the meat is tender

Q How can I tell when the turkey is cooked? A A meat thermometer is the surest way It may be inserted in thickest part of the stuffing and will register 165 degrees when the turkey is cooked or it may be pierced in the middle of the thick thigh muscle next to the side of the turkey but not touching the bone and when cooked the temperature reading will be 190 degrees F If no meat thermometer is available, the meat may be tested by moving the drumstick up and down It should move easily in the hip socket and joint like new If the drumstick is pressed it should feel soft

Q What size turkey should I buy? A Allow approximately ¾ lb ¾ of a pound per serving and plan for extra servings and some left over too

There is an excellent pamphlet "Cooking Canada Turkey" available free of charge by writing or phoning or calling into the department of agriculture at Lacombe or Ponoka

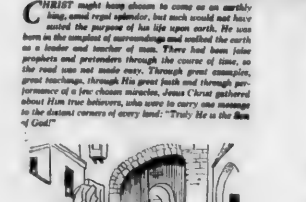
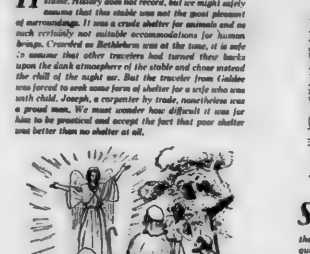
A Happy And Prosperous New Year to All!

Vol. LXII — No. 13 LACOMBE, ALBERTA, MONDAY, DECEMBER 24, 1962 Price — Ten Cents

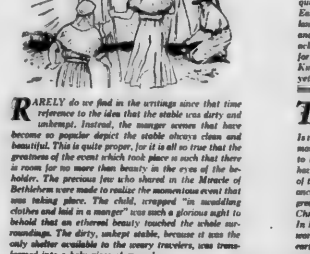


CHRIST might have chosen to come as an earthly king, amid regal splendor, but such would not have suited the purpose of his life upon earth. He was born in the simplest of surroundings and walked the earth as a leader and teacher of men. There had been false prophets and pretenders through the course of time, so the road was not made easy. Through great examples, great teachings, through His great faith and through perseverance of a few chosen miracles, Jesus Christ gathered about Him true believers, who were to carry one message to the distant corners of every land: "Truly He is the Son of God!"

IN THE LIGHT of the star they came, three wise men from the East. No ordinary men were there, nor poor travelers. They had not come with the thousands to register in accordance with the wishes of Herod. These men owed no allegiance to Herod, nor to one another. Each man was a king in his own right. The bond between them was a bright and shining star which told of the fulfillment of prophecy. So it was they came, following the light of the star until it came to rest above the stable in Bethlehem. Humbly bearing gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh, they came forward, these kings, to kneel reverently before the manger and pay homage to the newborn babe they believed to be the "king of kings."

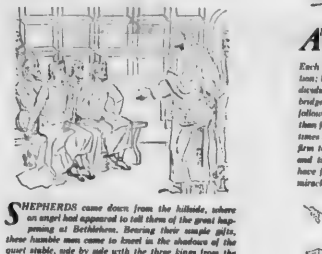


HE CHOSE the quiet, unregent atmosphere of a stable. Hustle was not moved, but we might safely assume that this stable was not the most pleasant of surroundings. It was a crude shelter for animals and as such certainly not suitable accommodations for human beings. Overlord at Bethlehem was at the time, it is safe to assume that other travelers had turned their backs upon the dank atmosphere of the stable and chose instead the chill of the night air. But the traveler from Galilee was forced to seek some form of shelter for a wife who was with child. Joseph, a carpenter by trade, nonetheless was a proud man. We must wonder how difficult it was for him to be practical and accept the fact that poor shelter was better than no shelter at all.

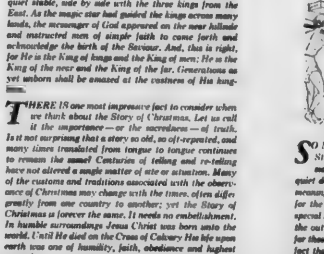


RARELY do we find in the writings since that time reference to the idea that the stable was dirty and unkempt. Instead, the manger scenes that have become so popular depict the stable always clean and beautiful. This is quite proper, for it is all so true that the greatness of the event which took place as such that there is room for no more than beauty in the eyes of the beholder. The precious few who shared in the Miracle of Bethlehem were made to realize the momentous event that was taking place. The child, wrapped "in swaddling clothes and laid in a manger" was such a glorious sight to behold that an ethereal beauty touched the whole surroundings. The dirty, unkept stable, because it was the only shelter available to the weary travelers, was transformed into a holy piece of ground.

SHEPHERDS came down from the hillside, where an angel had appeared to tell them of the great happening at Bethlehem. Bearing their simple gifts, these humble men came to kneel in the shadows of the quiet stable, side by side with the three kings from the East. As the magic star had guided the kings across many lands, the messenger of God appeared on the near hillside and instructed men of simple faith to come forth and acknowledge the birth of the Saviour. And, this is right, for He is the King of kings and the King of men; He is the King of the near and the King of the far. Generations as yet unborn shall be amazed at the vastness of His kingdom.

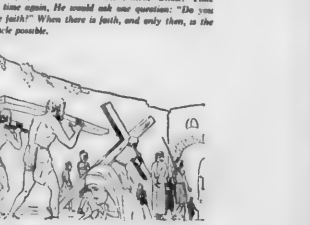


THERE IS one most impressive fact to consider when we think about the Story of Christmas. Let us call it the importance — or the sacredness — of truth. Is it not surprising that a story so old, so oft-repeated, and many times translated from tongue to tongue continues to remain the same! Centuries of telling and re-telling have not altered a single matter of size or situation. Many of the customs and traditions associated with the observance of Christmas may change with the times, often differ greatly from one country to another; yet the Story of Christmas is forever the same. It needs no embellishment. In humble surroundings Jesus Christ was born unto the world. Until He died on the Cross of Calvary His life upon earth was one of humility, faith, obedience and highest example.



MANY TIMES in our busy, work-a-day world we hear the cry that "Christmas is too commercial." Certainly, none may deny that there is much that is commercialized. If it is too much, the fault belongs squarely to us all. It is not necessary that we work so hard at "keeping up" with the Joneses across the street or down the block. We need not let our observance of the holiday get out of hand merely because others are unreasonable. Instead, we can work to promote among family and friends a realization of the true and complete meaning of Christmas. If we do this, we place emphasis where it properly belongs. We turn our thoughts and our footsteps to the church by the side of the road; we give thanks that on this day a Saviour was born.

AND EVEN unto this day there are disbelievers. It is true that He came to save all mankind, yet His legacy provides nothing more than opportunity. Each man is granted the right to seek out eternal salvation; but there are no provisions to insure that every individual make the effort. Each man must build his own bridges along the pathway of life. For those who would follow in His footsteps, there is no stronger working tool than faith. During His life upon earth, Jesus Christ many times was beseeched by the sick and the lame and the infirm to perform miracles and make them "whole." Time and time again, He would ask one question: "Do you have faith?" When there is faith, and only then, is the miracle possible.



SO NOW AGAIN it is the season of Christmas. The Story of Bethlehem will be told and re-told, in mansions and in cabins, by the open fire and in the quiet darkness of a child's room. And, certainly the real meaning of the Christmas Story will touch many hearts for the first time. For as many as believe, there will be special meaning in the merry lights, the bright tinsel, and the outward trappings we have come to know so well — for these shall share in realization and appreciation of the fact that on this day God sent His only Son to save the world.

Vandalism in Clive Area Deplored at Council

CLIVE — Vandalism seems to be on the up-swing here and in other small communities. It was recently learned that during the absence of a Clive farm district resident, a person or persons unknown drove a car around and across a landscaped lawn and rose bushes, ruining the lawn and rose bushes.

In Red Deer a watch is well guarded, vandalism one reluctant in spite of city urging, to put out Christmas lights, etc. They apparently have suffered less and damage

Mild Temperatures Take Toll

Due to the mild weather, it seems that the curling season will be late starting this year. Not also is the case with the skating rink. Clive depends on natural ice and there is not enough cold weather to encourage flooding. The old-time community wouldn't think of having canvas on, and there is no other recreation on space here for their recreation.

Suggestions to Prevent Fires Over Christmas

Millions of Canadian families have purchased Christmas trees and decorated them in the past. Here are some suggestions are offered by the CUA to keep your Christmas tree fireside:

1. When you buy a Christmas tree, choose one which appears fresh.

2. Your local place the tree in the coolest part of the room, away from radiators, heaters and the fireplace. This will help keep the tree fresh and reduce the chance of fire.

3. Your Christmas tree stand should be full of water and kept filled with water container at which the trunk can rest. Fresh trees will drink a surprising amount of water, and you should fill the water container daily.

4. Only flame-proof decorations should be used on the tree. Those made of paper, metal or plastic are resistant to [illegible]

5. Use only electric lights to illuminate the tree, and be sure to check light strings before placing them on the branches. Those with frayed wires should be thrown away.

6. The switch controlling the tree lights should be some distance from the tree

7. Electric trains — part of Christmas in many homes — should be set up away from the tree. Sparks from toy trains could be fire hazards.

8. Lights on Christmas tree always should be turned off when everyone is away from home.

9. Check the tree frequently for dryness. In particular, check tree needles near lights. If they have started to turn brittle change the position of the lights.

10. When needles become dry they start falling, take the tree down at once and put it outdoors.

11. When Christmas presents are opened, the gift wrappings you intend to keep should be folded and put away. Other paper, ribbon and boxes should be gathered up and thrown away promptly

12. Even if the tree still appears to be fresh, take it down the day after New Years

13. Merry Christmas!

When we think of Christmas in Canada, a glistening, carpet of [illegible] dancing to the sleigh bells. People warm up inside from [illegible] skiing and skating and gaily trapped packages [illegible] Christmas wreaths in their mouths, finish [illegible] evergreens to be picked with [illegible] and Santa Claus parades. Exotic customs [illegible] Christmas balls [illegible] Yet they're all an integral part of our Yuletide [illegible]

However, Christmas customs, like other [illegible] vary from country to country. And Canadians travelling abroad at this time of year might well rub their eyes in wonder at the preparations for Christmas in other lands.

In the Bahamas, Christmas is a curious blending of traditions brought over from Britain and adapted to the local life. For instance, father takes the children to the pine barrens to chop down a tree, then everyone hunts for wild orchids to display at Christmas.

Fiji Islands' answer to parades is village chieftains before dawn on Christmas day are awakened with gifts of whale's teeth and straw mats. Sucking pigs are then roasted over open pits, and outrigger canoe races are held.

Caroling, Mass Are Traditional Among Austrians

At each house along the way greetings of "Frochliche Weihnachten" are exchanged and the inhabitants fall in line.

Christmas Eve carol-singing and Midnight Mass are also a part of the British holiday tradition.

The custom of hanging up mistletoe dates back to the Druids, who used the plant in their religious rites. Burning the Yule log is another custom borrowed by the British from the Vikings, who first burned it in honor of their god Thor.

Holiday Menus Festive Occasion In Other Countries

In France after the [illegible] have been consumed, [illegible] gifts are exchanged [illegible] around the [illegible] festive board.

Elsewhere the menu may be highlighted by such items as buckwheat cakes and sour cream, [illegible] chestnuts served with milk, fruit and chestnuts served [illegible]

Many homes in France are decorated with Christmas trees although trees are not displayed in public places to the extent of [illegible] them in America.

Be Sure To Test Your Three Holiday H's

Hurry hustle and hustle Holiday, and this H's all go together. And they often interfere with another "H" — hospitality. Mayme Schoenover, extension nutritionist university of Wyoming.

Her recommendations for a holiday without hasty - hurry - hustle, and with time for hospitality? It takes a little doing and planning but it is well worth the effort. Here are a few suggestions:

1. Block the pantry shelf with canned meats for sand wiches and nibblings.
2. Store extra cheese and dips in the refrigerator.
3. Add extra boxes of fancy crackers to your usual supply
4. Make some plain and fancy cookies and store them in the refrigerator or closed containers.
5. Make a dessert that you can freeze or store in the refrigerator.

Tree History Credits Luther For Decorations

Everyone has heard the story of how Martin Luther, impressed by the beauty of the heavens and the stars twinkling under a starry sky, brought a small evergreen into his home and decorated it with lighted candles.

Luther lived from 1483 to 1546, in Germany. Until about 1700, it is believed, the Christmas tree custom was confined to the Rhine River district, at which time its popularity began to spread and lights were generally accepted as decorations.

It has been established that Hessian soldiers, fighting in the American Revolution, did much to popularize Christmas trees in this country. A description of Christmas festivities at Fort Dearborn, Ill., in 1804 mentions a Christmas tree.

Lacombe, Drum Tie 3-3 In Overtime Game Here

Lacombe Rockets were forced to settle for a tie with Drumheller Miners after a scoreless overtime period in the Memorial Arena on Saturday night.

After a lethargic first period the game really opened up after the Miners scored twice 2:3 early in the second stanza, giving the Drumheller boys a 2-0 lead.

Lacombe came on strong in the third period and Bentley Gall scored at 7:30 to make it 2-1.

A tremendous sudden death overtime session saw the Rockets outshoot the Miners 11-1, but no goals were scored. Erratic shooting, backchecking and good defensive work helped the split the points.

It was a tough for the locals and Jimmy Brown drew home a drawn because they all know rebound from Bentley and that two points in the standings are the Rockets backhanded shot. He got the big boost in the battle for the

Held to a 3-3 tie by the Drumheller Miners and misdemeanor the Rockets face three "must-win" games. Red Deer Rustlers come to visit the stadium here on Boxing Day (Wednesday) in a holiday game which starts at 2:30. City in Turkey is Linked With Virgin Mary

A ruined city in Turkey has been linked to the Virgin Mary.

Ephesus, a ghost city last some 35 miles from Izmir, Turkey, near the Aegean Sea. It is a meeting place of archeologists, chiefly interested in the Temple of Diana, one of the Seven Wonders of the World.

In recent years, however, Christian pilgrims come in increasing numbers, drawn by the old tradition that Mary spent her final years there, cared for by St. John the Apostle.

Here, amid the tumbled ruins of the sixth century church of St. John a tiny chapel is believed by many to stand over the site of Mary's home. Local tradition says that both Mary and John died in Ephesus, but their tombs were never discovered.

Though Goths destroyed Ephesus in A.D. 262, the christianized city revived and was the seat of two of the most important councils in Roman Catholic history.

Later invasions by Arabs, Turks and Mongols completed its ruin. The harbor silted up, and Ephesus sank into oblivion.

At present, St. John's church is being restored in an American-Turkish project inspired and led by a Lane, Ohio businessman.

Xmas Trees Commercially Grown Now

The commercial Christmas tree you buy this year most likely didn't "just grow" like topsy. Chances are the tree you enjoy during the holidays has for several years received the careful attention found in farm fields.

Growing Christmas trees requires almost as much care as tobacco, cotton, or any other commercial crop . . . and Christmas trees are grown with the idea of producing a compact, well-shaped tree about seven or eight years old . . .

. . . have been established such high standards that great stress is put on the quality of the tree, whether it be Fraser fir, Douglas fir, red cedar, Scotch pine, Arizona cypress, white pine or other popular varieties . . .

Commercial growers of the Fraser fir, for instance, start cutting both the side and top branches when the tree is about two or three feet high. Each year, in August months, the tree is sheared . . .

The average grower plants 2,700 trees to the acre. Each year he mows around them by weed control and he maintains fire lanes. He examines each tree once a year and each tree is sheared annually the third through the sixth years . . .

The big job harvesting comes the seventh year. Trees are carefully cut and transported immediately to market, where they will soon delight boys and girls of all ages . . .

CUESS WHO . . .

Yule Greens Highly Prized By Householder

You can get a Christmas bonus by pruning evergreens in December. The bonus Yule greens . . .

Foundation plantings around the house or in the garden fence will yield a surprising amount of decorative greens. And the shrubs and trees will be better for the pruning if it is done judiciously . . .

Start with a snap-like shears or sharp knife. Wear gloves and use hail to wrap the resin ends of branches . . .

Snap and cut, never ruthlessly hack. Cut a branch at a slant to a bud, twig or limb. Never cut beyond green wood. Always . . . make the cuts conform to the symmetry of shrub or tree . . .

Holly, Mountain and Pine, especially white and Austrian pine, can withstand rather heavy pruning. Remove an inch of every second or third branch of hemlock, spruce or pine will promote better growth if these trees have not been pruned for some time. But be moderate in pruning a fir . . .

It is best to gather Yule greens from home grounds, a few days before you start decorating the hearth, the mantel, newel post or the door wreath . . .

Historical Customs Prevail For Swiss Over Christmas

Switzerland . . . celebrates . . . time of Christmas on December 6, the birthday of St. Nicholas of Myra, the first Santa Claus . . .

Although celebrations are greatly . . . much the same, each village . . . has its own way of celebrating the good Saint's gift . . .

Reveillon in France Is Elaborate Feast

In France, where the season's greeting is "Joyeux Noel," many homes now have Christmas trees as well as the traditional creche created with terra cotta figures called santons . . .

This custom can be traced back to the 12th century when it took the form of a liturgical drama . . .

Young French children, like children throughout the world, will - or should - be asleep when the adult members of the family return home from midnight Mass on Christmas Eve . . .

If they happen to be awake . . . when they arrive, they may take part in the Reveillon . . .

The elaborate feast of many . . . courses begins with pate de foie gras and oysters. Roast turkey or goose with all the trimmings fol- . . . low among with a variety of compliments cheeses and fruits . . .

Topping off the meal is the traditional buche de Noel, a long shaped cake with chocolate icing simulating bark . . .

FOREVERMORE

The mistletoe which means "all heal" is believed by the Druids to have magic powers to protect those who owned it from witchcraft, land disease neutralize poisons and bestow fertility. Being a betrothal with it also beneath the mistletoe assured a couple of all blessings and a lifetime of happiness . . .

Modern Candles Made With Paraffin Wax

Although we have substituted the electric bulb for the candle as decorations for the Christmas tree, the candle is still very much a part of the Christmas observance. It has been so for centuries . . .

The earliest candles were gifts of rushes, soaked in house-hold grease. Later came candles of flax and cotton threads, dipped in hot tallow and allowed to cool . . .

Beeswax candles have been in use many long before the first Christmas, and are still popular. The Catholic church still prescribes beeswax candles for liturgical services . . .

Today, however, most candles are made of paraffin wax, which was introduced in the nineteenth century, or of stearine, or some mixture of the two. Stearic acid is used primarily to hold the color, that, to stiffen the candles, and to make the wax less transparent . . .

As early as the thirteenth century, a guild of candlemakers in Paris, France went from house to house making candles. In those days the candle provided the only light in the home window. Yet . . . to come were oil, gas and electricity . . .

Modern lighting developments might have spelled the death of the candle industry. But, such was not the case. Candles were handy items to have around the house during the early days of electricity and most homemakers still keep a supply of candles in a handy spot. Beeps and accidents still cause electricity . . .

For the most part, however . . . candle is decorative, particularly . . . prepared for the Christmas season. One French product is Lumiere . . . from lumiere (light) and jour (day), each . . . turns out millions of candles in four hundred different shapes, colors and sizes . . .

Mass production is essential for such volume, yet candle-making is still a precise art as most of the coloring and decorating is still done . . .

Town Gaily Decorated

TOWN residents are to be congratulated on the time and effort they have spent in erecting outdoor festive decorations. Each string of lights seems to dance in the night and wave a hand of good cheer to onlookers. There are festivity scenes and a number of other designs brought to life on handsome under floodlight. All are a source of glitter and joy in keeping with the Yuletide spirit.

A Christmas of Old

HAVE you ever wondered what older folks are talking about when they speak of a "Christmas of old"? What is an old-fashioned Christmas?

Certainly, it is impossible for us to go back to the "horse-and-buggy" days. We can't even get back to the days of the "Model T."

We live in a modern world. We have modern transportation. We have modern conveniences. In the old days, Sunday was "dress-up" day and when folks went for a stroll or a sunny ride, they donned their Sunday best. Today, we wear whatever we please: take a bath or so to drive to a place where no one knows us — or cares what we wear.

We can't go back to the old days. So, what can we do about Christmas? Simply, we can observe Christmas in the traditional way.

We must remember that Christmas is a religious holiday, a day given to observance of the greatest event in the history of mankind — the birth of a Redeemer. Let us keep Christmas a religious holiday.

And let us keep Christmas as a family observance. Christmas becomes more meaningful when families join together, make gifts together and engage in social affairs in which all family members have a part.

Santa is No Comic

ONE of our readers raised a complaint the other day about the current trend to lampoon Santa Claus in caricature. He is pictured in front of a store ringing his Christmas bell and sporting an obvious shiny red nose. Or he is shown with a cigar sticking out of the corner of his mouth wise-cracking with a passerby.

These cartoons may raise a smile in an adult, but what about small children looking at the same picture? In the mind's eye of a small child Santa is pure at heart and a figure of joy, synonymous with gift-giving in the meaningful spirit of Christmas. What is a child's reaction when he sees his ideal ridiculed by some cartoonist who is "trying to be funny"?

This reader has a good point. Lord knows we have done enough to tarnish the sparkle of Christmas without trying to destroy a child's image of Santa Claus.

The Spirit of Christmas

ON every hand, if you listen, you can hear the voices about that [illegible] commercial. We are getting too far away from the real meaning of Christmas.

So, what else is new? This has been the cry for years. Our grandfathers complained that things were getting out of hand. Our parents, to some degree, felt that the customs and trappings associated with Christmas were getting somewhat overdone.

Whether we like it or not, many of the customs and traditions associated with Christmas had their beginnings in pagan rites and festivals. The early Christians faced the tremendous problem of converting pagans who had worshipped the sun and indulged in mid-winter festivals for many millenniums.

The early progress of Christianity made gradual inroads into the pagan masses the new converts changing their mid-winter ceremonies honoring the physical sun to celebrations recognizing the divine Son.

Even then, Christian leaders protested any association between ancient rituals and the Christian celebration. Origin, one of the early church leaders, complained that the people were honoring Christ's birthday "as if He were a King Pharoah." St. Gregory admonished Christians that they [illegible] Christmas "rather a heavenly and not an earthly matter."

There is much that is commercialized about the Christmas. And, some have lost sight of the true meaning of Christmas. Yet, the spirit of Christmas still dwells among us. All we need do is open our eyes and our hearts.

Reflections of the Times

The Month of December

December . . . the last or twelfth month of the year, in which the sun enters the tropic of Capricorn and makes the winter solstice.

December is really mis-named. It derives from the Latin 'decem', ten. The ancient Romans, who were clever enough to devise a calendar, started the year off in March, named after Mars, the god of war. December then became the tenth month.

Saturday calendar makers, either carelessly or through indolence, never changed the name and that is why we still call the 12th month December.

In Alberta the month of December may be cold and stormy. Then again, it may not. In our temperamental climate almost anything can happen.

But the month always brings clear nights when the star-spangled heavens seem less remote and the great constellations swing in to their winter positions, the planets loom large and weightlessly and all glitter with unusual brightness.

Ursus Major, otherwise known as the Great Bear, the Dipper or Charles Wane Langs low in the sky of late evenings and above Cassiopia, the Queen reclines in her chair [illegible]

Perseus, the eastern sky centered by the bright star Rigel. Above that is the galaxy known as the Pleiades, glittering like a swarm of fireflies tangled in a silver braid."

In the west Aquila, the Eagle, is located above the horizon, while Pegasus, the winged horse is visible in the southern skies. And the Milky Way spreads across the heavens in a mysterious and beautiful pattern.

This December winter sky in Alberta is a wondrous spectacle. It is a panorama of unearthly beauty which all can enjoy to the fullest extent and at no monetary cost.

Coal production in the Drumheller Valley for the first nine months of 1962 is down slightly from the corresponding total last year according to S. G. Mr. McMullen reports that during September 52,849 tons were mined, considerably down from the 68,897 tons in September of last year. He attributes the decrease mainly because of the warm weather.

There are four mining concerns in the Drumheller Valley. The two major concerns are at East Coulee. Other mines operating are north of Drumheller.

Happy New Year!

May I take this opportunity to wish you all a very happy and prosperous New Year.

1962 was on the average for the county a very good year. Crop yields were average or better. Prices for both hogs and cattle have been good and so top it all off we have had a long open fall.

What's ahead for 1963? This is always a good question and one for which no one can know. However, it is always possible to make a few calculated guesses.

It is anticipated that cattle will fall off somewhat until early spring and then make a little recovery. Overall cattle prices for 1963 are not expected to be as good as for 1962.

As to the weather, who knows or would even venture to guess.

Book Review . . . .

"SETTLED OUT OF COURT"

By Henry Cecil

I ran across this short novel in the Lacombe Library while searching the shelves for Cecil's "Daughters in Law," which is in the new block of books. I couldn't find it, but figured another story by the [illegible] would be as good.

This wacky piece of literature is written in the Wodehouse style. It's very, very English. The humor is very, very dry.

While the plot is far-fetched, the characters that motivate the story are plausible. The average reader will [illegible] the action with a smile on his lips, even though there is a serious side to the build-up — a convicted man who is fighting for his life.

The man is Lansdale Walsh, who feels he has been falsely imprisoned on a charge of murder through perjured evidence. He's a rich man, so he spends a load hiring outside thugs to arrange for his jail escape. Then by devious means he tricks the original witnesses into a second trial which he holds in a succeeded house. They are unwilling hostages, as are the upright lawyers pleading the case and a pissed judge who is forced to sit as a one-man jury.

The author reveals unusual knowledge of law. He writes with tongue in his cheek, to use a hackneyed expression.

I found the most enjoyable episodes in the opening chapters. While Walsh's daughter is seeking a "suitable" lawyer for her father's daring scheme, she studies several likely candidates. There is a very amusing sequence in court involving a young lawyer called, Tewkesbury. He and the judge have some hilarious exchanges. Typical British wit, you understand.

This is a fairly short book that a fast reader could finish in one sitting.

We all wish to extend to you Christmas greetings and good will, and may hamilton a Holiday cheer be yours.

The safest air or B-B gun is not a consistent threat, even though [illegible] are forbidden in many communities.

"If you give your child an air gun, impress upon him the dangers of the trouble. Many of the [illegible] injuries come from the [illegible] shooting off a firecracker [illegible] side of a house. Potted Plants Need Special Care

Christmas and holiday gift potted plants will live better and last longer if you observe a few easy care tips to insure their health.

To guard against over-watering and over-heating, it's essential to keep them in porous clay pots, secure by holding professional growers and florists to insure that you receive plants of the highest quality, well-fertilized and well rooted.

Watered, the [illegible] and drainage hole will automatically drain off excess moisture that might otherwise rot your plant. This is particularly important for porcelain or [illegible] which prefer and thrive best under [illegible] conditions than most plants.

3½-Mile-Long Plant

Queen Elizabeth is obviously fascinated by this amazing cluster of switches, lights and panels in the control pulpit of the 100-million-pound Spencer steel works near Newport in South Wales. Here the Queen watches one of the finest steel manufacturing processes. The plant is 3½ miles long, and employs a 6,000 force.

Postmark in Florida Attracts Wide Attention

Each year, Yuletide Greetings are accepted for mailing from the town of Christmas by the Greater Orlando Chamber of Commerce.

Christmas is located 21 miles east of Orlando. Cards which are hoard and wrapped and have the correct postage are sent by the Chamber at P.O. Box 1913, Orlando, Fla.

The town of Christmas today is a symbol of peace and good will. But it was established as a Post to provide protection against hostile Indians 126 years ago.

Traditional Nativity Scenes Popular in Spain

Nativity scenes are so popular in Spain that vendors set up stands before the holiday to offer clothed clay, wood and cardboard figures which are arranged into Nativity scenes, known locally as "Belenes" or "Nacimos".

In some villages it is custom to award a prize for the best arrangement of a Belenes.

Follow Rules For Lights on Outdoor Trees

Needles of yew, arborvitae (chamaecyparis and hemlock are sensitive to heat from bulbs. Pine, spruce and fir require the same precaution.

Bulbs of 15 wattage are sufficient. Never let the bulbs touch the needles. Hang sockets downward to prevent water and snow from collecting in them. Use rubber-jacketed or lacquered cord to connect the lights.

Periodically check the position of the lights because wards may shift their position.

Evergreen Symbols

Egyptians, celebrated the winter solstice (shortest day of the year) by bringing green date palms into their homes as a symbol of "life triumphant over death."

The evergreen bough was used by the Romans in their observance of the feast of Saturn.

Fabled Description Of Santa Claus Now Famous

"He was dressed all in furs from his head to his foot, and his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot. He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf, and I laughed when I saw him in spite of myself."

These words from Clement Clark Moore's "A visit From St. Nicholas" gave to the world its popular image of Santa Claus. For appearance sake we name Santa's helper as pictured clean-shaven red and plump, a right jolly old elf, but he's still a jolly old elf.

Coffee (a) on washable fabrics — wash fresh stains in cool water. Then wash in warm suds and rinse. If stains persist, soak in cool water overnight. If grease remains, sponge with cleaning fluid before washing in cool water. If stains remain use an approved alcohol bleach. Minor Road Accidents in Area Last Week

Icy patches on No. 13 highway north west east of Lacombe contributed to two accidents early last week near the town limits, according to RCMP from Red Deer.

Mrs. O. Wollmer of Aspen Beach received lacerations and bruises when her car skidded onto the ditch about two miles west of Lacombe. There was little damage to the car.

Reaches Destination Despite Obstacles

A Christmas parcel from Grimshaw insufficiently addressed "RR#4, Lacombe" might have ended up in the dead letter office but for the perseverance of the local postal staff.

First the parcel was opened to see if it contained a return address. It didn't, but it did contain eight gifts with first name labels — "Henry Susie, Leona, Heide, Freda Herbert Dianna, Ivan" families.

It remained for postmaster Percy Thompson to study the names of over 30 families on the rural route, and he finally struck pay dirt with a telephone call to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Penner and their six children.

Mr. Penner who gave this story to The Globe is grateful for such good mail service "beyond the call of duty." In time for Christmas too!

The attendance states Mr. Pugh a "indeed very gratifying and bespeaks well of the co-operation and interest shown by the respective communities as well as by the general public as a whole."

Motor Accidents Over Holiday

[illegible] J. R. Davies [illegible] Lacombe hospital with superficial [illegible] and two broken ribs [illegible] in Lacombe [illegible] collision on the corner of 52 street and 50 avenue last Friday morning about 8:30.

[illegible] Sunday [illegible] being [illegible] Dr. Davies [illegible] with 1962 three-ton Chev Crew/Fire Transport truck operated by [illegible] D. Chilton of Lacombe. Damage to the [illegible] is estimated at $800 to the truck about $100.

Lacombe police said a [illegible] being held against Dr. Davies for entering an intersection when it was unsafe to do so.

A number of highway accidents were also reported by RCMP during the week, with icy roads contributing to the usual [illegible] winter driving conditions.

On Dec. 21 Trevor Hopkins of Lacombe left the road on the slippery hill on the northern outskirts of Red Deer near the AMA building. He was uninjured, but damage to the car was estimated at about $1,000.

Extensive damage also resulted to two passenger vehicles in a highway crash on Dec. 22 about one mile west of town involving Jim Alexander of Lacombe and Walter Peters of Edmonton by authority of investigating officers. Alexander's car was considered [illegible] for safety purposes.

District Farmer Is Traffic Victim

One of the first traffic fatalities on the new No. 2 highway bypass occurred 14 miles south of the Lacombe intersection when a Lacombe district farmer, James Ferguson Walker died from internal injuries sustained in a two-car [illegible] collision.

The Christmas holiday traffic victim was driving a [illegible] eight-delivery truck when he collided onto the highway and [illegible] with a [illegible].

He was admitted to Lacombe hospital about 4:35 p.m. on Boxing day, Dec. 26, 1962 and died three hours later from internal injuries. He was 66 years old. Two persons were from Calgary in the other car were treated as outpatients only.

Funeral services for the late Mr. Walker were held last Thursday from Evendale funeral chapel in Red Deer, with Rev. Nicholas Bezuke of Lacombe officiating. Interment followed in the Red Deer cemetery.

Pallbearers were Robert Park, George Moore, Raymond Reriel, R. Van Dyke, Paul Brown and Kenneth Kane.

The deceased was born in the [illegible] on October, 20, 1896 and [illegible] to Alix on 1954.

Reid River. In April, 1961 he took over a farm two miles [illegible] south of Lacombe.

He was predeceased by his first wife in 1953, and is survived by his second wife Frances of Lacombe, one son, Clifford Walker of Sudbury Ont., six grandchildren, two brothers, and one sister of Shelburne Ont.

Hobby Corner

Shaws Own Fine Rock Collection

Many people have different hobbies and one of the most interesting and rewarding is Mr. and Mrs. Jim Shaw at 5716-48 Ave., Lacombe, is a fine rock collection.

They have upwards of 2,000 pieces of mineral fossil stones, agates and minerals in a hobby that started ten years ago.

An entire room in their basement is filled with these hobby pieces, and they have many visitors — mostly outsiders rather than [illegible].

This is because they belong to the "old timers rock round neo-custom of Americ" and since each of the 2,000 to 3,000 members are listed in the directory with their addresses, a lesson and interchange of visits is promoted that extends into trading.

Most of the Shaw's valuable pieces are native to Alberta, but [illegible] between members that has allowed them to build up their collection using Alberta d-severes, particularly from the Drumhellir badlands as trade bait.

Thus they have agate samples from every western State, the majority from Montana. There are beautiful colors of reds and blues and purples and practically every other shade in these rich stones that are kept in a glass case in the [illegible].

There there are two tables of fluorescent minerals that come from all parts of the U.S., from the Pacific on the west, to New Hampshire in the east and to Florida in the south.

These minerals make the most exquisite colors when they are brought to life in a darkened room under ultra-violet lights of short wave and long wave.

Then there is petrified bark from South Dakota, and crystals from various parts of the States.

Further afield, the Shaws are proud of opals from Australia, rubies from India, tiger-eyes from Africa, crystals from Switzerland, sodalite from Germany, and petrified [illegible] from Ireland and Mexico.

Classic horse, the Shaws have some splendid specimens that the average individual doesn't know [illegible].

There are leaf fossils for every [illegible] in our own Burbank area south of Lacombe. The Shaws have 51 different types of leaves they have identified. They go under botanical names, but include willows, poplars, ash, wild [illegible].

The leaf has become impressed into the stone over thousands of years under pressure and heat.

Dinosaur bones from the Drumheller Valley have been collected by the hundreds. One piece in five sections is a good 3½ feet long, and while Jim wouldn't say what part of the body it is "I presume it's a leg bone."

Some bones are agatized, that is they have crystallized and taken on the appearance of gems and stones that can be made into better quality jewellery than [illegible].

Incidentally, the Shaws have made some beautiful jewellery from these finds, including rings, brooches, tie-pins, cuff links, key chains, etc.

There is petrified wood that finds most colorful around Drumheller. This is recovered in gravel pits and river bottoms. There are some perfect pine cones, as fossil form from the Drumheller area, and some petrified moss which is prevalent at Rumsa.

The Shaws have many other specimens, and one grouping that sort of "ties together" includes ammonites (small-type early mammal) from southeast of Medicine Hat, burdales (pre-historic fish) from Berry Creek southeast of Hanna, and sea-grasses (similar to kelp) and clams and shark's teeth from the Drumheller area.

These finds lends one to believe that the whole province was under ocean water at one time.

On being asked what he thought his collection was worth, Jim replied he hadn't stopped to assess the value. He was finally prodded into guessing. "Well over $1,000 — but I wouldn't take that for it."

Interesting Hobby

Jim Shaw holds a leaf fossil in front of a wall lined with these rare relics in his basement collection room. In the top picture Jim and Molly Shaw stand on either side of a redwood containing many types of stones and petrified woods. The redwood knee end motor trips usually end up with a crafty search of the countryside for more additions to their rock collection. The province of Alberta is a "happy hunting ground" with areas like the Drumheller Badlands.

At present, the Smokies' tour due to play an exhibition game here on January 10, starting at 8:45. They would then play another games against Red Deer, Drumheller and Olds on successive nights. These tentative plans had not been confirmed by noon today, but local hockey officials are confident that the game will be made. The game will provide the Allan Cup-bound Rockets with an opportunity to try their mettle against a top drawer senior "A" club.

Bill McCulley of Red Deer Faces Assault Charge

Bill McCulley, coach of the Red Deer Rustlers, who lost to rapper in Lacombe police court next Monday, on a charge of assault laid by Mrs. Peter Lingle of Lacombe.

The charges were filed by Mrs. Grant following a Red Deer-Lacombe hockey game at jubilee stadium last December 1 in which coach McCulley is alleged to have slapped at a placard being held by the lady during her visit to the side and hurt with his hockey stick.

The case was first heard on December 13, and remanded by Magistrate W. H. Cook to January 7 when the accused entered a plea of not guilty.

Lacombe 5, Red Deer 2

Ron Twomey, Jon Boots and Jim Twomey each tallied singletons as the multi-span thrilling game which saw the Rockets in control from the first. The locals moved into a 2-0 first period lead and increased their margin to 4-0 by the end of the second stanza Olds on Sunday.

The victory left the Rockets firmly entrenched on third spot in league standings, five points behind the league-leading Elks and two points down on the Old Kings.

Olds Takes Doubleheader

But the gaudy Elks took the measure of the Rockets over the week-end for their third and fourth straight wins over Lacombe by counts of 4-0 at the stadium here Saturday and 6-4 at Olds on Sunday.

The Rockets could do nothing right Saturday night against the experienced Elks crew. Playing before a crowd of around 500 fans the locals peppered Adam Kryenka with 41 shots, but could not pass any of them home as Buck Crawford tallied three times for the visitors and Mike Dudley added another as the Elks 4-0 win.

At Olds on Sunday the Rockets outplayed the Elks by a wide margin, but again were set back by the smooth-passing Olds squad. Dickie Dunnegan scored three for the Rockets and Jim Brown tallied the fourth as the losing cause.

Of the six games the Rockets have had this season to date, four of them have been dropped to the Elks.

Lacombe 6, Red Deer 4

1,000 fans saw a thrilling holiday game at the jubilee stadium here last Wednesday afternoon when the Rockets came from behind to defeat Red Deer 6-4.

Rockets goalie Ross Gillow was a tower of strength for the Rockets as the first chapter when Kings kept the locals at bay in the game. The Rustlers dominated play peppered the Rocket net with rubber, but were unable to cash in on their opportunities and the score was even.

Eight goals were tallied in the middle stanza Harvey Fleming and Wayne Gow put Rustlers 2 up before Dunnegan scored his first of the afternoon and Al LaPlante rifled one home to knot the count. Two minutes later, the Rockets again faced a two-goal deficit when former Lacombe school hockey star Gieg Tunnaly rapped in two goals within less than two minutes. Ed Zemens and Dickie Dunnegan got those back for the locals before the period ended.

In the third period, Reg Tousley pushed a scorper of the net and beat Dale Cosens cleanly to give Lacombe a one-goal edge. With less than 14 minutes to go, Jim Brown slapped the puck out of Gauvin's glove and into the net while the Rustlers were short-handed.

The game had speed, thrills, beautiful body-checking by Ed Zemens, and lots of goals for the fans being the entertainment was a faithful duel between Tom Maley of the Rustlers and Rocket captain Johnny Young who squared off in front of the Red Deer net. Both were banished for five minutes at the 17:44 mark of the final period.

Harvey Fleming added his own comment penalty and one-game little fuss to the game with a suspension and fine for the round bound of referee-baiting after full-time bought.

1963 Through Rose Colored Glasses

THINGS we would like to see in 1963:

— A chronic hospital in La combe instead of promises from the provincial government.

— An end to "the twist as a dance craze.

— Wire clothes hangers that don't snarl up when you want one for a suit.

— Another grain contract with Red China, even though the Canadian government might take non-sense in payment.

— Success to Britain in joining the European Common Market.

— A big industry moving to La combe to stimulate the local economy.

— Maiden speech in parliament by our local MP Harry Mucro.

— A reduced majority for premier Manning's Social Credit party in the provincial election, since a much stronger opposition in the legislature is desirable.

— Success to Lacombe's new bowling alley which the town needs.

— An Allen Cup hockey championship for the Lacombe Rockets.

— A Grey Cup football final featuring teams other than the Winnipeg Blue Bombers and Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

— A chronic hospital in La combe, instead of promises from Hon. A R Patrick.

— A happy and prosperous New

Prosperity in 1963? To All!

THERE is more grain in the bins this year The cattle have had an easier time outdoors with a mild beginning to winter Livestock prices are holding up well There was an open fall to clean up on farm work

On the whole the farmer is in an optimistic frame of mind as 1963 dawns He is looking forward to another good crop year A strong demand for his products that will ensure a good income

As agriculture is still the No 1 industry in a community like La combe, this sounds encouraging for business in the town and trading area.

We can talk about our oil and coal industries, it's still the farmer who decides how prosperous a town like Lacombe will be

As we say, the indications are promising. The year 1963 should be a good one

Liquor Returns

JUST as 1962 came to an end, the provincial government released statistics on Alberta liquor sales during the last fiscal year

Total sales were near 76 millions, on which the Alberta liquor control board made a gross profit of almost 26 millions Record operating costs reduced the net profit to a mere 21½ millions

Those who drink alcoholic beverages deplore what they consider to be excessive government taxes

"The Weekly Rag"

AN article from a trade journal, Grassroots Editor, makes this statement about weekly newspapers which is worth reprinting:

"A newspaper's readers regard it as a piece of public property They feel they have a share in it without actually owning any stock."

This feeling of community ownership is what gives the weekly newspaper its unique strength.

The subscriber who believes that the paper partly belongs to him takes a special interest in its publication Be contributes to the news columns, and looks through the columns to learn what's going on locally.

He can call it the weekly rag or whatever he likes, and he can kid the editor about the mistakes that inadvertently appear

But it's still the hometown newspaper, and the publisher enjoys "help" from customers Most times this reward is enough to offset the long hours and hard work a publisher usually finds he must do to get his paper out on time every week

The relationship of the weekly publisher to the public is not unlike that of a school yearbook staff to the student body

There's a need for the publication, there must be direction provided by the editors, then everyone pitches in to make the product as homey and worthwhile as possible High readership guarantees good advertising results

This is a community newspaper in every sense of the word, just as most weekly papers

Twentieth Anniversary

The Alaska Highway was twenty years old this week It was completed November 20, 1942 — eight months and 11 days after it began The construction job was one of the epics of roadbuilding It ranks with the Burma Road and the Inca pire-linking highways of the Romans.

The big job was marked "complete" in a brief ceremony at Fraser Lake with a cold wind whipping away the words of the few speakers and shaking the ribbon that was cut to mark the formal opening In the years that have followed Northerners have come to accept the Alaska Highway as a matter of course — as though it had always been there We don't do justice to the marvelous engineering job nor to the men who turned the first sod in thirty-below weather at Dawson Creek and who worked on through the cold to the mosquito season and back to the cold again before the project was done

Now, in the words of the U S Army Engineers" . . . the 1,630-mile wartime road has developed into the Alaska Highway, a road of destiny to many northern emigrants, an exciting road to thousands of tourists and a route for inland shipping

"It's been improved and maintained in first class shape by the Canadian Army in conditions of climate and tough terrain that haven't improved a bit since that first 30-below encounter with the country. It runs by our door — one of the Yukon's chief arteries. and yet we take it all for granted.

At least one enduring feature of its construction days is the wry humor preserved from its builders Most of us have heard over and over the comments handed down from the construction men such as "Man, when you've got to look south to see the Northern Lights, why Man, you're too far North," or "All they got up there is miles and miles and miles."

FIRE BUILDERS YEAR

When the year 1962 is over, Drumheller can look back on the 12-month period as a record breaker in the building trade. What is Good Feed Grain

If grain has good weight it is usually also fairly good feed. However there are exceptions to this, the amount of protein in barley and oats can vary greatly. Wednesday afternoon during the agricultural meetings we will discuss this matter and other factors that affect the feeding value of grain.

Town Staff Lauded At Banquet Saturday

An impressive tabulation of the 1962 public works program was given by councillor Wes Jackson at a town sponsored banquet at the LMC Saturday evening when a minute was paid to town employees for the part they had played in completion of the projects.

Over 60 guests were on hand to enjoy a short banquet, entertainment by David Hopkins, a report by Mr. Jackson and colored films of town public works during the past two years.

"The work accomplished during 1962," Mr. Jackson stated, "is a credit to town workmen and only 30 strikes."

County foreman Carl Just, attended the meeting briefly to give progress report on the new high school addition at Lacombe He stated that structural work and re-wiring has been holding up completion, and that some electrical fixtures have not arrived yet but the contractor hoped for an inspection by the architect, superintendent shortly, probably for January 9 with a view to turning the completed building over to the county "around January 14 or 15."

At the county school committee meeting on Tuesday it was reported that completion of this building will be postponed "about one week" The contractor is expected to attend the next county council meeting tomorrow at 10 a.m. time it is hoped to set a definite time for inspection Ma date has been set for the take over of the new building by the county.

Leakage problems at the new Lacombe swimming pool have been solved and will be permanently corrected in the spring Ken Nyhuis of Western Swim Pools told The Globe Monday this week

Discuss Schools' Phys. Ed. Program

Members of the county school committee met Tuesday for one of their shortest regular meetings on record Convened at 9:30 a.m. the committee members broke off for lunch and were able to finish business at slightly after three o'clock in the afternoon

Physical education — its requirements and its place in the schools — was one item which was discussed at some length Physical education committee chairman Bill Lee gave a detailed report of equipment purchased for various schools in the county and stated that some requests for equipment from phys-ed supervisor Jim Lavers had been turned down.

In his committee report, Mr Lee pointed out that "we feel our physical education program in schools right now is pretty fair If we push it too far, are we interfering too much with other academic studies"

This prompted a general discussion which led to agreement that a proper balance between academic and phys-ed education programs is of vital importance to education.

Also brought up was the question of county school teams travelling to points many miles from the county — specifically to Calgary and Edmonton to compete in competitions Mr Lavers will be asked to cut back on scheduling such games for school teams at distant centres

A letter from N H Michael of the Sylvan school district concerning the costs of education of county pupils attending the Red Deer composite high school for academic courses was also dealt with

Below the foundation program has completely changed the grant picture where such pupils are concerned, committee members believed a thorough study of county policy should be made

Members S. Atkinson and E Somerville were appointed a committee of two to investigate, and bring in a report by the end of June with recommendations for required changes to policy.

How To Break Into a Bank . . . In Daylight

Anyone who thinks tunnelling into a bank is easy should inspect the troubles construction workers on the Royal Bank addition job are running into these days. The above picture was taken from the bank building basement looking out through a large hole jack-hammered through the concrete foundation wall. An old cook stove which is apparently a relic from the Victoria Hotel which once stood where the bank building is now under construction, also relics of the old hotel which burned down some 50 years ago.

Edmonton 9, Lacombe 3

Last night's Olds - Red Deer hockey fixture was postponed due to stormy weather conditions, and Lacombe Rockets should have taken the same rap and stayed away from Edmonton.

However they made their appearance at Edmonton Gardens and were promptly whacked 9-3 by the junior Oil Kings before a surprisingly good crowd of 5,100. The western pro league Flyers aren't drawing that well.

Lacombe 5, Drumheller 0

Plan School Clinics In Lacombe County

A number of classes in various sports are being planned in central Alberta by Jim Lawrence, county of schools sports supervisor-elect and president of the provincial high school athletic association. Secretary of the association is Mrs. Holly Mendoza, also of Lacombe.

At Kelville on Monday evening a high school "C" class basketball organization meeting was held to set up leagues for small high school basketball competition. A county league probably will be set up shortly as a result of this meeting.

Gino Fracas of Edmonton will be on hand before the end of this month to conduct a high school clinic on wrestling. Claire Drake of the university physical education department will conduct a clinic on hockey officiating. Dates of these January clinics will be announced within the next week.

Meanwhile, in February, plans are well advanced to have a one-day provincial badminton association clinic here for the betterment of junior high and high school badminton.

Hoopsters Split Two With Rocky

Lacombe Eagles won their second basketball game of the season on Friday night as they defeated Rocky Mountain House 48-21 in a game played at Rocky.

Lacombe was never behind and outscored the home team 13-3 in the final quarter to win going away.

Doris Reeve played a strong game for Lacombe, scoring 16 points and rebounding well offensively. Bruce McFadden was second high scorer with 10 points.

Three two received solid support from their team-mates in what proved to be a good team effort.

Lacombe Loses

The Lacombe girls were not quite so lucky, as they were defeated 32-20 by the host team. The girls battled gamely from a 12-0 defeat, but couldn't overcome this considerable lead. Maureen Thompson highlighted the Lacombe attack with an impressive [illegible] game.

Next game for the Lacombe Loop teams will be played Friday night when they travel to Delburne high school.

ANDY ADVANI

Lacombe Student-at-Law Admitted to the Bar

Gotam M "Andy" Advani, student-at-law with McCormack and McCormick law firm here for the past year, was admitted to the bar in Edmonton last Friday before Justice K. W. S. Kane of the appellate division of the supreme court of Alberta.

He was introduced and presented by D. R. McCormack of Lacombe.

Mr Advani is the first student-at-law to be admitted to the bar from Lacombe since J. B. McCuish Q.C. was admitted in 1922.

Born in Karachi now in Pakistan, Mr Advani is 27 years of age. He matriculated from Bombay and Poona, India, in 1953 and gained his bachelor of science degree from the University of Bombay in 1956, and his law degree from the same university in 1958.

He moved to Canada and gained his master of laws from the University of Toronto in 1961.

In December of that year, he moved to Lacombe to serve as a student-at-law with McCormick and McCormack.

CROWS IN JANUARY

Two county of Lacombe employees — Carl Jouti and Reg Olson, report seeing two crows west of Bentley while they were travelling from Bentley to Bluffton.

"We couldn't believe it," Mr Jouti told The Globe, but they were crows and apparently quite happy and satisfied with the winter weather we've been having.

Births at Hospital Here Show Slight Drop in 1962

● Births at the Lacombe municipal hospital in 1962 showed a slight drop from the 1961 total. Births in 1962 totalled 257 compared with 266 the previous year. It is interesting to note that more boys were born than girls in each of the last two years. In 1961 the figure of 266 births included 142 boys, 124 girls. Last year, there were 139 boys, 118 girls to make up the total of 257.

Expand Local Artificial Breeding Unit

Amalgamation of the Wetaskiwin and Lacombe artificial breeding associations became effective with the new year as soon announced last week by Jim Sabo Gun, secretary-treasurer of the Wetaskiwin artificial breeding association.

The Lacombe association has 1,300 members and to this membership will be added the 300 which joined by amalgamation of the two units.

Five technicians, who have operated from the Lacombe office during the past two years will be issued by another technician who will operate from a sub-office at Wetaskiwin.

A meeting is expected to be held some time this week to discuss details of the amalgamation. Present board of directors in the Lacombe association are

Lawrence Henderson of Lacombe is president of the Lacombe association, with the following board of directors: Don Langrick and Howard Young, Lacombe; Cliff Bentley, Tees; Hans Ahrens, Red Deer Art Arnott, Penola; Ed Olson, Bentley.

The Lacombe association boundaries, which formerly stopped to the north at the Holdenva reservation, are extended by the amalgamation through to Leduc and includes a large area to the west of Wetaskiwin to Warburg.

(Reporter, Hazel)

New officers for the Lincoln sports club will be elected at the next meeting to be held on Saturday, Jan. 26. Cold weather kept down the turnout at the Dec. 29 meeting (there were only nine members out) and it is hoped that there will be a much larger turnout at the meeting this month.

On the lunch committee are sandwiches, Ina Ross, Danny Wilson, Howard Kinley, cake, Doris Morter, Wilma Dool, cream, Elsie Flewelling.

Police Can Help Traffic

NOTICEABLY missing from downtown business section streets during the rush of Christmas shopping were local police officers. On many afternoons before Christmas, pedestrians continued to dart singly or in pairs across the intersection at 50 street and 50 avenue, stopping 50 street traffic and piling up cars to 51 avenue and beyond. This tie up led upon itself, and prevented the movement of dangerously-parked cars on 50 street, thus frustrating parking spaces for lengthy periods.

Numerous town customers and residents have commented that a policeman on foot, at the Royal Bank corner during such peak shopping hours could materially ease such a situation. He could patiently hold up pedestrian traffic for a short time to allow the cars passage; he could provide information and directions to strangers in town, he could serve as a goodwill ambassador of Lacombe by his very presence.

A Fine Publication

A RECENT publication by the department of industry and development of the Government of Alberta, entitled "Alberta Business Opportunities is worthy of honorable mention.

Consisting of some 100 pages, letterhead size, the soft-cover book makes an honest effort to indicate the presence and absence of qualified types of businesses in the towns and villages of the province.

Maps are used in connection with the province-wide location of more than 80 types of businesses and service — and indications are provided on each map as to locations which might support the particular type of establishment under survey

In a foreword in the book, Hon A. R. Patrick, minister of the department of industry and development, notes that " this booklet has been prepared to aid businessmen in selecting likely areas in which to start new operations."

The foreword goes on to state: "We feel that it is desirable that economic growth should be dispersed as uniformly as possible throughout the province, both for the convenience of individuals and to avoid too great a concentration of business specialization in only a few centres."

The booklet is well-prepared and well-planned The government and Mr. Patrick and his particular type of establishment under survey

Communists and Public Power

QUESTION of public power in the province seems to have caught on with various political parties as a vote-catching plat form plank. Latest one to publicly endorse the plan — although it is no surprise — is the communist party of Canada (Alberta committee)

In a press release, the party notes that a provincial convention was held late in November and that "nationalization of power in Alberta" is a feature to be much desired With this statement is included the necessity for a national power grid, the utilization of Alberta's large deposits of coal for thermal power and a few more thoughts about the need for public ownership of the Athabasca tar sands and so on

Communism of course, is completely socialistic and is based on the premise that a central government should be responsible for all a country's activities. When one thinks about it, it is basically no different than the theory behind the feudal systems of the dark ages where the entire country belonged to the state, as exemplified by the king If the king was a benevolent one, citizens were reasonably happy, but since absolute power and benevolence rarely go hand in hand, few residents of the middle ages lived better than an animal-like existence.

Use of Surnames

IT is an oddity of modern times that surnames are used hardly at all in conversation. There was a time, and not too long ago either, that "Mr Bennett" was introduced to "Mr Smith" and the use of the word "Mister" continued between the two until the time, if ever, that a close friendship was formed.

But today, introductions are based on a much more informal plane. At social gatherings, a host or hostess generally introduce strangers to one another as "this is mumble" this is "George mumble", and the suspicion arises as to whether the hostess ever knew themselves know the surname of their guests.

Could be that the vanishing surname is partly the result of the brevity television program master-of-ceremonies who invariably introduces his guests on a first-name basis, and continues the familiarity throughout the half-hour or hour-long show. It's "Al" this and "Jim" that, and the idea is implanted in the audience's mind that the two are pals from away back, although in truth they have probably known one another by name up to a week before — and then only by the name "Jack you know" or "Jim whatsisname".

But as William whatnyz said What's in a name?

Reflections of the Times

"Pie in the Sky Promises"

Political "pie in the sky" is once more up for grabs by the voters as the various parties square off for a provincial election expected in 1963

First with the Santa Claus generosity were the Liberals who have offered to take profits of private power companies and apply them to more and better services to the taxpayer.

Now Social Credit has come up with another "Five Year Plan" designed to increase the paternalism of the provincial government by increasing its expenditures on [illegible]

We have yet to hear from the [illegible] Conservatives, who, if past acts are the Christmas season but their "gift" will certainly compete in magnitude with the other two

The Times has said before, and we emphasize it again, that our need is for a political party or a government pledged to reduce wasteful and needless expenditures rather than seeking new sources of income to pay for ever increasing government paternalism

Intelligent voter: know that government income is not "profit" from any of its operations Every penny it spends must first come from the pocket of the voter When we vote for the expenditure of vast sums of money by a government it is just like signing a note at the bank We must pay for it in the end

Political parties are fully aware of this truth but are not averse to juggling figures to make it appear that the cost of their programs will be met from other than tax sources

Alberta has enjoyed excellent revenues from the oil industry for the past 15 years. But make no mistake, the royalties and lease revenues are just another name for taxes on this particular industry. It is not "found" money or "profit" for the government.

From the shelves of the Lacombe Public Library

"THE RED PEONY"

By Lin Yutang

I wasn't terribly impressed by this rather lengthy novel of over 400 pages about a highly attractive girl naturally who chases after romance against all the mores and custom of ancient China

The author capitalizes on the special attention being paid to sex in present-day fiction but even a topical subject like this palls when carried to excessive lengths

By this I don't mean that the romantic scenes and descriptions are offensive The author writes in good taste at all times However he doesn't supply enough variations as the beautiful young girl flits from one love affair to another

Always the attainment of a marriage and a home of her own is just beyond her capacity — both because of her nature and because her affairs all always with married men

I also found the ending disappointing and unlikely. The author would have done better to bring his exquisite creature to death on a cross were that taken place in the late pages As a matter he almost [illegible] her grave

The book has many plus features

Peony as the heroine is a fascinating and thoroughly unlikeable character The author writes with style and grace

He manages to introduce a certain philosophy on life with the [illegible] use of oriental proverbs He also gives some splendid descriptions of rice fields and paddies and the teeming waterways used to transport These passages about life in China are nearly overcooked as one reads about the exciting life of "The Red Peony

Fruit Juices vs. Fruit Drinks

Fruit drinks, a mixture of water with fruit juice, sugar, colouring agent and flavoring agent [illegible] sweet tooth of [illegible] to much confusion as the shopper In many families these fruit drinks have been substituted for carbonated products previously used to quench the thirst of the youngsters. In other families, the fruit drinks have been used in place of true fruit juices in the family diet

Processors are packing the two kinds of products in identical containers and using labels with similar appearance Shoppers must keep a sharp eye on the labels to keep from making the up

The significant difference between the juice and drink is the vitamin C content The chief nutritional contribution of citrus fruit juices, other than calorie energy, is vitamin C Some vitamin C the anti-scurvy vitamin, is often inadequately supplied in many diets, the possibility that fruit drinks might be substituted for a breakfast serving of citrus juice taken on significance

In comparing the juice and the drink there may be more than twice as much vitamin C in the juice as compared to the drink

In comparing the cost, the drink costs more than half the juice cost and you may be getting less than half the amount of vitamin C

"Kitchen Shower" Provides Equipment for Lunch Counter at New Alix Curling Rink

ALIX — Despite three cold days that improved everyone with its effects of sudden change, on Tuesday) was pleasant and Wednesday just as coldly unpleasant, curling and hockey fans occupying the centre of attention in the vicinity.

Kitchen at the curling rink presented a feminine touch last Thursday evening when it was the object of honor at the equipment shower when well-wishers turned up items that would be useful in such a place despite the fact that many of the said pieces were no longer needed in the home kitchen.

Hearty appreciation is extended to all ladies who so generously contributed to the furnishing of the kitchen, with a special nod of the hat to Leonard Lyle and Joe Cowton for a fine job of building the cupboards. The work was donated by Len and Joe.

Come and See!

Treat yourself to an hour or so at the curling rink some day soon. You will be thrilled with the accomplishments of those who have been responsible for building this rink.

We hope to hear that Mr and Mrs Jackie Lymburner's baby who is a patient in the Innisfree hospital is improving rapidly.

Get-well wishes go to Mrs. Roland who was taken to Lacombe hospital on Friday morning, also to Ken Patrick who underwent surgery this week. We hope he doesn't have too unpleasant a time as he convalesces after the operation.

Mrs. Bertelli from Red Deer assisted at the home of Mrs Reland and Mrs. Simmons last week end as she took care of her aunt Mrs Bleas, while Mrs Simmons visited her mother in Lacombe hospital.

Observes 86th Birthday

Extreme cold weather and the chance of defrost roads kept many from personally expressing their congratulations and good wishes to Mrs Parlby on the occasion of her 86th birthday on January 9.

Among the messages expressing congratulations and good wishes she received was a telegram from England, telegrams from Lacut Grove and from Premier E. Manning. Telephone messages came from points as far away as Saskatoon and from the Thorpe at Hanna, as well as numerous well wishers closer to home.

Beautiful floral tributes and cards were so numerous that the living room resembled a flower shop, and each one was appreciated for its beauty and the message it conveyed. Truly Alix is proud of being able to claim the distinguished lady as a resident.

All interested persons are asked to note that the home and school association will meet in the school auditorium on Wednesday night, Jan 23 (rather than the regular date. County Council Gives Bylaw Final Reading

Members of the county council gave third reading to the $176,000 bylaw building by-law at their regular monthly meeting held at the county chambers last Thursday.

George Brooks, county secretary-treasurer reported this bylaw will now be referred to the provincial department of education for approval, following which it will be advertised in the usual manner

Council members dealt with a wide range of routine matters including initial discussion on a condensed program for the coming year and machinery supplies which might be required

Chairman Bill Lee reported that a preliminary taken at the county workshop showed a value of $18,643 in tools and equipment. Councilor A. E. Wigmore suggested that this inventory should be dated and filed, so that it could be used as a ready reference when inventory is again taken at the end of the year.

Council re-appointed three men to the board of the Lacombe hospital. C. E. Simms, Ian Sharp and W. Chaney — and re-appointed Murray D. Peterson of Bentley to the board of the Bentley municipal hospital.

The matter of representation on the board of the Rimbey municipal hospital was briefly touched. Council felt that the county of Lacombe had such a small area included in the Rimbey hospital district that it was an unnecessary up-set to appoint a member to represent it.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Chegwin of Lacombe Auto Wreckers appeared before council with numerous queries. They wish to move their operations to a site outside the town of Lacombe about half a mile east on highway 12.

The question was raised of an unhealthy condition existing alongside highway 12 and council was asked why how they were not insisting it be cleaned up.

Certain matters of lease and sashes work were presented to the chegwins for their perusal before council will give any definite answer one way or the other.

Mr. and Mrs. Chegwin assured council that any unsightly scenes could be hidden by a fence and that the premises would be kept neat and tidy.

The Lacombe Auto Wreckers site is being taken over by Andrews Brothers, coral oil agent, who expects to move in the near future.

Mr. T. G. Grodahl appeared before council with a request for road building alongside the road leading to his home, seven miles north-east of Lacombe. He stated that he wished to open a guest ranch this year, and that brushing was required before the telephone line could be tied in to her property.

Mr. Lee pointed out that if the road is to be re-built it would be an unnecessary expense to brush first, and that the matter of a new road will not be decided until the entire county road program is set for this year.

It was left with Mrs. Golder to enquire the wishes of other ratepayers adjacent to the road under discussion, following which she will report to Mrs. S. Aikenson, the councillor for the division.

Death of D. B. MacMillan Ends Long Service Record

A long period of public service came to an end late last month with the death in Edmonton of the late D. B. MacMillan, former local M.L.A. and provincial cabinet minister.

The deceased represented the Lacombe constituency in the provincial legislature from 1935 until his retirement in 1951 because of ill health. He was 75 years of age at the time of his death.

Born at Norland, Ontario in 1887, the deceased served overseas with the Canadian expeditionary force from 1915 until 1919. He was married at Tweedsmuir, Ontario to the former Margaret Steele, in 1922.

The young couple moved to Tees where Mr. MacMillan managed the local farmers' grain elevator and where he subsequently bought grain for the Alberta Wheat Pool. In 1935 he was elected to the legislature, and in 1940 was named as provincial minister of agriculture.

In 1948, he was appointed minister of public works for the province of Alberta, and held this post until his retirement in 1951 because of ill health. He was subsequently appointed a member of the Alberta liquor control board, a post which he held from 1955 until 1958, at which time he retired from all public service.

He has made his home in Edmonton for the past 30 years. He leaves to mourn his widow, of Edmonton, two daughters, Mrs. George Taylor of Vancouver, B.C. and Mrs. H. Clement of Edmonton. There are three sisters and three brothers

Lacombe Cage Teams Play At Home Next Friday

The Lacombe Eagles continued their winning ways by defeating the Delburne Trojans 38-34 in a hard-fought central Alberta school basketball league game. The local boys trailed 16-11 at half time, but came roaring back to outscore the Delburne in the third quarter and then effectively controlled the game to run out on the clock in the dying minutes of the fourth quarter.

Ken Harris again led the winners with 13 points closely followed by B. Johnson with 12. B. McFadden contributed 7 points to the victory. Although they didn't score any points, Herb Brown and Ron Smith played a strong game. Ron Smith played a strong game. Ron is bounding well.

The Lacombe girls were not quite so lucky as they dropped a 15-12 decision to Delburne. The local girls, winless to date could have won the game but for some poor shooting, particularly at the foul line. Maureen Thompson and Judy Hopkins tallied four points each.

Next game in the schedule is this coming Friday night when the Rimbey teams come to town. The general public is cordially invited out for an evening of excellent sporting entertainment. First game starts at 7:00 p.m.

Coming Problem at the Hospital

NEWS released that the Lacombe municipal hospital last year operated at 82% of its capacity leaves room for sombre thought as to the adequacy of present-day hospital space at Lacombe

While at first glance the figure before that there are 18% of the beds here available for emergencies, this is far from the truth. There are many times, we know, there are up to 15 or 20 hospital beds vacant here, but there are many more times when the hospital is crowded to capacity and beyond. Under these conditions a serious emergency — such as a highway accident involving serious injuries among a number of people — constitutes a critical space problem.

It is generally considered that a hospital, which operates at from 70% to 75% average capacity has reached a peak. By this rule of thumb, the municipal hospital here is operating past its peak.

The hospital board is well aware of the problems . . . . and it is hoped that the situation can be resolved before it becomes even more acute

Dangers in Sub-Division

AS urban areas of Alberta continue to expand, many farmers living close to large centres and holding resorts have been victimized to sub-divide portions of their property with a view to selling lots at capital incomes

A warning about this practice is issued by County of Lacombe officials, who advise farmers to be careful before embarking on subdivisions to be sure that their position is entirely legal, and that the anticipated income is sufficient to make the expense practical

The Vulcan Advocate also notes that "twenty acres or more" does not necessarily constitute a farm under the present Assessment Act. Any person contemplating subdivisions on their land is strongly urged to obtain full information about his project before embarking on what could be a costly venture

Tougher, Maybe, But Not More Manly

FURORY now ingrained an idea can become after many years of blind belief We had always considered ballet dancing a bit feminine — all right for girls, we guessed, who liked that sort of thing But for men Really

Now it appears that ballet dancing requires a rigorous training program, stamina, endurance and is actually a manly art Gene Collins, a motorcycle enthusiast and a dancer with the national ballet troupe in the States is quoted as follows "This really is tougher than riding a motorcycle We work harder than any football player trackman or even a truck driver

Old ideas die hard, though, and regardless of the training and stamina required, a man leaping in the air or lippy-locking across a stage just doesn't seem as masculine, somehow or other, as a football player or track driver.

Rule By Bureaucracy

THE [illegible] done Albertans and the provincial government a good turn by publicizing a brief reminding all of us of the rights of the individual, and of the creeping bureaucratic powers which are gradually eating away at these rights

It is understandable how the tremendous growth in this province over the years has spawned various departmental boards, and how these boards have gradually increased their powers as the number or problems facing them grow each year

While it is easy to lay the blame at the hands of the provincial government, it is doubtful that it is entirely responsible Residents of the province seem imbued with the fallacy that the government can tender to all its needs, and pressure is constantly being put on the government to take over responsibilities which belong more rightly in the hands of the people themselves

To meet these many demands, the government has set up many boards to administer new acts. Thus we have school and hospital administrative boards by the dozen who often block, circumvent, and deny the wishes of the people — all in the public good, of course — and under the cover of being "fair" to all

Premier Ernest Manning has warned several times of the possibility of Albertans trading their freedom for big government bureaucracy, yet, there are still people pressing for the government to take on even more responsibilities It is for Albertans to decide whether they want to see rule by bureaucracy, or whether they are willing to take a stand for self-government "as in the olden days"

It is hoped that the premier and his government will come to grips with this creeping rule-by-regulations, and implement at least some of the recommendations so aptly outlined by the bar association

Reflections of the Times

Canada and its Economic Prospects

What are Canada's prospects for the coming year" The financial experts have made their predictions based upon the countless factors affecting the economy, but the complexity of the data is reflected in the answers They are so complex and subject to such a host of qualifications as to be virtually meaningless.

There may be some value in estimating what the year holds for us on the basis of trade figures for the past, taken in conjunction with current trends and so on, but this sort of prediction offers no stimulus to production and it is a stimulus we need. Let the statisticians reckon as they want, but common sense tells us that this country has every qualification necessary, except one, for a sensational surge forward economically

The one thing we lack is determination.

This lack of determination can be partly attributed to the erosion of our national pride in recent years, accentuated by a loss of Canadian identity That has come about largely because of the predominant position or control by U.S. mass media in this country and our consequent inability to escape from ceaseless propaganda, much of it extolling the American way of life inevitably we have developed a sense of inferiority

One of our troubles is that we have been hypnotized by the magnitude of American industry so that we have failed to take stock of a changing world situation and our own position in regard to it American industry is enormous — there can be no denying that — but it is based today largely on weaponry and if disarmament were to come about suddenly, it would be many months, years perhaps, before these now engaged in missile construction could be absorbed into industry

But where does Canada stand in regard to the world situation then" For years we have talked proudly of our incomparable resources, and it is well to recall that these resources are becoming increasingly valuable every year Today with world markets developing in Asia and Africa, our resources can give us world leadership in industry if we use them to build the machinery and [illegible] push them forward, will require

Of significance is a change taking place in the attitude of the average Canadian — an attitude, not of hostility to the United States, but one compounded of a healthy fear that we have already been drawn too close into the American orbit The fear is justified Approximately half our industry is owned in the United States, and many of the resources which will be needed for our own manufacturing industries in the years ahead have passed into the possession of U.S. interests

Let us hope that this year will mark Canada's awakening. It cannot be too soon — Canadian Saturday Night

Ventilation of Hog Barns

The past week's cold snap has put the ventilation systems of hog barns and other buildings to the test.

It seems it's common practice to build a hog barn and not consider ventilation until it is shown it is needed.

An uninsulated building is practically impossible to ventilate as interior temperatures [illegible]

Bill's farrowing barn runs north and south He has a small stove at the north end Next to the north wall he has a slot in the ceiling which lets in fresh air from the barn loft.

Down in the south end corner of the barn he has a fan which takes out the damp air

It is recommended that the amount of air the fan puts out is controlled either by a damper mechanically or by a manually controlled gate valve.

[illegible] information on hog buildings and equipment is being arranged for a conference attending the next swine meeting being held in the Bentley community hall at 2:00 p.m on Wednesday January 23 when Les Reid extension engineer with the Alberta department of agriculture discusses swine buildings and equipment

Without a testing program you can get some of the difference between calves but you can never be sure. Are the ones that get fattest found out about his herd

STETTLER ROBBERY

[illegible] would reveal no new developments in their search for burglars who smashed their way into six business buildings in Stettler and made off with something like $8,000 in merchandise early Sunday morning

Police believe that three men were involved in the crimes and the search for them has centred in central Alberta

The break-in involving Graham's Credit Jewellers, Bob's Auto Sales, McTaggart Motors, Alberta Government Treasury Branch, Alberta Government Liquor Store and J Lawrence and Company, occurred between 1:30 and 3:30 Entry in each case was made by breaking plate glass windows in doors and this crude method has forced police to believe the thieves were "amateurs" At least one of them cut his hand and left a trail of blood along the robbery route.

Sir:

May I suppose on your good nature just once more"

Mr Bachar goes to a lot of trouble to get figures on comparative profits re private operated and government operated power systems on Hi-tension make a good case for the privately-owned companies

The answer is obvious skillful fitting up, efficient management careful operations.

The privately-operated firms in Alberta company most favorably with the rates in B.C. Bank, and even Ontario You do not believe me? Just check them.

Would he like to see another mess like B.C. has gotten into and serve Quebec is heading for? Sure, have more money out of the country as our dollar will be worth about eighty cents.

Oh I see now Mr Bachar's gags will go away up so he will be able to buy more whisky maybe he won't be able to do this as the price of whisky will go away up as well as everything else.

So he power is cut off if he does not pay his bill How that is pity Does he expect to get it free? What happens if he does not pay his gasoline and oil bill, or payments on his tractor.

What happens to the non-farming taxpayer in the towns or cities who does not pay his light, water or gas bill?

Be the present personnel of the companies will be retained Does Mr Bachar think the top brass (the brains) of these companies will work for the government with all the political interference? Who would get these jobs? Well, not anyone as long as he voted the right Who would get jobs further down on the list? Well, the president of the local political group or friends of the local M L A usually have a son or brother looking for a position. And what supervisor would dare fire one of those men?

The Americans (dirty word) seem to do pretty fair with private ownership in spite of Mr Bachar's figures Maybe that is what's wrong with Canada Too many government-owned and operated businesses, and not enough free-wheelin now has. Oh, yes, the American government did build several large dams, but only to open up under-developed areas, and not to get into the power business.

I cannot help notice most successful farmers and business men prefer to have as little government interference as possible However if you

Please do not answer this Mr Bachar, as you only expose yourself that much more.

-ear Sir:

I feel compelled to write this letter to clarify a statement in last week's paper regarding county atheletic teams The article mentions that 'also brought up was the question of county school teams travelling to points many miles from the county — especially to Calgary and Edmonton — to compete, in competitio

In the four years I have taught in Lacombe SOT ONE Lacombe county school team has travelled in buses to either of these points to participate in competition Last spring the basketball team went to Fort Saskatchewan to compete in provincial finals, but the team went up in cars at no expense to the county. To my knowledge this is the ONLY school team in the four years period which has made a trip to either of the centres mentioned

I admit that hockey teams have travelled to Edmonton for games but this is only a part of school organized and activity, and as such would probably not come under Mr. La combe's ruling

I feel that the article as it was presented is a distortion of the actual situation and could well certainly create an unfair impression towards county athletes in the minds of uninformed citizens This is particularly so because the school has just reversed an intension to compete in a week end basketball tournament at the Jasper Place Composite High School I plan on accepting this invitation and hope that you grant this letter to help clarify the situa tion

"THE MOVIES"

By Richard Griffith and Arthur Mayer

This is a documentary story of the movies — perhaps the greatest entertainment medium the world has known.

It starts from the earliest beginnings, when it was first discovered how to make pictures "move", and the great history and development of Hollywood as the world's film capital is carefully reconstructed through the days of the silent movies to the introduction of sound in the late 1920's.

The book is about fabulous as Hollywood itself. It is Athentic, and are times as them.

It contains more than 1,000 photographs — some of them heretofore unpublished. Many of these, and when [illegible] room a movie will revel in some of the pictures of actors and actresses who starred in their era.

Along with the illustrations are words of commentary and explanation. The words don't try to preach and moralize — they simply attempt to tell the story as it happened, with some interpretation

It will take several sittings for a good fast reader to devour these 600-odd pages. The pictures draw you up, and the 150,000 words are equivalent of a good-sized novel.

The older the reader, the more he will appreciate this book. To readers youth, names like Buster Keaton and Wallace Beery and Rudolph Valentino and the Keystone Cops will mean nothing

But it will bring back fond memories to old-timers, and even the middle-aged.

The book also chronicles the "coming of age" of movies — the improvement of techniques in story and camera to appeal to the masses.

The greatest actor of all time Charlie Chaplin. The most durable actress of all time Joan Crawford.

I have had two issues of The Lacombe Globe come the death of Mr Bruce MacMillan, and in neither one was there an obituary or editorial comment of his passing

As ex-M.L.A of the Lacombe constituency, ex-minister of agriculture, ex-minister of public works and for briefly a one-time acting premier of the province surely he rated tribute in the Lacombe newspaper

Not even the local correspondent of his home town of Tees saw fit to pay due credit to Mr MacMillan who was one of the greatest workers of the district, took his schooling in Tees, worked and resided there for many years and was one of the best men who served overseas during World War I

As a one-time resident of the fine town of Lacombe and a long time friend of the late Mr MacMillan I may say I think you owed a fitting write-up and obituary to this man who served the public long and honorably and whose kind and helpful deeds to friends and acquaintances were [illegible]

Perhaps the issue of this week's Globe will rectify the slight shown to the MacMillan family which has also been felt very deeply by old friends. If so, please accept my apology for having censured you

Sincerely,
(Mrs) Ramona Dalziel

Elk Caught In Snare of Phone Wire

The above picture was taken by Jack Ben of Lacombe and Carl Gibson of Blackfalds when on a hunting trip five miles west of Rocky Mountain House. The elk was one of the many which hunters claim have been killed by wire which at one time was strung between town or the Alberta Forest Service before the use of radio communications became common. The antlers are on display at the present time in the window of Morrison & Johnston Hardware Ltd. here.

Abandoned Wire Is Threat to Wild Life

Telephone wires now serving no purpose are entangling and killing many moose and elk west of Rocky Mountain House, district Alberta Lumber state. The animals get their antlers caught on the wire and become more entangled as they struggle to get loose.

The picture alongside testifies to the final end of such a needless struggle of a large elk.

Over the years steel wire has been brought low enough to catch animals as some trees on which they were originally fastened have fallen.

Fred Dobrastein, president of the Lacombe fish and game association states the matter will be taken up at the next meeting of the local group and it is expected that representation will be made to the provincial government about the remainder of the lines which are no longer needed.

School Bus Children at Clive Miss School Because of Snow

CLIVE — Behind bus children were sent home in the forenoon on Monday as the roads were filling in rapidly, and the weather turned cold Drivers no doubt were glad to get the children safely home when the wind showed no sign of abating.

School buses did not run at all on Thursday and Friday, as it was the P.T.A. meet Bus drivers figured that the drifted roads would be clear again by Monday, but Saturday's all-day wind, must have filled them in again.

Temperatures so far in January have been most unstable They have risen and fallen with no warning at all Wednesday evening it was 20 degrees above zero and dropped to 10 below zero overnight. Even the weathermen were caught napped in this matter by it all. He forecasts calder and it warms up, then he says warmer and it goes cold Nobody can win more than half

Rain early Sunday morning made all surfaces slippery for awhile, but spring-like conditions existed, temperature passed the 50 degree mark and the ice disappeared More rain in the evening and a fast change in temperature heralded winter's return with snow, blowing snow, and icy streets and roads.

Mr and Mrs J H Harrow received word that C H Harrow, the farmer's brother, underwent a short surgery in a Calgary hospital last week. They also received a phone call telling them that Mrs Harrow is father, R Crooks of Manville, had suffered a severe heart attack Mr and Mrs R R Crooks are former Lacombe residents where Mr Crooks was on staff of the Royal Bank

H Heald of Calgary was a week end visitor to Clive His wife, Mrs H Heald (nee Muriel Morton) has been spending the week in Clive with her parents, Mr and Mrs W Morton

Sympathy is extended to the Cripps family at this time on the death Saturday, in Lacombe hospital of Mr Cripps Sr.

Stan Heald did quite a lot of sidewalk cleaning on Wednesday It was a welcome sight to the wind to the evening drifted the walks in again!

A Happy Trip

Mr and Mrs J H Harrow were Calgary visitors Saturday to visit C H Harrow who is a patient in the Holy Cross hospital The trip was anything but pleasant due to blowing snow and drifts which reduced visibility

The return trip was far worse as the highway was slippery and quite a number of cars were in the ditch or on snow banks Plows, tow trucks and shovels were on duty to keep pace with road conditions

Some motorists unable to extricate themselves from the snow just waited until help came along

Clive Legion curling bonspiel which was scheduled for Sunday was not played due to extremely mild week end weather which made the ice too heavy

Mrs Hopper of Rexville spent several days last week as a guest at the home of Mrs Emma Gschwendtner

Marketing Course Meeting Held

Twenty below zero weather, a strong wind and drifted roads kept down attendance at the first of a series of agricultural marketing courses discussions held at the central Alberta pavilion Tuesday afternoon.

About 30 district farmers took in the first of six meetings dealing with the marketing problems in general.

Second part of the six-week marketing course will be held at the pavilion next Tuesday, January 29, starting also at 2:00 p.m.

"Analyzing Marketing Problems" will be the topic, and will deal with the methods used in trying to analyze a problem in marketing. The various functions and activities involved in moving produce from the farm to the consumer will be discussed, as well as the structure of the market in terms of the extent of competition which prevails. The concept of demand and supply is dealt with in some detail, as well as the meaning of marketing efficiency

Main Producer Problems

Main problems of the producer are six-fold, he pointed out and may be generally covered under six headings. What to produce, how to prepare products for marketing, where to sell, where and how best to meet buyers, power and how to reduce price risk

Solutions to some of these problems have been tried through the formations of co-operatives, he pointed out. Other methods tried have included the formation of marketing boards, production under contract and vertical integration

Problems faced in the future are numerous, he prophesied, and he de-tire, at a price he is willing emphasized that marketing conditions are constantly changing. He urged farmers to prepare for those changes by selling regularly and uniformly in their products, by grading their produce and by knowing quality

Illness Are Toxic

In the pursuit of quality products, Mr. Ferries explained that in a free enterprise system we have no price system as a vehicle for society to express its desires as to what things they wish produced, and in what quantity. Under this system, "dollars become votes for various products"

Similar Problems

Key problems in marketing that the producers and middlemen have in common he enumerated, include keeping abreast of changes in demand, reflecting consumer demand back to producers, getting produce from the farm to the consumer at the lowest cost

Korean Choir Stalled Here

Members of the Lacombe Hotel enjoyed a special treat Monday after the Mrs. Alice Kincaid Choir, members of which are students of Edmonton, were stranded here by bus trouble. The singers had lunch here, and while waiting for transportation arrangements held an impromptu program in the hotel dining room. The staff photo shows a group of the choir during the program. The choir is touring western Canada with 14,000 orphans in 181 orphanages in Korea. They appeared on Ed Sullivan's Television Christmas program and were en route to an engagement at the public auditorium in Edmonton when their bus broke down. They sang in Calgary Sunday, travel on to Regina and Winnipeg then to Minneapolis and Chicago. They tour started from Korea on October 17 and ends on April 15 and embraced cities in Japan, Alaska, Alaska, Alaska and the United States. Their final appearance continued on their way Monday afternoon from Lacombe to Red Deer by county of Lacombe school bus following arrangements made with county officials

The rink is composed of Brent McFadden of Lacombe (third) and three Blue Jackets boys skip Larry Wasden, second Conrad Neuppelbrunner, and lead Art Bonnett.

Rockets Win, Tie

Lacombe Rockets garnered two points out of a possible four points in the hockey league action during the week, defeating Edmonton Oil Kings 7-4 at jubilee stadium last Saturday night and playing to a 5-5 overtime tie with the Bentley Red Deer last Sunday afternoon before their largest crowd of the season.

Attendance at Red Deer was upwards of 1,000 Saturday night and some 800 at Lacombe the previous night, pointing up the problem of adequate support here.

The champion Rockets are the most devoted crowd on the road attracting over 1,000 fans wherever they go. Be it home it's another story. Only on Boxing day did a holiday crowd at the jubilee stadium exceed 1,000.

Bobby Cox chased a stump in this one with two tallies, said Kenny Bryson, Al LaPointe, Leigh McMillan and John Young had one each. Edmonton scorers were Harold Fleming, Max Mestinsek, Pat Quinn and Ray Bullock.

The only weakness the Rockets showed was an inability to clear the puck from their own zone, and this cost them dearly at Red Deer the following afternoon that allowed Bentley to emerge with a 5-5 draw.

Lacombe owns the best defense in the league, however, and the blue-line corps will be tightening up as the playoffs draw near.

Rockets went ahead 5-1 in the first period at Red Deer, but Bentley stormed back with three unanswered goals in the second frame and added a 5-5 tie in the opening seven minutes of the last canto, before Don Menard tied it 5-5 at 5:09.

After that, both teams played it cautiously, and the goal-keepers were equal to the few close chances that occurred around the net.

Five-Team School Hockey League Formed at Bentley

BENTLEY — A five-team elementary school league hockey has been organized by E. Johnson and G. Dumont with about 60 boys playing.

The Rangers and Hawks are being underlined with two wins each. Red Wings are in second place with a 3-1 record. Canadiens and Leafs have yet to play a game.

The three players in the scoring league with the most points are Orma Lane 16 points, Glen Lane 12, and Ronny Sprecher 8.

Coaches are Canadiens, D. Wenzlaff; Hawks, W. Zelmanuka; Rangers, Ilem Wetzel; Red Wings, Wm. Carruthers; Leafs, L. Pare and G. Pickering.

The flyweight and pee wee leagues are entering the annual ATA tournaments in Lacombe in February. Their coach is E. Jahnke. Previous hope to success fully defend the five trophy they won last year.

Girl Cagers Win First, Boys Lose to Rimbey

Actions was hot and heavy on the Lacombe basketball court Friday night in the first games of the evening, the Lacombe girls won their first game of the season, defeating the Rimbey girls 25-13.

Before an enthusiastic home town crowd the local girls played superior basketball, and were never headed as they built up a 17-3 half-time lead and then coasted the rest of the way. Maureen Thompson had another steady game scoring nine points, and she received strong support from Linda Balcolt who scored eight. For the losers, Sandra Forman was high scorer with nine points to her credit.

In the second game, the local boys were edged 30-28 in a game which had everybody jump with excitement. The winning margin came on two foul shots sunk with only three seconds left in the game.

The Lacombe Eagles spotted Rimbey a 13-8 halftime lead, and although they tied the game on several occasions, could never gain the lead and had it. Rudy Stanley played a splendid game for the winners, scoring 18 points, as well he playing a strong defensive game. He received support from David Boerman, who got eight points, including the winning basket.

For the losers, Earl Harry again led the way with 12 points and was backed up by Herb Brown and Brian Johnston with 6 points.

Tips in Sewing

To prevent staining of fabric when oiling your machine — new through a blotter to absorb excess oil which may stain the fabric Then proceed under the needle.

Underskirts Important

To prevent facings and underskirts from showing, always understitch. This is done by placing your trimmed seam allowances towards your facing and stitch as close as possible to your previous seam. The result will be a line of stitching just inside fold line and along facing.

If your sewing machine does not have a gauge on the throat plate, place adhesive tape 5/8 away from needle point to be used as a guide for seam allowance.

For best results, press as you sew

Support Is Needed

The Lacombe and district committee has expressed concern about lagging attendance and lack of interest among members at meetings during the past few months. While it has not been stated in so many words it would appear that the local home and school association is headed for oblivion unless more parents take more interest in the group.

There are some who would view the disappearance of the local association with a shrug of the shoulders. It is hoped they would not be the majority for it should not be forgotten that the local home and school association can do and has done a great deal toward establishing a permanent liaison between school and home. This association is, in fact, the only direct channel between the two, and as such should be kept alive and active.

Education of children has always been one of the most important tasks of each generation and the home and school association at the local level aids this education by furthering the knowledge of parents in the problems faced by teachers and their children in the school, and by acquainting the teaching staff of students' problems in the home.

On the national level, of course the 300,000-member home and school association is a worthwhile agency for channeling parental opinion to the public, to the teachers and to the government.

It would be a great pity if the home and school association at Lacombe were to die of apathy. It would be a great loss.

Canadian Flag, Again!

QUESTION of a Canadian flag has once more been brought to the fore, this time by the Royal Canadian Legion Dominion command. The Legion has urged quick action on the part of the prime minister and his cabinet to resolve this decade-long controversy, and it strongly recommends the adoption of the Canadian Red Ensign as the flag of Canada.

To foreigners, Canada a position not to agree on a design of a national flag must seem ridiculous. Countless contests have been held for Canadians to enter a suitable design for a national flag. Although the winners have probably received their awards, Canada has yet to receive its flag.

A dominion order-in-council back in 1945 gave some status to the Red Ensign. At that time, it was ruled that the Ensign with the shield of the Canadian coat of arms may be flown from buildings owned or occupied by the Federal government, and may be flown abroad. The Canada Shipping Act gives status to the Canadian Red Ensign as the proper colors for all Canadian ships.

With Canada preparing to observe its centennial in 1967, the time is long overdue for a national flag. The Legion has asked that an act of parliament be passed to elevate the Ensign to the full status of Canada's official flag. To this request, we can add but "Amen".

Hog Haven in Japan

DEMAND for pork has been increasing in Japan at a rapid clip, according to a news release from the Japanese embassy at Ottawa, and pig-raising has become a major source of profit in Japan's farmers.

In a country where raw foods have for centuries dominated the diet, the lowly hog is threatening to take over top spot.

The embassy report indicates that a new hog stud farm has been constructed on Tokyo's outskirts where the pigs live like kings. The $300,000 unit, said to be the most modern in the world, provides hogs with such facilities as hot and cold showers, regular toothcombs and scrubbing with brushes, exercising yards, electric blankets and ventilating equipment and even blankets to keep warm on cold nights.

The pigs are at work organizing a new strain, cross-breeding Landrace with 35 Landrace pigs from Sweden, and the litters are receiving plush treatment as described above.

Lacombe hogs, too, are heading toward hog-heaven. There lived Lacombe girls and one Lacombe boar will be arriving in Japan shortly. Their brothers at the experimental farm here — brought up and accustomed to much the luxurious surroundings — would be green with envy if they knew their treatment awaiting their fellow-mates across the Pacific Ocean.

The Silent Killer

EACH day news sources report the death of some unfortunate automobile passenger who has been asphyxiated by carbon-monoxide poisoning. It seems unreal that that in spite of all the publicity which has been given to this silent killer, drivers and car passengers continue to treat the exhaust of their cars during winter months with all windows in the passenger compartment closed.

It has been pointed out that for every death directly attributable to carbon monoxide, there are probably five others which resulted in traffic deaths, since a driver overcome by the effects of carbon monoxide will lose control of his car.

While some potential victims are warned by headache of imminent asphyxiation in the majority of cases there is no warning apparent until the victim slips from drowsiness into unconsciousness and final death.

Leaky mufflers and exhaust pipes are the villains in most cases, and all winter drivers are urged to check their exhaust system inspection if suspicion is aroused as to the gas-worthiness of their vehicle's exhaust.

On long trips, one window should be left slightly open, even on cold days, to provide diffusion, so carbon monoxide which may be creeping into the car from the exhaust. A driver who parks for a minute or more with the motor running should always open a window part way.

One safety official makes the very note that if carbon monoxide had an offensive odor, no one would ever die of its poisoning. But it doesn't — it is odorless, tasteless and colorless — and because of these physical characteristics is a stalking harbinger of death. For safety's sake, always keep one window open.

Reflections of the Times

oh, Those Mad Russians!

The Russians are at it again! They have turned another loon at finding a use for the Western world. Distillers claim to have developed a method of turning out three-year-old brandy in three months. Seven years ago they found a way to age champagne in a period of three weeks.

There is a greater danger here that the methods will be copied. We would soon have all manners and distilleries turning out a great deal of rush if they did not run away from producing headaches and aging the user.

Let us thank for a moment of the club members and connoisseurs who have aged and allowed with reverence

The new Drumheller vocational school will commence operations on September 3. It is planned and designed to serve not only the city of Drumheller and its environs, but also the whole urban and rural community surrounding it. An intimate part of the setup, the plant is the modern dormitory residence which will accommodate 100 people. This building will offer the most up-to-date and comfortable board and lodging, with gymnasium and other recreational facilities combined. Meals will be provided for both boarders and day scholars in the kitchen and dining room located between residence and school.

Bushing Late on Cattle

Every fall and winter the short annual issue is a part of local cattle in the prairie provinces. Calf populations increase in the fall and become most serious in late winter. The population decreases soon after the warm weather comes, ending the most serious of the blood-sucking lice. Some of the cattle grubs that overwinter on the backs of cattle also have a serious effect on the animal's health.

Cattle lice population reduces by 50 per cent the red blood cell count and the hemoglobin content of the blood. Animals exhibit the typical symptoms of anemia. They are generally unthrifty, lack vigor, and show extreme paleness of the eyelids, muzzle and udder. The animals are usually also under the stress of cold weather.

Anemic animals may become so weak that attempts to move them even short distances (100 to 200 yards) will result in exhaustion and death. Advanced stages of anemia in pregnant cows usually results in abortion. Exhaustion, death, and abortion are caused by the lowered oxygen supply in the animal's blood. The animal's resistance and tolerance to disease.

When heavy infestations occur, there are decisive and material economic losses in health and reproduction. In many cases, these losses could be prevented by the use of a suitable dust powder or spray. Spraying or dusting should be carried out before the weather is cold.

Letters to the Editor . . . .

Mirror, Alta.
Editor, Lacombe Globe
Dear Sir:

Although Non Farming Taxpayer did not wish me to answer his letter, I cannot help to put him straight on a few things. If he thinks that I am against private enterprise he is mistaken. To prove this, here are a few points to consider:

There are three major private enterprise power producers in the province. Each has a certain area geographically distinct from the others. There is no quarrel with this situation since it would be uneconomic to duplicate distribution facilities in a single area. This situation creates values in ownership.

Where a monopoly exists in an industry as vital to the economy as electric power, there is a conflict between the rights of the private profit motive and the public interest. If public interest is to prevail it must be protected by either public ownership or by a public authority which acts in its stead.

Evidence of high rates and high profits allowed by the Alberta power commission is proof that public power would be far more effective. The Alberta economy is growing rapidly and with it the need for more power. Output is now rising at the rate of over 10% per annum. Alberta Power Commission Report 1961. Expansion of industry in the next 12 years in Alberta will amount to as much as the total industry. The Provincial Post October 27, 1961 page six. Under these circumstances the new investment will be forthcoming from private enterprise only if profit margins are high.

The only way to plan sensibly for the economic growth of this province is on the basis of stable electric power industry and this situation could only be by public ownership. Private investment in other industry is attracted only by guaranteeing adequate power supplies at reasonable cost.

Rural electrification is a fuel in which private companies were not willing to invest because it was not felt to be high enough. It — rose as a field in which public authority could operate because it could be motivated by the interests of all the people of Alberta.

To prove my point I would refer NFTP to a letter to the editor of the Edmonton Journal dated 10 March 1961 by J. Smith of Wetaskiwin Alberta.

Yours truly
W. C. [illegible]

"THE HOUSE AT OLD VINE"

By Norah Lofts

Miss Lofts spreads her tale over centuries, starting in the year 1406. Her story is about a house — what happens to it, who inhabits it, and what tales and fortunes befall its bricks and stones.

But there is life within its walls, because succeeding generations change its destinies.

But in over 300 years of use, the house is a fascinating refuge that knows good times and bad. The occupants, of course, supply the action. The strong characters left up the old mansion to its or signal penal state. The weak characters allow it to degenerate in oblivoil days.

A child in a preceding book becomes a grandparent in the next. This transition period is expertly by-passed, and the reader barely notices the hurdle.

But he is aware of the growing family tree, and on occasion is unconsciously skips back when an obstacle presents itself to a new "hero" wondering how his great-great-grandfather might have faced led the situation.

It is no mean writing accomplishment to introduce half a dozen main characters between two covers, and hold the interest of the reader through their succeeding adventures in a different age.

Blackfalds, Alix Stores Robbed

A rash of break-ins throughout central Alberta have kept municipal police and R.C.M.P. officers on the jump during the past two weeks. Three hundred dollars loss was suffered at Bentley last week. Almost $8,000 in jewelery and merchandise were stolen from Bentley earlier this month. Other break-ins have occurred at Sylvan Lake, Penhalto, Ponoka and Delburne. Two break-ins occurred in this county during the week, one at Alix and one at Blackfalds. The details:

BLACKFALDS — Some time between 4 a.m. Saturday, January 19, and 8 a.m. Sunday, January 20, thieves broke into the Ben Valley Lumber Yards here during a Sunday night break-in and escaped with a gain of $70 in cash. Entry was gained by prying open the front door where two locks were broken, and around $50 damage was done to the door itself.

Besides the loss, damage was done to a wrist watch valued at around $70 which was stolen from the stock counters. No other evidence of loss was discovered.

Bow Valley officials admit that some other items might have been stolen but will not be certain until a complete inventory of all stock has been operated.

R.C.M.P. officers and county constable Paul Ajax are investigating the crime one of a series which have occurred in the past two weeks in central Alberta centres.

ALIX — About $1,230 loss was suffered when thieves broke into three places here last Thursday morning, sometime between 1.30 a.m. and 7.00 a.m.

Approximately $1,000 in merchandise was stolen from the Marshall-Wells Store operated by Creighton Smith Transistor and electric radios, electrical appliances, wrench sets and record players were stolen, and considerable damage was caused by sheer vandalism, as items were scattered and broken on the floor.

A further $130 was stolen in money and merchandise from the cash boxes at the coin dry-cleaning service operated by Bob Whitfield. About $100 damage was suffered to machines.

Alix constable Ed Forsyth reported the break-ins to the R.C.M.P. who are investigating.

Municipal Beam also assisted the Alix Coffee Shop on the Western Station on match 24 highway. Constructions of the new motel, service station and restaurant will be under way in early March, and that he hopes to have the first units completed before the end of next month.

To Call For Tenders Early February

Construction of the new motel, service station and restaurant on the west side of Lacombe on the new divided highway 2A bypass will be under way in early March, it was announced this week by Alberta Municipal Affairs Minister Hugh Horner.

Tenders for the project will be called for early in February, and that he hopes to have the first units completed before the end of next month.

The new service station, with its rough and distinctive style of architecture, is estimated $120,000. He states. This will be the first unit to be constructed on the 8.6 acre site, and it is hoped that it will be completed and operating for the tourist trade in mid-summer.

To be known as "Alberta Beam and Jungle", Mr. Beam states that the entire motel will follow a typically provincial decor.

All draperies and floor coverings will be finished in Alberta tartan, and a gift shop in the motel lobby will feature Alberta made gift souvenirs.

Camp Site, Too

In addition to the motel, Mr. Beam has offered to the provincial government sufficient land to create a large tourist camp site, and the construction of camp kitchens, washrooms and camping facilities and for the construction of camp kitchens, washrooms and camping facilities and for the construction of camp kitchens, washrooms and camping facilities and for

Mr. and Mrs. HAROLD MELVIN FISHER — Photo By Kanata Studios

Young Couple Exchange Vows at Clive Church

A pretty double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev C Parkin in Clive United church when Pauline Agnes, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs Howard Taylor, became the bride of Mr Harold Melvin Fisher, son of Mr and Mrs John Fisher of Lacombe.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was lovely in a floor-length gown of white pouffe-nette featuring a lily-point sleeves and bell skirt ending in a short train. Lace applique accented the round neckline and pleats of skirt. A shoulder length veil of net, bordered with lace applique made by the bride, completed her costume.

Preceding the bride down the aisle in matrimony were her sister Miss Janice Taylor and Miss Loretta Webber, wearing identical gowns of poinsettia red pouffe-nette featuring bell skirts with matching halos. They carried bouquets of red and white carnations.

The groom was also supported by his cousin Mr Fred Swi and his brother Mr David Fisher. Ushers were Messrs Tom Taylor, brother of the bride, and David Protsvell.

The wedding music was played by Miss Margaret Cole and during the signing of the register a lovely vocal solo was rendered by Mrs D Boden of Lacombe.

Clive Legion And Auxiliary Officers Elected For New Year

CLIVE — The following are 1963 officers for the Royal Canadian Legion and for the Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion elected at a meeting earlier this month ...

Clive Legion, president, C. Clark; Past President, H. Hoddinott; first vice-president, H. Blanchard; second vice president R. Burbank; secretary-treasurer L. G. Williams; executive committee D. Grant C. Glenn, G. Goulden; sergeant-at-arms, L. G. Berlie; chaplain, J. McAndrews.

Auxiliary Officers

President, Mrs. L. O. Williams; past president, Mrs. E. Dillon; first vice-president, Miss P. Bish ... ortson, second vice-president, Mrs. J. McAndrews; secretary, Mrs. W. Perry; treasurer, Mrs. R. Burbank; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. H. Hoddinott; chaplain, Mrs. W. Short ...

Mrs. Willie McLaren, sister of Mrs. Godley Sr., is at present in Montreal. In a letter received this week by J. H. Harrow she sent the ... ticket stubs with a note saying she had ridden about 60 blocks in a CAMION (some sort of street car) for a fraction of their cents (American money).

Changes From the Past

Last week, warmly clad children riding in warm buses and their way to warm, spacious schools were driven back home because cold winds were drifting in the roads.

This is as it should be yet it is not, as comparatively few short years ago that school children in town froze faces and hands while walking in a draft school in 40-below zero weather.

Country children came in several hilly orchards back and thereafter from, and didn't think out to bitch it. The oft back home after school seemed endless as I was often dark by the time the children arrived home.

In those days there were no warm parkas, fleece-lined snow boots and ... clothing was not to many as it is today. There was not the abundance of ... on the very bad days. The oft ... were adult, but the ... and cousins, brothers ... and are glad that they ... have an easier trip to school.

As the cold weather returned last week, curling was resumed. An open bonspiel got under way Monday morning. The curlers are about the only people to appreciate the return of cold weather, as the season was late in getting started.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harrow were Edmonton visitors on Saturday, guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Forster. Except for the main traffic lanes, heavy snow lies everywhere. The highway was icy from Wetaskiwin north, but up to Wetaskiwin was clear and dry. Winds which were blocking ... country roads, and blizzard conditions, were responsible for considerable early morning school bus ... Town children however spent the usual day at school.

In all respects the day was a bright one in the afternoon but snow was still drifting. No new snow fell. Actually, there has been a great deal of snow fall so far this winter, but what has fallen has been light dry snow which drifts wherever the wind blows.

Two Clive youths, Alan Cole and Doug Hawkins returned to Canada after a trip to England and Scotland. Doug Hawkins came back home to Clive some time ago, but Alan Cole stopped off at Toronto and was joined there by his mother, Mrs J. Cole of Clive who went to visit Both Mrs Cole and Alan will return to Clive shortly.

Did anyone notice the two huge "sun dogs" at 10:30 Friday morning. Their centres were almost as bright as the sun itself and with a rainbow color at one side of them, was really spectacular. One ends each side of the sun making three "suns" shining.

The "sun dogs" were still plain as ever when the afternoon sun, people claim that this is a sure sign of a change in the weather while others say they indicate colder weather. In this case it was cold ... weather.

Report issued by the mobile TB X-ray survey unit on the clinic held in Clive was received by Mrs C. C. Bruce, accompanied by a letter thanking all the volunteer committees and co-workers for making this clinic such a success. Greetings and thanks are extended to everyone from Mrs. H. H. Stephens, M.D. from Edmonton. The following is the statistical summary for this area:

Clinic Results

Number of persons X-rayed, 602; abnormalities (probable pulmonary tuberculosis inactive), three; further examination required, two; non-tuberculosis condition, five. This is a total of 10 abnormalities noted out of the 602 x-rayed.

Blizzard conditions on Tuesday forced all roads out to school buses came in town with school children on Monday, although town children attended. Wind continued to blow Monday Sundays wind and snow must have been hard on anyone who had to travel by car as visibility was nil at times.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr and Mrs A Westling have been their son, Alain of Calgary, two nieces, Mrs Wirth of Vancouver, B.C and Mrs Stonebroker of Lethbridge. Also visiting Mr and Mrs Westling were former Clive residents, Mr and Mrs H Keller, now resident at Bylaar Lake.

Ellis Moore Resigns As Scout Official

Resignation of Ellis Moore as district commissioner for the Diamond Willow Scout district was accepted with regret at a meeting of the Diamond Willow council, held at Rimbey Monday evening. President Don Dew of Lacombe presided.

Mr. Moore has been serving as commissioner for the district for the past two years. He has been responsible for founding a number of new units and troops in the district and his services will be missed.

Also accepted with regret was the resignation of Mrs Ruby Kruger of Ponoka as treasurer. Joe Ackerman of Morrin agreed to look after the treasurer's duties until the annual meeting. Council members agreed to investigate the matter of finding a replacement for Mr. Moore.

It was agreed that there would be no district-wide Baden-Powell service this year, but each troop will be asked to observe the event by attending church in their community. President Don Dew reported he had a suitable 10-minute talk which could be used for observance of Lord Baden-Powell's birthday.

Rockets on Top

Lacombe Rockets are tied for first place in the CAHL, but the position flatters them at this point because they have played more games than any other team in the league.

One game they would rather have postponed for a later date was the one at Drumheller last Sunday which they dropped to the Miners 3-2.

The reasons were multifold but the main one was that they had a hard outing in three days and most of the players were forced to stay in Drum an extra 24 hours and return Monday over drifted roads in sub-zero temperatures.

Lacombe played two more games on Monday and Jim Brown's were both in the penalty box when Jack Barnett gave the Miners a goal

Poor Turnout at Home, School Meeting

A presentation explanation of the new replacement to outline what is to be conducted at the year exams, some such notation drew a very poor response from people at the regular meeting of the Lacombe home and school association last Wednesday evening.

James Bell, county school supervisor attended, informed those present that the new examination movement is being conducted among grade seven and eight at Lacombe Arts and Matter schools. The new course is designed to inspire speed and comprehension, reading and research are being carried out, the teacher is not a lecturer but a valuation of the work.

A Fine Report

COUNCIL of the Town of Lacombe is to be congratulated on the 1962 financial statement which will be available to the public shortly.

It was reported at the last council meeting that the town has shown a surplus of $6,000 on the year's operations. In the light of the many capital projects carried out in '62 this is indeed a fine finish to twelve months of operations.

It is easy for any municipal body to show a surplus. There are two ways of doing it: jack the tax rate a way up, or spend a tot less on improvements. Town fathers have resorted to neither of these expedients. It managed to keep the 1962 property taxation rate unchanged. And it managed to carry out a wide range of major improvements to the public works field.

Each council member is to be congratulated on this manner in which he financed his department. Salespayers, too, come in for a pat on the back for the manner in which they met their tax-payment commitments.

"Shoddy Stuff," Indeed

VIOLENT objection to a motel and service station development immediately north of Lacombe was made last week by The Red Deer Advocate in a front page editorial.

Any such expressed opinion published by a newspaper should stand firmly on fact, and The Advocate's arguments are based on a questionable premise.

The paper's editorial quotes the Hon. Gordon Taylor as saying, at the opening of the highway bypass: "I hope we can keep commercial development off this highway . . . ." This paper was represented at that same opening and we do not remember hearing these words. It has long been planned, and publicly announced, that service station and tourist facilities along the Red Deer-Lacombe highway would be "regulated", at no time have we heard or read of them being completely eliminated.

Site of the proposed motel-service station north of Lacombe has been carefully chosen. It provides a setting of summer beauty, ample space for picnic and camping grounds, and a modern, handsome motel for accommodation required by the travelling public.

Does The Advocate believe that there should be no highway facilities at all in the 70-odd miles between Leduc and Red Deer? If so, it certainly cannot have the interests of the traveling public at heart.

The Advocate refers to the unfairness of giving a permit to M. T. Elzen of Lacombe for this development, and states that other firms should be equally entitled to permits. Certainly they should and no doubt will, providing they meet the strict regulations of government boards which have already been set up by Mr. Swain.

The Advocate was ill-advised on its basic truths, and wrong in its arguments. The editorial was entitled "Shoddy Stuff." The title, at least, was most apt.

Our Youth

A SCHOOL headmaster in Britain has publicly expressed concern over the prospects of the masses of boys under his control who apparently desire nothing more in life than a safe job with a good pension plan.

This is a sad change in the once-independent minds of the youth of Great Britain. Where are the dreams and adventures of the young? The ambition to become a prime minister or a great leader, or a rugged he-man in the world of sports? We fear that what is happening in Great Britain is becoming more and more widespread among our own young people.

The British headmaster blames the welfare state for the lack of imagination and ambition among British youth. This might well become true here, too, as we move along a path which becomes ever more dependent on government aid. Great emphasis is placed today on leisure time, on pension plans, on government handouts. They all emphasize the importance of conformity, equality and acute control, and have little room for the dreams and aspirations of youth.

It is a basic of the world in which we live that one must strive to reach a goal. Are ever-spending governments, with their taxation and loopholes in the unemployment insurance act stifling the ambition for goals which demand toil to reach?

These are matters of great concern to all of us. If the initiative and dreams of our youth are becoming corroded, it is indeed a sorry end for a civilization which supports and votes into power governments planned to be all things to all people.

The British headmaster snorts that "we are turning out of our schools . . . hordes of premature pensioners for life." Heaven forbid that such a statement should ever be true in Canada!

Self Interest Paramount

MUCH to-do is being made these days by news columnists as they "interpret" the possible results of the rift in ideology between the governments of Soviet Russia and Communist China. Our personal view is that magnifying these differences is no more than commy-rot.

Somehow or other, the inference is drawn that one communist country will not fight another communist nation because communism contains a brothers-under-the-skin complexion which makes all communists kindred spirits. By a similar argument, one could say that one capitalist country will not fight another because their ways of life are similar.

This is ridiculous. Self interest of any country, when directly opposed by the self-interest of another, does not concern itself with the ideological beliefs of the governments involved. Wars have come about in the past simply because a country has forced some interest (usually trade or influence) which is against the good of another.

If Russia and China ever come to loggerheads it will not be because of so-called ideological differences, it will be because the expansion of the one country is against the best interests of the other. Let's have less wishful thinking and more realism when it comes to turning wars.

Reflections of the Times

Comment on the Newspaper Strike

The current newspaper strike in New York again proves a couple of things about newspapers: people can get along without their newspapers, but they don't like it — and it adversely affects the economy of the area.

In New York, with nine dailies tied up by a strike since before Christmas, advertisers and their customers are losing the patch.

Tuesday, in an effort to compensate for the loss of the newspaper advertising columns, are resorting to the printing of leaflets and throw-away flyers but the results are far below those from newspaper use, and only the printers producing the throwaways are happy about the situation.

Despite the emergency advertising they are forced to use, the advertisers are finding that no matter how much use they make of radio, TV and flyers they are unable to get their message to the public as efficiently and as effective as through the columns of the newspapers.

Another thing proved by the strike is that newspapers are a necessity to the public. Despite the fact that radio and TV stations have been on the air around the clock, they have been unable to fill the void left by the newspapers.

Swine Buildings & Equipment

I wish to apologize to the readers of this column for misinformation I gave them in the date of the swine building and equipment meeting to be held in Bentley. This meeting will be held in Bentley on February 6th not January 23rd as I had reported.

This is fourth of the series of meetings on hog production being held in Penhold, Bentley and Ponoka.

Interest in these meetings to date has been good and it is expected a record turn out will be on hand for the Building & Equipment meeting.

Interest in Tree Planting Grows

This is as it should be and I would just like to remind anyone in the district that was summerfallowed last year and is interested in planting trees the following year to still available Colorado Spruce, White Spruce, Russel Laurel Leaf Willow, Rooted Cheis Willow, Rooted Acute Leaf Willow, Tartarian Honeysuckle, Green Ash.

Agricultural Boundaries

1962 is a golden jubilee year for the Alberta schools of agriculture and re-unions to top all re-unions are planned for Vermilion Olds and Vermilion.

Being a grad from V S A. myself, I have been delegated to help locate all former graduates of the Vermilion school of agriculture. I would appreciate it very much if any former grads of V S A reading this would contact me at their earliest convenience and advise me of their present address and occupation.

Also I am planning a big reunion of all former Clive grads, old members and their families for next year in the spring. Lots of work to be done yet but I'm sure with the cooperation of our former Clive members we can make it a success.

Boughage Quality Differences

Dr M Rattel of the department of animal science at the University of Alberta reports there is a great variation in the quality of rough ages being fed this winter. Some hay was put up in excellent condition while some was badly damaged.

Dr Aspinall says the carotene content of alfalfa hay in the Edmonton area ranges from a low of 30 mg per pound. This is a tenfold difference. The protein level in alfalfa has been varied from less than 12 to over 20 per cent. Vitamin A activity has also differences in the amount of supplements required with these hays

While some of the extremely high levels of nutrients found last year in oat hay and silage have not been observed this year many samples of these crops have contained toxic levels.

All this points to the need for having forages analyzed. Although an analysis cannot indicate the absolute value of a feed, the information can be used to work out a more effective and efficient feeding program than can be done by guess and guess work

Feeds can be analyzed by the agricultural soil and feed testing laboratory at the University of Alberta. A regular analysis (dry matter, protein, fibre, calcium and phosphorus costs $1.50 and special analysis such as carotene (vitamin A), nitrate or prussic acid (flax only) costs $2.50 each. Your district agriculturist has containers, forms and instructions.

"THE BRONZE GOD OF RHODES"

By L. Sprague De Camp

Dealing with the era of the wars between the successors to Alexander the Great, this 400 page novel enumerates events which led to the construction of the Colossus of Rhodes, the towering statue that became one of the seven wonders of the world.

The book deals with these historical days through the eyes of Chares of Lindos, who ultimately became the builder of the bronze statue Today, Chares would be referred to as an "angry young man." He was impatient, scornful of many of the great builders of his day, sure of himself and his talents. He longed to build a colossal statue ever built

The wars of his lifetime interfere largely with his plans and his loges, and projects him into the armed forces where the construction of the giant catapults of the day are explained in detail by the author A trip to Egypt, with attendant cultural advantages, prepares and mellows the hero for the final completion of his great dream.

L. Sprague De Camp deals with his setting and subjects with intimate knowledge of the problems and advancements of the day. He portrays Rhodes and its sister islands as an area of culture where, next to the art of war, the field of sculpture, painting, engineering, literature and philosophy are paramount in the man's world of that era.

It's an interesting book, and at no place throughout its length does the author give the reader's interest an opportunity to flag.

Amazed at Lack of Interest in Horticulture

Mr Kuperus addressed the Ponoka horticultural society earlier this month and stated "there is no reason why people could not have fine orchards of fruit trees adapted to Alberta conditions"

He pointed out that special varieties of plums and apples are thriving here, and stated that many other plants could be cultivated with great success. "Alberta could very well demand food production, contribute more to the supply of food and provide jobs during progress wright and now surrounds

Interesting Evening Programs Enjoyed by Alix Residents; Curling in Full Swing

ALIX — Anyone who failed to avail themselves of the interesting events occurring in the school auditorium last week missed some of the most interesting pursuits in village life.

On Wednesday evening, despite a curling bonspiel extremely cold weather and other obstacles about 45 persons were present at the home set school meeting when a panel discussion on Mrs. D. Parlby's personality program on "child and the school."

Parents R. Renault of the lunch staff superintendent Mr. Ronald Mr. Arthur McDermand represented the parents' component, and Miss Belanger and Miss Barrah of the provincial training school in Red Deer guidance clinic represented the psychological aspect of the child either present.

The first two panelists stressed the need for consistent discipline, with the child and parents, which could be expected from home or both. The guests, who were not present when the teacher and th parent viewpoints were expressed, heard of the same idea with more emphasis on the idea that th child must know the boundaries within which he is expected to behave, and those must be established at all times.

Audience participation and questions were excellent and added much to the worthwhile of the meeting.

Renewed thanks and appreciation to the panelists, Miss Belanger and Mrs. Barah assistants to Dr. Lit'vann under superintendent of the provincial training school guidance clinic, for running out on such a cold evening over 100 miles roads to add to the program.

A highlight of the gathering was the presentation of an achievement pin to Brian Rotten-Dunser for obtaining the highest marks in the grade nine final exams last June Congratulations Brian.

Mrs. Stanley Loughridge was chairman for the Business meeting Next meeting will be held on February 27

Did you see the play presented by the dramatic class directed by their teacher R. Renault, a the school auditorium last Friday and Saturday evenings? If you didn't you missed one of the best presented dramatic class presentations it's been the privilege to see lately.

Both plays were splendidly produced and showed the result of careful, conscientious directing and full ethusiastic co-operation. The understanding, realistic handling of the parts was noticed by all who saw the programs. Well done Thomas. Your plays will long be remembered in the village.

Alix Midgets were defeated in Stettler 5-4 on Wednesday.

Exterior View of New School Addition

Above is an exterior view of the new high school addition, taken from the south-east corner. The building, the first two-storey school construction at Lacombe during the building programs of the past 10 years, takes advantage of the natural terrain to become a "split level" addition to the older high school building which was completed in 1950. The exterior finish tones in with the brick and stone work of the former school. It is expected that the building will come into use within the next week or ten days, and arrangements will be made for an official opening and public viewing in the near future.

Original High School Thirteen Years Old

The new $220,000 addition to the Lacombe high school is the first addition to high school facilities here since the original building was officially opened in April 1950.

Most of this increase during the 1950's occurred at the grade one level, but school beginners of the 1960's are now high school students, and the 13-year old high school facilities have been crowded beyond efficiency for the past few years.

Look Ahead

In constructing the addition, county officials looked far enough into the future to meet additional demands of normal school population increases. These classrooms in the new addition for instance, will provide teaching space for grade three pupils thus relieving the crowded classroom problem which has existed at the elementary school during the past two years.

The new school provides [illegible] needed facilities for [illegible] desks. An audio-visual room provides tiered desk space for students so each pupil can view films and film strips used as a [illegible] remotely in certain courses today.

Demonstrators are the audio-visual room, the library study room and storage rooms. Upstairs provide space for the laboratory science room and five classrooms, two of which will be used immediately by high school students, the other three by grade three rooms.

1963 Marks 70th Year of Schools in Lacombe

It seems fitting that the new high school addition should be opened in 1963 — the 70th anniversary of the building of the first schoolhouse in the town of Lacombe.

It was back in 1893 that the first log schoolhouse was built on a spot marked by a cairn, immediately north of the Independent Cemetery.

While the Lacombe school district was officially formed in 1892, it was not until the following year that the residents were able to complete construction of the first log school.

School board for the newly-formed school district in that year included Jake Delmage, Henry Talbot and Frank Vicheveau. School was held during the summer of 1893, since threshing operations kept students out of school during the fall.

In 1903, a school was built on the present LMC site, and in 1907 the Malcom school was built.

Happy Prospect

The new $220,000 addition to the Lacombe high school is now all but completed. County school committee members, school principal Henry Fergues, architect J. Bell and contractors have watched the building last week to inspect the finished product. A few minor finishing jobs were noted and work on these is rapidly being completed. The new addition has a split level effect. The upper floor was planned to take advantage of the natural drop of the terrain at this point while the upper floor is only a few steps higher than the present high school rooms.

Downstairs are the audio-visual room, the library study room and storage rooms. Upstairs provide space for the laboratory science room and five classrooms, two of which will be used immediately by high school students, the other three by grade three rooms.

The new construction is a credit to those who planned it, including the county school committee members, the architect and the contractors.

Crowded Rooms To Be Relieved

The imminent opening of the new $220,000 high school addition will relieve a long prevailing congested classroom problem at the Lacombe schools.

Three grade three classes from the elementary school will move into classrooms as the high school addition with its opening. This will make the music room and the staff room in the James S. McCormack school once more available for the purpose for which they were built. The grade three class now occupying the former Harkling school will also be moved to the new high school addition.

Labs and Home Ec

In addition, opening of the new wing will provide three "home rooms" for high school classes. So far this term, the drafting room, automotives room and the chemistry lab room have all been used for classroom instruction. These rooms in the high school will thus be freed for use as originally intended.

The wing permits a large-sized study room, which has been badly needed in the local high school educational program, and also provides facilities for a physics-biology lab.

Library Space Provided

A large library, under charge of Mrs. Helen McFadden, will operate in the new addition to provide ready reference space for high school students who in the past have had to make the trip downtown to the public library in the LMC building.

School principal Henry Fergues mentioned to The Globe two or three other big educational advantages with the opening of the addition.

- It will no longer be necessary to have high school classes moving over to the junior high school with consequent loss of teaching time.
- Science studies will no longer be handicapped due to lack of proper laboratory facilities.
- An audio-visual room where film strips may be shown properly will replace use of the stage of the auditorium which has always been unsatisfactory for this purpose.
- The new addition provides a large room which can be used to great advantage by the bands, [illegible] and [illegible] classes.

Opening of the new wing brings up to 33 the actual number of "home" classrooms at the Lacombe schools. There are 26 in the elementary school, 12 in the junior high school and 13 in the high school.

In addition, of course, are the necessary labs, home economics and industrial work shops, drafting room, and other rooms required to carry out studies as laid down by the department of education.

At Minor Hockey Night; Did He Score? . . . .

These eight-to-ten-year-olds, making up the Hawks bench in the Lacombe flyweight hockey league, check on the progress of their team-mates on the ice during the minor hockey night program presented at the jubilee stadium last Friday evening. In spite of the bitter weather (it was 22 degrees below), there was a gratifying turnout of parents and adults. The crowd changed considerably during the evening however, as spectators turned up to watch some specific game, and were replaced by later arrivals keen on seeing some other game. (See story, page eight). Left to right above are Hawks manager-coach Dore Malmberg, Dennis Ostapowich, Sandy Douglas, Greg Vogel, Bill McConnell and Denver Ostapowich. Equal interest by players on all teams was shown throughout the evening. — Staff photo

Weather Delays Ice Cutting Program At Gull Lake

Ice cutting operations at Gull Lake have not started yet, Oti Wallner told the Globe this week. "The ice is about 30 inches thick right now, which is a good depth for cutting, but all roads to the lake are blocked by huge drifts," he stated.

He expects to get at his winter job of cutting ice for storage for summertime refrigera tor within the next two to three weeks.

January Snowfall Reaches Record Total of 17.1 Inches

A further 15 inches of snow fell on January 31 to bring the total for January snowfall to a total of 17.1 inches — well over the former record of 10.8 inches of snow back in January, 1950 and more than a foot of snow more than the 4.6 inches which fell last January.

Of immediate interest was the break in the cold weather which came this week. Temperatures dipped to 23 below last Saturday morning, but by Monday, a high of 44 degrees was reached, followed by an overnight low of 31 degrees.

During the eight hours on Tuesday, chinook winds swept the district, and kept temperatures above the freezing mark all night

Cecil Pallister Elected to Head Local Fish and Game Association

Cecil Pallister was elected president of the Lacombe fish and game association at the annual meeting held Monday evening at the Legion hall

About 80 members enjoyed a banquet and pleasant banquet prior to the short business meeting.

Vice-president, Herb Cookson; secretary, Bonnie Frizzell; membership chairman, Bob Oldring; predator control committee chairman, F. G. "Bubbs" Robinson, executive members Ed Tully, Bill Johnson, Doug Gillespie, Jack Towle, George Kary, Garth Wagner, Nels Maller, Fred Dobrstein, Jim Barr, Harold Wilton of Bentley.

Outgoing president Fred Dobrstein, in his brief report of last year's activities, referred to the foundation of a pheasant farm on Ernie Farr's land northwest of town as the major project last year. He reported that a number of birds had been reared, pens for future expansion set up, and a tool shed converted to a brooder house.

We are starting this year with a breeding stock of four cocks and 10 hens," he stated "As soon as the first chicks of eggs are hatched this spring, the present breeding stock will be released"

He expressed the sincere thanks of the executive and the association to Mr. Farr for the time and effort he expended this year in endeavoring to get the pheasant farm operating successfully

January is Accident-Free Month In Town of Lacombe

He was released from Bentley hospital Tuesday after being treated for cuts and bruises. His 1964 sedan, driven by his wife, was in collision with a truck driven by Frank Boltwood, 59. His wife was uninjured, and the truck driver escaped with slight cuts. Estimated damage to the car and truck was close to $1 000

Power Line Burned Out When Tree Limb Severs Wire

Electrical power in Lacombe was off for about five minutes last Tuesday afternoon when a tree trimming crew behind Jenkins Food Fair burned out a line with a fallen tree limb

The automatic switch tripped, and power cut off all over town. Crews rectified the trouble quickly, and the cut-off lasted only five minutes in most parts of the town, and power restored in all parts within 10 minutes.

Village Employees Ac Bentley Receive Wage Increase

A general increase in wages to all four permanent employees of the village of Bentley was granted as the village council met late last month at its regular monthly meeting. The general wage increase will total $1,200 for the year, and was retroactive to January 1, 1963.

Inspecting January Growth at Farm

Village of Bentley showed a surplus of $2,209 on operations during the year 1962, according to the auditor's financial statement, released this week by secretary-treasurer Claude Summers.

Total revenue, at $53,474 was some $3,000 less than in 1961, but expenditures were pared even closer to change the 1961 deficit of $190 15 into the surplus of last year Drop in revenue from the previous year occurred because in 1961 the village received an additional $7,000 from the provincial government for sidewalk construction under the municipal improvement program.

Tax collections during 1962, at $36,264 were up $2,000 from the previous year. All but $1,300 of the total taxation assessment of $36,304 was paid before the end of the year

Educational costs for the year were about on a par with the previous year, as requisitions paid totalled $20 533 compared with $19826 in 1961

Biggest single item of expense, next to education, was for public works, which totalled $9,462. A close second was for protection to persons and property, with $5 463 for police protection, $2,193 for street lighting and $494 20 for fire protection

It is interesting to note that the community-owned trailer court brought in revenue of $3,493 during the year while renting $1,182 in operation and upkeep

Assessment on which requisitions were based for educational needs totalled $455,509 in 1962, up from the previous year's figure of $431,708.

'Two Worlds' at Lacombe Farm

There are two different worlds at the Lacombe experimental farm — the outside winter life of rome, cold temperatures and sleeping vegetation, and the other world inside the greenhouse-full of lush stands of grains and forage crops, budding plants in small plots and seeding operations in large flats

Dr Martin Kaufman and Dr Hans Baenziger, plant breeding specialists at the farm, keep crops rotating regularly in the green house plots

Main purpose of the winter growth is to gain a generation or two each year in the various plant cross-breeding projects underway.

Dr Kaufman told The Globe during a recent tour of the greenhouses that, with cereal grains, "we run two complete crops each winter One crop is seeded in September and harvested in January The last winter crop is being planted at this time for harvest in April."

"Basic studies being carried out are related to the early maturity and yield of the various crosses under test," Dr Kaufman stated

Seeds harvested from the winter plots are used in field planting in the spring so that, in effect, three generations of seed under test are checked within the period of the calendar year

Greenhouse growth provides a similar speed-up in forage crop experimental work. Dr Hans Baenziger, in charge of forage crop plant breeding work, planted out a stand of timothy

"We are checking the results of certain cross-pollination experiments with this particular stand," Dr Baenziger informed The Globe "This timothy was harvested in the field last fall, and will be again field tested in outside plots this spring and summer."

Throughout the large greenhouses are cereal grain and forage crop plants in all stages of growth Dr Kaufman pointed to a group of flower plots in which oats were germinating and in early growth "This is just a further little test to check the rate of growth of plants grown from large-sized seed as compared with the growth rate from smaller-sized seed," he pointed out.

While, one crop of cereal grains is being harvested this week, other crops are being sown, with selected seed being carefully counted and planted by hand

Other tests for both crops check the relation of speed of germination of seed to the depth of seeding

Last Minute Advice Nets Author Fortune

Most of us will dispense a "bit of advice" at the drop of a non-a-dimmer, but few of us ever believe it so eagerly. Yet a few chance words one person very fortunate indeed.

Years ago, an unknown young author had his book accepted, and the publisher asked him how he preferred a hundred pounds for the copyright or a royalty arrangement.

The young man chose the hundred pounds, but while the publisher went out to prepare the contract, someone whispered, "I'd take the royalty if I were you."

Bringing around the author observed an elderly clerk, already back at his work. The author didn't take long to decide. He went back to the publisher's office and settled for the royalties.

The book, "King Solomon's Mines" by Henry Rider Haggard, became an all time best-seller, and what that advice used the company no one has dared to enquire.

Now here's a "bit of advice" you'll find well worth heeding. The earnest, sober and surest way to avoid financial stress and strain is to make regular deposits in a Bank of Montreal savings account. Then when unexpected need or opportunity arises, you have the ready cash waiting for you. You'll be amazed at how handy it can prove. To start your account visit the Lacombe branch of the B of M soon.

A Doff of The Hat

NEWS that January 1963 is the all - time weather records for snowfall and wind in this district will be of little value to farmers who have been roadplugged with snow, plowed out, filled in and pawed out again during the past two weeks

But it is a grim reminder to annual task farmers who have been surely tested during the past three weeks On at least four days buses were unable to run because of road conditions On other days the drivers bucked minor drifts, poor visibility and delayed schedules in their efforts to take the students to and from school

Note of the school bus drivers in the overall educational picture is too often minimized His responsibility is great, and in the county is continuous school program he is literally the king pin in the connection between home and school

A bus driver has to be a combination of many things, disciplinarian and compassion patient yet stern He has to have a high sense of responsibility, for the lives of many children depend on his judgment and ability

Spring and fall are taxing enough times to be driving a bus load of high spirited children A couple of weeks like the recent ones are even more stern tests of a person s mettle The Globe doffs its hat to those country bus drivers who have carried out their duties faithfully in the face of extraordinary conditions

Labor Independence

OF all the ties which subordinate Canada to the United States, the strongest and most grave receives the least amount of publicity Over 80% of Canadian Labor Congress members belong to international unions whose head offices are in the States The central U S. labor organization often assumes the right, invited or uninvited, to settle jurisdictional quarrels that arise in Canada. If ever there was complaint about America's interference in Canada s internal affairs, surely this is it.

Many labor unions of course, use the explanation of "bigness" as being the reason behind Canadian labor s subjugation to the American unions. They point out, with some justification, that American labor has learned that until Canadian labor has complete autonomy in its own field, it must always remain subject to the international labor ring, and as such not entitled to complete support from Canadians.

American laborer — not that of his Canadian counterpart. Admittedly there are many hundreds of Canadian Canadians who seek unselfishly to improve conditions for the Canadian labor force But with head offices in the states, and with American presidents in charge of high level policy, the Canadian wage-earner is too often used as a pawn in privileged-tests to assess how much privilege demands may fare in the United States

Talks have been held in Washington between Claude Jodoin, president of CLC, and George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, to discuss problems of complete control of their own affairs by Canadian members of the international unions So far no solution appears to have been reached But until Canadian labor has complete autonomy in its own field, it must always remain subject of being little more than a pawn in the international labor ring, and as such not entitled to complete support from Canadians.

Charles de Gaulle

PRESIDENT Charles de Gaulle is a man of singular strength of character His past actions leave little room to doubt that. He appears as a man of imperious ego, and in a day and age when nationalities are tending to coalesce and comprise to meet common goals, he remains an anachronism on the international scene If an action is good for France, then in his eyes it is automatically good for Europe, if it is bad for France, then it is equally bad for the other European nations

His brutal slaying of Britain's efforts to join the European Common Market is final evidence if any were needed, that France rules supreme in his mind. The fact that Britain took this unknown Colonel in 1941 and literally returned him safely to his subjugated country leaves him with no feeling of kinship or gratitude Rather, he apparently aims to humiliate and grovel Britain so that France s status, by comparison, may be enhanced

He further avows that he wants to return France to its glories of the past. It is well to remember that most of France's past "glories" were floated on a river of blood, launched by conquest of its neighboring nations. This president of France is a person to watch with suspicion His recent actions have found little favor with most western nations His future actions may find even less

An Election Is Needed

AS this is written, Canada's present parliament continues its precarious life amid growing signs that dissolution is all but imminent Since last June, the Diefenbaker government has clung to power by adroit maneuvering which has been designed more to stay in office than it has been to serve the country's problems

Indeed, this has been the apparent objective of all four parties since the parliament sittings started last fall. It has been a delicate task, this maintenance of a minority government in power, while each party has endeavored to enhance its public image with propaganda speeches pointed at the Canadian electorate

Parliament should be dissolved if it hasn t already been by the time this appears in print. Canada cannot stand the luxury of the present political in-fighting at Ottawa while matters of state and internal policies become secondary to straight political expediency Each day blames the other for the do-nothing session The only way to clear the air is to have another election, and hope that some party gets an overall majority to once again give this country the strong leadership it needs

Gull Lake Dying?

It Gull Lake is dying, it would not appear that the government is going to let it die just that

During the past year it has been advertised, the west of Gull Lake has dropped somewhere between 11 and 14 inches The water level has been creeping up for two years, to the point of submerging many cottages and docks

People in Central Alberta are most concerned about the loss of a lake that has always been a favorite resort area for Albertans from Calgary to Edmonton and further. Their anguish, over resulting from lack of action on the part of authorities, is understandable

There were three baby spoons presented to new members and a rose bowl to a member in the hospital. There were each donations made to the cancer fund, to five victims, retarded children, etc., and a huge food hamper for welfare distribution.

Some of the wells in the Blindman district, adjacent to Lacombe have a somewhat higher concentration and it is very interesting to practice here, where patients are from over the whole district, to compare those from the fluoride and non fluoride areas.

There is decay among the children of Lacombe, but it is certainly much less than what we see in children from the non-fluoride areas, and it is my belief that decay here is more slow-

ARENA PARKING
February 11 19[illegible]

The Editor
Lacombe Globe
Dear Sir

Where did the Arena Parking go?

I have been a booster for the past 20 years and during the past 10 I have enjoyed the brand of hockey offered, also the fine arena built by the town and county people. This year, to my views on many occasions, no [illegible] found no parking available within two or three blocks of the arena. Between 20 minutes to the building the old parking area is fenced off.

To the knowledge Ponoka Red Deer, Olds—all other small towns offer adequate parking space in the [illegible] the reason for the arena was moved from the central part of town to the outskirts?

What will happen when the playoff hockey starts?

NO PARKING NO CROWDS

A Former Hockey Fan

Dear Sir

May I through the columns of your newspaper call to public attention the deplorable conditions under which our juvenile hockey team has been forced to play home games this winter?

There has been no time clock available for the players during league games, and they have had to play straight time. There have been no stoppers at some games

The players have had to enter the dressing room by the door, because the front entrance is locked. There are no rules to take an injured player to the hospital as occurred in a recent game. A Bentley parent who was present had to take the boy to the hospital in his car

This is poor when ample ice facilities are at hand. The juvenile league is only a step down from intermediate, and should receive better treatment

I might add that a few more parents and adults would have been welcome to support the team

Yours truly Interested

Night Depository Is New Service at B of M

The installation of a door type "around-the-clock" depository for the local branch of the Bank of Montreal is complete and has gone into operations, it was announced this week by Fred Parmenter, B. of M. manager. It is the first unit of its kind in Lacombe.

Designed to provide an added convenience to customers who wish to make personal or business deposits at any time during the day or night, the depository is now being placed outside of the B. of M. front entrance, effective across the nation.

Operation of the depository is simple. Currency or savings accounts customers who desire the use of this service are supplied with special envelopes. The bank and posting the amount to be deposited in the envelope with the aid of the deposit slip. To insert the envelope into a slot-like opening in the face of the depository unit. The envelope falls down to a safekeeping unit inside the bank where it is picked up by officials the following day. They make the entry into the customer's account and mail the duplicate copy of the deposit slip to the customer as a receipt.

Merchants and other large business men using this service are supplied with a special locked canvas wallet equipped with lock and key which may be easily inserted in the upper side of the depository leading to the safekeeping unit inside the bank. When the bank is open to customers they may pick up the wallet and make the necessary deposit or, may request the officials of the branch to open the wallet and make the deposit for them.

The drop safety system has proven a boon to owners of retail establishments, many of whom, because the necessity of holding large amounts of cash overnight on hand overnights or over long week ends.

Lacombe Juveniles Defeated Twice in League Playdowns

At Council Meet Monday . . .

Town councillors discussion ranged far and wide Monday evening as they dealt with a large number of routine matters. Among those

● Leakage problem at the swimming pool was discussed with Ken Schuck. The pool will continue to be filled when required, and permanent repair of trouble will be made as soon as warmer weather can be counted on. The result expressed in concert; Mr. Webster his assurances.

● Applications for swimming pool positions — from Alan Gretsinger, McCoy and Barbara McKinley — were handed to committee for study.

Business Tax Study

● The new basis of business tax assessment — on a floor area basis rather than on building rental value — is causing numerous discrepancies councillor Hunt reported His committee met last week for almost five hours, and found wide variations between taxes under the new system compared with those of previous years.

He admitted that the new system forms a more equitable base for tax than the old, but was concerned somewhat about individual tax changes. He suggested that the new system be put into effect this year, but that his committee for that study the results The new business tax assessment will be finalized at next council meeting March 11

● Councillor Hunt displayed two pieces of mesh which had been served at the senior citizens lodge He said he had heard complaints recently about the mesh served at the lodge The complaint was passed on to Councillor Hunter who is the town's representative on the foundation management board He will investigate
